Mr. and Mrs. Glen Russell and two children, Elizabeth and Bonnie Jean of Portland, arrived yesterday from Portland, and will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore.

An informal welcome to Superintendent and Mrs. George W. Hug and the newly-appointed instructors in all the city schools, was extended Friday night by the instructors who have served more than one year in Salem schools.

The affair was held in the domestic science house of the high school, the rooms being attractively decorated for the occasion with Halloween novelties, and decorative material.

The standing entertainment committee of the Salem Teachers' club, directed the details of the reception. Miss Margaret Power is chairman of this committee, the other members being: Miss Gertrude Furrinton, Mrs. Eula Greech, Miss Alfa Rosenquest, Miss Mabel Davenport, Miss Ola Kingsbury and Miss Irene Ringheim.

Aside from the incoming instructors, their wives and husbands as well as all members of the school board and their wives were informally invited. A pleasing program was presented, including vocal numbers by Miss Marie Churchill, piano numbers by Miss Esther Wheeler, readings by Miss Lulu Rosmonde Walton, and violin selections by Leonard Chadwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weller were hosts at a dinner Wednesday night in honor of their nephew, Weller Chamberlain and his bride, who have been visiting Mr. Chamberlain's mother, Mrs. Rose Chamberlain.

Besides the honor guests, covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weller, Mrs. Sarah Rogers, Mrs. Rose Chamberlain, Miss Elma Weller, Mrs. S. E. Huelat, Miss Mary Frazier, and the hosts. The table decorations effectively combined pink roses and maiden-hair fern.

The bride was before her marriage Miss Dorothy Canfield, the wedding taking place Tuesday, October the nineteenth, at the home of Judge and Mrs. George Belt, in Spokane, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

The young folks will make their home in Portland.

One of the largest and most delightful attentions that have complimented Mrs. J. J. Murphy of Portland, house guest of Mrs. William Lord, was the tea, Wednesday afternoon, given by Mrs. Ida Babcock and Mrs. Abbie Farrar, at the home of the former, and which called together a large number of former neighbors and old-time friends of the honoree.

A profusion of dahlia in varied tones formed a graceful and beautiful setting for the event, which was marked by a pleasant informality. Tea was served to the guests who were seated around several small tables, the hostesses being assisted by Mrs. John Farrar, Miss Grace Babcock and Miss Oda Chapman.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" as the guests were making their departure.

Guests bidden were: Mrs. Murpuz, Mrs. Anna Parkhurst, Mrs. D. F. Wagner, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Miss Elizabeth Farrar, Mrs. W. H. Byars, Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mrs. William P. Lord, Mrs. Emma Baker, Mrs. Fred Steusloff, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. Lott Pearce, Mrs. John Farrar, Mrs. E. J. Burchill, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. E. C. Small, Mrs. W. C. Kantner, Mrs. George J. Pearce, Mrs. Gideon Stolz, Mrs. Mary Haas, Miss Margaret Cooper, Mrs. Lenita Westcott, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. M. M. Chapman, Miss Oda Chapman, Mrs. P. H. Raymond, Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mrs. William Steiger, Mrs. A. N. Gilbert, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. R. B. Duncan, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. William P. Babcock.

Candles twinkled in wierd jack o' lanterns, frightful old witches and ghosts appeared in the most unexpected places and a general atmosphere of unbusiness surrounded the members of the Salem O. A. C. club when Miss Ruth Rullison, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Weeks and Mrs. Dora Cummings entertained with a wonderfully planned and executed Halloween party at the country home of the former Thursday night.

A silent figure in white met the guests at the door; another equally silent, ushered them in while still another directed them to the cloak rooms at the head of the stairway.

An abundance of Halloween novelties and foliage in autumn coloring made an appropriate and clever setting for the evening's festivities, which revived all the old-time superstitions associated with the last date on the October calendar. There was a witch, followed everywhere with the proverbial black cat, fortune telling, and further in keeping with the time, a supper of ginger bread and elder.

Several readings appropriate to Halloween were contributed by Mrs. Cummings; there were songs by Miss Lena Belle Tartar, and other songs of College days in which all joined.

The affair, which was one of the outstanding parties of the past six days, marked the first winter gathering of the club members, one to be held each month throughout the winter. A big football rally will be held on the twentieth of November, as a pre-celebration of the Thanksgiving game.

Those who enjoyed the joint hosts' hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Luper, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pierce of Aumsville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hathaway, Mr. and Mrs. David Wright, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walters, Miss Charlotte Davey, Miss Dorothy Steusloff, Miss Jessie Harriett, Miss Nell Sikes, Miss Agnes Bayne, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, Miss Alice Forbes, Miss Ola Clarke, Miss Mildred Weeks, Miss Lucille Cummings and Messrs. Lester Lester Pearline, Arthur Cummings, Joseph Steusloff, Truman Cummings and Wayne Weeks.
