

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Good Office Help—Is very scarce and the salaries are good. The most valuable office assistant is one who can do all-around work. Bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, etc. Many are handicapped by not being able to do all. Any such may remove the handicap by taking work at the Capital Business college night school. It begins next Monday.

Rigdon and Son—Reliable funeral directors.

False Alarm Turned In—An alarm was turned in to the fire department last night which was entirely unintentional on the part of the person responsible for the call. However, it is well to take a little time looking over the telephone directory, especially relating to such important calls as the fire department, in order that such mistake may not occur. The incident last night, in turning in a false alarm is but an example of the result of what might happen to anyone thoughtlessly calling up the fire department. In the place of calling for 149, which is the phone number of the fire department, the fire alarm call 27, given on the cover page of the directory was given, which is for fire alarms only.

Legal Blanks—Get them at The Statesman office. Catalog on application.

Auto Turns Over—While driving in the thick fog near Aumsville on the Turner road Monday night, two automobiles collided. One with C. S. Brown at the wheel, turned completely over. The occupants were considerably shaken up, but no one was seriously injured. The driver car, driven by B. J. Fisher, was not badly damaged.

Wanted—A school girl to assist with household for board and room. Mrs. Frank Meyers, 593 South Commercial.

Motorcycle Damaged—W. W. Ransom, while driving a truck at the intersection of Capitol street and Garden road, and in attempting to make a turn, failed to give the signal, according to a report last night, and as a result Rex Howard, in the employ of the Postal Telegraph company, riding a motorcycle, ran into the truck. His machine was badly damaged.

Season Lyceum Tickets—At Geo. C. Will's.

Republican Headquarters—Room 229 Oregon building. Buttons, campaign pictures and literature. Write or call.

Miller Is Fined—Alleged breaking the traffic regulations of the city by cutting corners at the intersection of State and Liberty streets Monday night, was the cause for the arrest of Harry Miller of Salem. A deposit of $25 was made to assure his appearance to answer to the charge yesterday before Judge Race, who imposed a fine of $10.

Fresh Salmon 7 Cents—Fitts Market, phone 211.

Case Under Adversement—The case of Arba Martin of Aumsville, arrested last week on a charge of wantonly killing a dog, occupied a greater part of the day in the justice court yesterday. The case had aroused considerable interest and a large number of the citizens of Aumsville were in attendance. Judge Unruh took the case under advisement until Friday morning.

Will You Be Here?—When? Watch for further announcements.

Will Meet Mothers—Dr. C. U. Moore, eminent child specialist of Portland, who is to be present at the October eugenic clinic of the Marion County Children's bureau Thursday afternoon has sent word that he desired especially to meet mothers with sickly or under-normal children. Complying with this request the secretary of the bureau will register only children of this description to fill the few remaining places in the registrations. A large clinic has already been registered, but any mother with children suffering from mal-nutrition, mal-assimilation or similar ailment may phone Mrs. Matthews at 1348-M.

Halloween Entertainment—Highland school, Oct. 29, 8 p. m.

Sermons Arouse Interest—The short sermons preparatory for the Forty Hours Adoration at the Catholic church are exciting considerable interest. The services consist of a hymn by the boy choir, prayers, a short sermon and benediction. The subject for Wednesday evening is "Sin and its Confession," and for Thursday evening, "Indulgences." Services commence promptly at 7:30 and everyone is cordially welcome.

PEACE ISSUE WILL BRING LANDSLIDE

Despite heavy rain beating down on their umbrellas while the governor spoke from the covered balcony of a billiard room, the outdoor crowd yelled "go on, go on."

A rear platform speech was made by the candidate at Batavia, Ohio, where a crowd with a band and red torchlights gathered.

LARGE HOUSE HEARS STORY
Miss Minna L. Harding Presents "House of Rimmon" at University

A capacity house heard Miss Minna L. Harding, head of the public speaking department of Willamette university, in a masterful dramatization of Henry Van Dyke's powerful story, "The House of Rimmon," in the university chapel last night.

Miss Harding, in the course of the play, portrayed so many different characters that the audience was held spellbound by her power of character delineation. Her voice is of exceedingly fine texture and she was able to make more than a score of varied characters stand out with a distinctness that made them appear as living characters to her audience. Her strength of character work was keenly felt in her impersonation of Naaman, captain of the armies of Damascus.

Miss Harding, in presenting "The House of Rimmon," has given to the people of Salem an interpretation of one of the greatest works of Henry Van Dyke and has presented in a most commendable manner one of the most difficult pieces of literature to interpret. In so doing Miss Harding has commended herself very highly to the people of Salem as an exceptional artist.

Throughout the entire recital the interest of the audience was held fast by the intensity of the story and the manner in which it was presented. Miss Harding was applauded many times by the largest crowd that has ever listened to an entertainment in the university chapel.

The scene of the story, which centers around Naaman, captain of the armies of Damascus, his adventures, as the result of being cursed with leprosy by the House sical course from that institution with a high class in 1870.

He commenced merchandising at Aumsville soon after graduation, and from there moved to Turner where he was a merchant and warehouse man. After that he was for a time engaged in merchandising in Sublimity, and was postmaster there. He always took a large interest in public affairs, was a well read man, and a leader among his neighbors.

In 1872 he was married to Mrs. Virginia Condit, who survives him. There were no children. He had been in failing health for about a year.

The mother of the deceased still survives, on the old farm, four miles southeast of Turner.

Two brothers, J. W. and Mayro, both of the Turner neighborhood, survive him, and there are six living sisters: Mrs. M. E. Adams of McMinnville; Ann E. McKinney, Turner; Mary E. Bower, Coconino, Idaho; Frances O. Ball, Turna; Alice N. Tracy, Turner, and Mrs. U. G. Longworth, Portland. The funeral will be held at Turner on Friday at 2 p. m., with interment in Twin Oaks cemetery. Turner and Stayton lodges of Odd Fellows will jointly have charge of the services. Mr. McKinney was a charter member of the Turner lodge.

It may be only a hunch, but all of the amateur cabinet makers are speculating exclusively on the make-up of Senator Harding's official household. It may be a straw showing how the wind blows.
