

REPUBLICAN VICTORY IS PREDICTION

Senator Harding and Governor

Coolidge, Mr. Hays laid claim to the following states: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

"In addition," he said, "the Republicans have very much better than an even chance to carry Arizona, Kentucky, Maryland and New Mexico, with 27 additional electoral votes. His makes 359 Republican electoral votes almost certain out of the total of 531.

"The Republican victory in Kentucky is certain, provided the weather is such that it is physically possible for the great Republican majority in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky to get to the polls. The same element enters into the result in Tennessee, where there is a splendid chance for the Republicans. We also have a splendid opportunity to carry North Carolina and Oklahoma. This makes the probability of an additional 34 votes.

Democrats Sure of Nine. "The only states Democratic candidates are certain of:

"Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Georgia, Texas and Virginia.

"The electorate of America, who is for 'America first' is simply waiting for the opportunity to voice a protest against the inefficiency, extravagance and autocracy in government and to express its complete confidence in the constructive ability of the Republican party, in a manner that will be heard around the world.

Mr. White, who declared tonight he had spent the last three days checking up detailed reports from all state chairmen, asserted he saw 'no reason to alter my forecast in which I predicted certain victory for the Democratic ticket."

A Victory for America.

Mr. White referred to a prediction he made yesterday.

"But, in perfect fairness, I want to say that this will not alone be a Democratic victory. It will be the victory of America, a victory over disloyalty and partisanship, a victory over disunion and dishonor, a victory over the counsels of selfishness.

"This nation wants to establish and maintain world peace in concert with those nations which were our allies in the struggle against imperialism and militarism. It wants to extend the Monroe doctrine to the world. It wants to secure peace in the eastern hemisphere as in the western and to spare future generations of Americans from the necessity of laying down lives abroad to save mankind from military domination.

"We have won the argument for peace. We have won, despite the fact that a clean and fair campaign on our part has been conducted in the face of a campaign that bore every semblance but fairness and cleanliness."

what I need and want. And I can find prosperity only in a Republican form of government. As a good citizen of this great U. S. A. I assure hope that you will do your part in electing a Republican government, which spells prosperity for us all.

ROLAND C. GLOVER, for many years secretary to Representative W. C. Hawley and now engaged in the practice of law in Salem.—It is my judgment that Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge will be elected by a veritable avalanche, and I attribute the decided preponderance of sentiment in favor of them to the fact that the better thinking people of the United States see in them presidential timber of the first class, and that their election with a Republican house and senate to support them, will mean a return to constitutional government, a firm and dignified foreign policy in keeping with that of Washington, Jefferson and Monroe, a restoration of stable industrial foundations, and a reconstruction policy which will cast off the "wobble" of the past eight years, sever the accumulations of burdens that have attached themselves to the body politic during the war, establish a just protective tariff for the benefit of American labor and business, and that Americans can again look to Harding as their president with the same confidence and assurance that they at one time turned to McKinley and Roosevelt and were proud to claim the United States as the land of their nativity or of their adoption. The people are tired of subterfuge and deception, of Wilsonism, and desire to get back to Americanism and for that reason the great mass of voters is rushing to the Republican nominees for national officers.

LOT L. PEARCE.—My reasons for believing that the Republican party should be placed in charge of the machinery of the government can be briefly stated as follows: This country needs a protective tariff to prevent the unloading of cheap foreign materials produced by workers receiving low wages in competition with our well paid workers, and in addition we need a return to business methods which have always

RICHMOND CLUB IS RESENTFUL

Resolutions Are Directed at Writer of Recently Published Articles

At a meeting of the Richmond Improvement club Friday night resolutions were adopted expressing resentment against the writer of a communication which was published a week ago criticizing the location of the Richmond and the Englewood schools.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, there appeared in the issue of the Oregon Statesman, published Sunday morning, October 24, an anonymous communication signed 'Only a Taxpayer,' wherein some individual made a miserable attempt to enlighten the public on the various troublesome matters pertaining to our public schools, the communication having apparently been prompted by the noble fight made by the school patrons of South Salem for their just rights, and

"Whereas, the author of said communication after criticizing the location of the McKinley school building, stated that in a lesser sense this is also true of Richmond and Englewood, both of which should have been located more central and thereby available to release the more congested districts, and

"Whereas, the anonymous writer by the foregoing statement displayed his total ignorance of the conditions in the sections of the city where the several school buildings are located, evidently being numbered among that class of near-sighted citizens who can see no more than four blocks of the business district of the city and who are perfectly willing to benefit by the taxes paid by the people of the outlying districts, but ready at all times to deny these same people the privileges prevailed during Republican control, as against the extravagant waste which has prevailed during the past few years of control by the opposition party. It goes without saying that in order to have a harmonious administration, the two branches of congress should be of the same political faith as the executive, and it is therefore very necessary that our state should elect a Republican senator and congressman in order that the hands of the executive may not be tied. Vote right.

DR. H. O. HICKMAN, mayor of Gervais.—The American people will elect Harding and Coolidge because they want progress, construction and strong Americanism.

L. S. ROWLAND, secretary of the Marion county Republican central committee.—The election of Harding, Coolidge and Stanfield will insure to our people and our country a return to a sane and sane administration and will also insure a long-delayed fair treatment of our ex-service men.

G. E. HALVORSEN, mayor-elect of Salem.—The American people will elect Harding and Coolidge because they believe in the principles of the Republican party, and because progress, construction and true Americanism have always been practiced by this party. Stanfield should be elected so that there will be unity in the party and so that our great state of Oregon will be represented properly.

and comforts to which they are justly entitled, and "Whereas, the Richmond school building is centrally located in a section of the city thickly populated with children of school age and provided with beautiful sanitary and spacious play grounds conducive to the good health of the children, therefore be it criticism and misstatements made by the anonymous writer, and be it further: "Resolved, That we stand ready to co-operate with the people of South Salem in their fight for a square deal and heartily endorse the stand taken in their behalf by George E. Halvorsen, member of the board of directors of school district No. 24, and be it further "Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the press of the city."

With considerably more than a million ballots recorded in the Rexall Stores nation wide straw vote on the Presidential election, the closing week of the Poll sees but little change in the relative positions of the rival candidates. Governor Cox has made slight gains in some localities where overwhelming majorities were predicted by the Harding supporters; but these, apparently, were offset in some Democratic strongholds where the Ohio senator showed unexpected strength. The success of the Rexall straw vote, of course, is due to the one hundred per cent co-operation of the 8000 Rexall druggists throughout the country, but the heaviest burdens fell upon the 48 state captains, or one captain to each state.

The captain for this state is J. C. Perry of Perry's Drug Store, and has been indefatigable in his efforts to spur up his fellow Rexallites throughout the state to "get out the vote," count its ballots, and get off the returns each night so that he could compile them for the state, wire the state returns to the Boston Headquarters of the United Drug Company and also flash back to each druggist in his state the total state vote for that day.

His burden has been a heavy one but, to date, he has handled 12,451 ballots, and these have appeared each day on the National Bulletin issued at Boston Headquarters and mailed each evening to all points where there is a Rexall Druggist.

The interest manifested in this straw vote by the big metropolitan newspapers, all of which carry the nation wide results in their news columns, and many of them commenting editorially upon the vote, has been universal.

Every effort has been made to safeguard the vote in order to see that it is honestly cast, honestly counted and correctly and impartially presented to the public. The Rexall straw vote of four years ago forecasted the election of President Wilson, even showing that he would carry the States of New Hampshire and California. The vote of this year is even more comprehensively taken and no doubt will prove equally correct.
