Dockey and Son Wanted. J. J. Dockey and son, Vance, said to be strangers in the city, are urgently requested by H. C. Corn, of the Good Eats restaurant, to make good their word that they would return and pay for the "good eats" which he had supplied for them this week. Dockey asked for credit, saying he was working with the city sewer gang and would get his pay Tuesday. He and his son ate their breakfast and took a lunch with them that day, and since then have not been seen. Upon inquiry it was learned that they had taken their baggage from the Washington hotel where they were rooming and had left a bill of $2.50. Corn is said to be out about $8.50.

Portland Man Enters Race for Supreme Court Political cards are being circulated here announcing the candidacy of William O. McCarthy of Portland for supreme judge in opposition to George K. Brown, who recently was appointed to that position by Governor Olcott. General opinion has been that Brown would not have opposition. McCarthy's political affiliation is not stated on his cards.

Deschutes County Clerk Adds to Slacker Roll J. H. Haner, county clerk of Deschutes county, in reporting to Adjutant General White, has added three names to the slacker list which was submitted to him recently by the state military head for checking with local records. When the official list of Oregon slackers was received by the adjutant general from Washington, Adjutant General White withheld it from publication until such time as it could be checked by the respective counties. Deschutes county is the first to report. One of the men whose name was added in that county claimed and obtained exemption on the ground that he was the sole support of a wife and child. Three days later he was arrested in Portland on a non-support charge. Another claimed exemption on grounds that he was engaged in farming, and immediately afterward left for parts unknown, deserting his family. U. G. Boyer, Marion county clerk, reports that one man on the local slacker list had previously been tried on the charge and found not guilty.

GROWERS DOING LARGE BUSINESS Over Six Hundred Cars of Fresh Fruit Already Shipped

Quietly and without much ostentation, an enormous business has been going on in the office of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association. Over 600 cars of fresh fruit has already been shipped this season and so well has the work of grading and inspection been done that not a single complaint on quality has been noted so far this season.

The association's and packing corporation's combined balance was $293,459.87 last night. This money has been coming in from fresh fruit sales, mostly pear money, and is being checked out at present to pear growers in a second advance, which makes the total payments to the pear growers to date of $70 a ton on No. 1s and $50 a ton on No. 2s. The remainder of the money on pear sales is coming in rapidly and within the next two or three weeks the final settlement on pears will be made to growers.

Through the successful sales arrangements made by the association, which has one of the best selling organizations in the northwest, the average eastern cost for selling pears has been lowered to between $25 and $30 a car, which is extremely low compared with costs in former years. Checks to growers are going out at the rate of about $25,000 to $30,000 a day from various banks. The association and its affiliated packing company is doing business with 19 banks.

Car Goes to Sweden. The first car of apples for Sweden left a few days ago. Export shipments of apples and late pears have also commenced to England, Scotland and Canada. A feature of this season's sales, which have been very pleasant, is the attitude of the buyers who have made purchases this year. A heavy repeat business is assured next season from a large list of satisfied customers, as the association's distribution this year was more extensive than Oregon pears have ever had.

One canner buyer who had never bought Oregon Bartlett's before was so well pleased that he has instructed the association to enter his order, subject to approval of price, for 1500 tons of pears for next year. Owing to a new arrangement made on export business, the association is saving the growers from 2 1/2 cents to 5 cents per box on sales cost, which has been customary in the past, which will result in a big saving to growers.

PERSONAL MENTION Mrs. A. N. Fulkerson, county superintendent of schools, was in Aurora yesterday visiting and inspecting schools in the vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wolford of Silverton were visitors in the city yesterday. Senator C. M. Thomas was here yesterday from Medford.

National Guard Popular With Dallas Veterans Any prejudice that ex-service men may have against serving in the national guard, particularly those who saw service in France, is not apparent at Dallas, for when a new guard company was organized there Tuesday night, E. B. Hamilton, commander of Carl Fenton post, American Legion, was elected captain, and a large number of ex-service men and members of the legion enlisted in the company. Captain Hamilton held the rank of captain also in France where he made a good military record. A total of 70 men signed up for the company, an unusually large number, and Dallas is going out for the strongest company in the state. The officers hope to enlist 100 men.

Trio Extradited for Theft of Automobile Governor Olcott yesterday honored requisition papers from Governor Hart of Washington by granting the extradition of C. H. Wood, Sam Fullwizer and C. V. Bell, who are charged with the theft of an automobile. The men were under arrest in Portland and William Worsham, Seattle city detective, to whom the papers were issued, expected to leave with them last night for Seattle.

WILSON IS HEARD FROM WHITE HOUSE (Continued from page 1) the present campaign I suggest that the candidacy of every candidate for whatever office be tested by this question: Shall we or shall we not redeem the great moral obligations of the United States. MISSION OF NATION IS OUTLINED (Continued from Page 1) America a new conscience and a stalwart doctrine that all rights must be founded upon obligations and the realization of man's duty to man, and a solicitude for the weak which never forget justice to the strong, a fundamental sense of fair play, and appreciation of mercy and tenderness, and an enduring faith in the righteousness of men and women. "Men and women love him and men and women will forever love him, not merely because he had loved them and had eternal faith in their capacity to reach new heights of spiritual achievement, but because he awoke in them his own faith—because he taught
