OUR DAIRYING INDUSTRY HAS WONDERFUL GROWTH

There are now about 1000 dairymen furnishing milk to the two Salem creameries— And Salem has about doubled as a dairy center in a year. Perhaps the number of dairymen marketing their milk and cream in Salem has not doubled in that time; more likely their better cows and better methods, better care of their cows, has helped in the doubling of the milk and cream supply.

Any way you take it, this is a splendid showing— And it promises great things for the future, for dairying in the Salem section may be said to be yet in its infancy. The milk and cream supplies should double again in another year, and keep on doubling almost indefinitely.

It is very easy to see that the supply might be doubled very soon again without a great increase in the number of cows—for the ordinary, common brindle cow produces perhaps 150 to 200 pounds of butterfat a year, on the average, while a pure bred cow of any one of the leading breeds ought to produce from 500 to 800 pounds, or even more.

The greatest Jersey cow in the world, at Marion, in Marion county, Oregon, Vive La France by name, has a record of over 1000 pounds of butterfat; and the 1100 and 1200 pound Jersey is a possibility of the near future—

In the Willamette valley— For here is where she will be produced. We have the best dairying country in the world.

In the matter of the cost of producing a pound of butterfat here as compared with the best dairying districts of the East, our dairymen have an advantage of at least 7 cents a pound; a fact attested by some of the leading agriculturists in the dairy world.

Oregon is now far and away the leading Jersey state of the Union, not only in having the largest percentage of pure bred Jerseys in proportion to population, and the largest number of record of merit and blue ribbon Jerseys in proportion to the whole number, but also in having the best Jersey cow in the world and five out of the eight world records—

And she is out after the other three. Oregon must lead and is bound to lead also in the Holsteins, the Guernseys, the Ayrshires and the other dairy breeds.

Nature has elected western Oregon the premier dairy section of all the earth, and only the painstaking and intelligent direction of men of vision in this field is required to bring our section into its own.

Salem does not by any means get all the milk and cream from Marion and Polk counties. There are numbers of local creameries, and a great deal gets away to Portland.

But what may be termed the strictly Salem district is surely making a fine showing in the industry.

And no other one thing promises greater benefits to the agricultural interests. Dairying helps maintain and build up the fertility of the soil. It pays more than double dividends, directly and indirectly.

The recent discoveries in dietary science, showing that a virile race that thinks high thoughts and achieves great things cannot be maintained without milk products; that children must have milk if they are to grow and develop normally; that there can be no long life without milk, make the dairying industry a sacred calling; a profession, if the reader will allow the term, that must be respected and aided and encouraged in every possible way.

And in this respect it is good to know that the Salem district is on the up grade, headed to the highest place in this field in the whole wide world.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Great is the cow— And in Oregon she is greatest. The milky way is the healthy way, the wealthy way, and the wise way. Our dairymen are doing wonders to keep Salem on the map of prosperity.

If the fact could be driven home to all the people of the world that butterfat can be produced at about 7 cents a pound cheaper in the Salem district than in the east or most anywhere else, this district would be very soon full of cows, to the limit. Tell it to the world.

A good dairyman is a good man. Kindness counts in that field. To deny milk to the children is a crime—a crime punishable by poor development of the future citizens. If there are any school children in Salem who do not get milk, the community ought to see to it that they get milk, even at the public expense. They do this in Pendleton, and in several other Oregon cities, and in several of the Portland schools—the latter under the direction and support of the Jewish women.

It takes milk to make bone brains, blood and brawn, and to give virility. Nature has provided no substitutes for milk.

IRISH RULE IS WORST IN HISTORY

(Continued from page 1) said he had received a telegram from the lord mayor's wife and sister saying the prison doctor had threatened the patient with forcible feeding with lime juice.

Edward Shortt, secretary for home affairs, replied that he had no information, but if the doctor thought lime juice would ease Mac Swiney and help him to live and regain his faculties, the doctor would be justified in trying to induce him to take it, and, indeed, in forcing it upon him. Mr. Shortt added that he was aware that the prisoner had taken light medicines from time to time, but that he did not know whether he had taken lime juice.

Talbot Funeral to be at First Methodist Church

The funeral services for the late Henry J. Talbot will be held in the First Methodist church instead of in the assembly hall at the Kimball college as previously announced. The hour is set for 2 p. m. today, and Rev. R. N. Avilon will preach the sermon. The interment will take place Friday at the River View cemetery, and a brief service will be held at Finley's undertaking parlors at Portland, Fifth and Montgomery streets, at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Petition From Gervais Denied by Commission

The public service commission has issued an order denying to the town of Gervais, Marion county, relief from the obligation of placing and maintaining warning signs at grade crossings in the town. The points affected are B. street and county road crossing the Southern Pacific railroad; G street and county road crossing the Southern Pacific railroad.
