Germany Must Keep Pledge Laid Down by Treaty of Versailles

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Speaking in the reichstag today on the recent announcement by Great Britain of her determination to renounce the right of confiscation of German property in the United Kingdom, Dr. Simons, the foreign minister, declared the value of this action must not be exaggerated...

Dr. Simons also touched on what he called the serious situation in Eastern Europe, fearing Germany might be drawn into the conflict, since matters there, he said, were in nowise ended by the Riga peace treaty.

Dr. Simons declared that very large formations of Polish troops were concentrated on the south Lithuanian front and that a state of war could be looked for at any moment. Responsibility for this, he added, could not be placed upon Germany, whose only possible attitude was strict neutrality.

Grandfather, Grandson File Discharge Papers

A unique incident at the court house yesterday was the filing of the discharge paper of Irvin M. Adair and of his grandson, Chauncey Adair Lockwood, in the county clerk's office.

The discharge papers of the grandfather reveal the fact that he had served during the civil war as a sergeant major in the Indiana infantry and had enrolled August 14, 1862. He was discharged on June 6, 1863.

Lockwood was first class radio electrician in the navy during the late war, and it was through his efforts a record of the veteran's activities was made.

Club Defends Location of Richmond Building

At a business session of the Richmond Improvement club last night a resolution was passed in which exception was taken to an article which appeared in the Sunday Statesman. The article was a communication addressed to the editor in which disapproval was expressed regarding the location of some of the city schools. The club especially directed its objection to that part of the article referring to the location of the Richmond school. A full copy of the resolution will be published tomorrow.

Harry Hutton, chief of the fire department, appeared before the club and explained the two-platoon system which will be voted on at the election Tuesday. He made a favorable impression on his hearers and, it is said, won many votes for the measure.

Other measures pertaining to the election were generally discussed by the club, and the usual social session was dispensed in order that the full time might be devoted to the measures. The next meeting will be held in three weeks.

Negro Boys Find Mail Pouch in Cemetery

OKMULGEE, Okla., Oct. 29.—Two negro boys playing in an Indian cemetery just north of Okmulgee today found a mail pouch containing scores of letters in some of which were checks aggregating $200,000. The pouch had been ripped open and the letters were strewn about an Indian grave.

The police learned that nearly every bank in Okmulgee had received telegrams from their correspondents in Kansas City today advising them that their Monday remittances had not been received.

W. T. P. Johnston, an Oklahoma City postoffice inspector learned that the pouch had been taken from a truck just before it was due to be placed on a Frisco train for Kansas City Monday night. The missing checks were found.

Another mail pouch was taken tonight from a truck at the Frisco depot where it was awaiting the arrival of a northbound train to Kansas City.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF OREGON

The Port of Portland Dock Commission Consolidation bill on the state ballot should be defeated. While it no doubt affects the whole state in some degree, the enormous expense which it will create must be borne by the taxpayers of the Port of Portland, which contains 209 square miles, or less than one quarter of one per cent of the area of the state. The Chamber of Commerce, the Taxpayers' League and other Portland organizations and many representative business men have joined hands to acquaint the voters of Oregon with the facts and to enlist their opposition to the measure.

The scheme of improvement proposed by the bill will cost $40,000,000. As a starter, $16,500,000 of bonds are authorized. In violation of the home rule provision of the Constitution of Oregon, the voters of the Port of Portland are denied the right to say how large a debt they are willing to assume. Nor are they given a voice in the selection of the commissioners who are to vote bonded debt upon them, levy taxes for them to pay and manage their business.

The electors of the territory within the Port of Portland are better qualified than any one else to judge of the amount of bonded debt they should authorize or the taxes they should pay. Their liberality in assuming burdens of public improvement, not only for themselves, but for the state at large will not be questioned by any one who will scan the record of the huge total of bonds they are now carrying, amounting, in round figures to $34,000,000. It cannot be thought that the state will be the gainer by imposing upon its chief city the insupportable load of additional debt contemplated by the pending bill.

The sponsors of the Port of Portland bill have openly appealed to the electors of the state at large to vote for it on the ground that it will cost them nothing. This is log rolling of the most dangerous type. If such methods are to prevail in behalf of direct legislation, no county, city, port or other municipal corporation in the state will be safe from having intolerable debts and taxes foisted upon it by indifferent voters from other parts of the state. Bills like this must be rejected by the voters if home rule is to retain its vital force. Home rule and such bills cannot survive together. One or the other must fall.

The voters of the Port of Portland are not asking to be relieved of their responsibility to create and maintain the necessary facilities for ocean commerce. They desire only that they be given a voice in the management of their affairs, and that, through the established processes of law, they be permitted to adopt a plan of port development which will not load millions of dollars of debt upon them.

Voters are requested to vote 211 No.

HART'S FATHER ARRIVES HERE

Denver Man to Make Final Effort to Save Life of Condemned Son

We want to impress on the governor that if the death sentence is carried out, a man who is mentally defective will be hung, said W. Z. Bancroft, father of Emmett Bancroft, alias Neil Hart, who arrived here yesterday from Pendleton to intercede with the governor to spare the life of the man who slew Sheriff Til Taylor of Pendleton.

Mr. Bancroft has a petition signed by 678 of Pendleton's approximately 3000 voters, which will be presented to the governor upon his return from the coast Monday. Mr. Bancroft's home is in Denver where he is a well-to-do contractor. Preceding him to Salem was E. L. Mitchell, stepbrother of the condemned man. Mitchell is a railroad man of Denver and he is joining his efforts with those of Mr. Bancroft.

Bancroft, a man of 64 years, iterated here his story of the life of the prisoner. He told of the attack of measles suffered by the son when he was 3 years old, causing him to be thrown into convulsions because the rash did not break out. To save the boy's life he said it was necessary to subject him to the influence of chloroform for many hours, and when the disease finally left him his mind failed to grow with his body. Mr. Bancroft said he had trouble in controlling his son's actions ever since his illness. He believes the prisoner knows the difference between right and wrong, because throughout his life it has been constantly pointed out to him. But he seems to have no conception of moral obligations, added Bancroft.

Asked if they believed a chance remains that their efforts may save Bancroft's life, both Denver men said they did not know.

If I had a little more time, said Mr. Bancroft, I think I could save the boy's life. As it is I don't know. I am afraid that over-zealous friends who already have interceded in behalf of my son have done more harm than good.
