SEVERAL changes were made in the plans for the Americanization program scheduled on the calendar for Saturday afternoon by the Salem Woman's club, on their November meeting date. R. P. Boaz of Reed college, the speaker scheduled on the calendar being in the east, and Prof. Parson of the University of Oregon extension department, being unable to make the address of the afternoon Rev. W. G. Elliot of Portland, formerly pastor of the Unitarian church here, graciously consented to fill the place.

Much interest was manifested in his treatment of the subject, inasmuch as it was undoubtedly different and considered from a different point of view. In his open remarks he alluded to the landing of the Pilgrims, emphasized their ideals, and laying stress on their religious faith — their seriousness. In sharp comparison he spoke of the extravagance of the present day of the twenty-billion dollars spent annually for extravaganzas—jewelry, cigars, candy, and the relative amount expended on education.

He related experiences in connection with his work among the immigrants of the big cities. He asserted that it did not make an American of a man to force him to become naturalized and to salute the flag. We must, instead, show him our best characteristics. Treat him kindly, fraternally, not patronize him. Every foreigner coming to our shores has something to give, often extremely worth-while. If one lived next door to a foreign-born family, Mr. Eliot said, one should not entertain the idea that one had nothing in common with them. "Let them think that they have something to give," he asserted, "and they will respond to your overtures of friendliness more readily than with the giving entirely on your side."

"And teach your children proper respect for these people," said he, "not through command, but by example."

Mr. Eliot's views on the subject were liberal, high-minded, and withal kindly.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Deckbach, Miss Helen Deakach and Donald Deckbach returned Saturday night from their month's pleasure trip through the north and middle west. Relatives and friends were visited in Cincinnati and Kentucky, Chicago, Michigan City and various other places. Different routes were taken in going and returning, the family stopping off in Spokane on the way home.

Mrs. Henry C. Shultz leaves this morning for New York City, where she will spend the winter with her daughters, Miss Elizabeth Rhultz and Miss Mary Shultz, who have apartments at 558 West 18th street. Mrs. Shultz will stop off in one place on her trip, Chicago, where she will visit her cousins Mrs. Frank Jerome and Mrs. Herman Hegman, both sisters of Colonel E. Hofer. Mrs. Shultz will also be entertained by Mrs. Laura P. Snyder, a former Salem resident.

Miss Lillian Boot, who has been officially identified with the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland since last June, writes to friends here of her work. It is her duty to admit and assign the various cases, and to give to each her personal attention. She is much interested in the different phases of hospital activities.

Miss Boot plans a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Boot.

A most interesting cut of Miss Helen West, daughter of ex-Gov. O. J. West, appeared in the society columns of the Oregonian Sunday, shown on her mount "Duchess." Miss West, who is a clever young equestrian, will ride in the Night Horse Show in Portland this week. She was an entrant at the State Fair Horse show this year.

A picture in the same column of Miss Doria Oxley McCleave, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCleave, of Vancouver, B. C., who also was a participant in the Salem horse show. She is shown with "Indian Maid," which was entered here.

Miss Marion Gould and her brother Ronald Gould of Portland, drove up to be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Byson. The visitors formerly made their home here during the time that their father, O. J. Gould, was manager of the local Wells Fargo office. Miss Gould was very popular among the young folk and mother, Mrs. S. E. Oliver.

Mrs. C. M. Lockwood entertained as her week-end guests, Miss Gladys Kies, and her sister, Miss Helen Kies of Vancouver, Wash., who are Chi Omega girls of Oregon Agricultural college. The former came over Thursday to attend the American legion's Armistice day dance at the armory. Miss Helen Kies arriving Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Prunk and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brunk motored to Portland Sunday to see Kitty Gordon at the Heilig.

A wedding of more than passing interest here was that of Miss Beula Summerlin of Portland and Paul Larson of Pratum, which took place in Portland Sunday morning at the United Brethren church, East Morrison and Fifteenth streets, the resident pastor reading the service. Miss Glenda Summerlin sang previous to the ceremony, another sister, Mrs. Clark Emblem of Tillamook, playing the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vallen stood with the couple.

The wedding which was a large affair was followed by a wedding breakfast of 50 covers. Attending from Salem were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh, Mrs. J. F. Mollenlop, Miss Grace Mollenlop and Otto N. Hoppes.

The Summerlin's formerly made their home here, the bride being a former Salem high school student. After a wedding trip the young folk will make their home upon the Larson ranch east of Salem, near Pratum, stopping off on their way to be entertained by Mrs. Mollenlop.

With the end of the campaign the gas shortage has been in a measure relieved.

Curling Hair This Way Preserves Its Beauty

That fall, dead appearance of the hair no longer troubles the woman who has adopted the silmerine method of keeping her tresses in curl. The result is very different from that produced by the drying, devitalizing waving iron. The hair appears more naturally wavy and curly, and the application is really beneficial to the life and growth of the hair. Any drag, of course, can supply the liquid silmerine. A small quantity should be put on just before doing up the hair, using for the purpose a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair from root to tip. The effect is delightfully surprising, and there is no discoloration, no stickiness, greasiness, nor any other unpleasant accompaniment. The hair is quite manageable no matter how it is fashioned.

The public rather than the theater management is condemned by 38 members of the Intermediate Epworth league of the First Methodist church in a protest adopted Sunday against "The Scandals of 1919" which is to be presented at the Grand theater. The show is also decried by the Mothers' class of the Sunday school at that church, composed of about 50 members in protest signed by Mrs. P. F. Stolabaker, Mrs. E. A. Hale and Mrs. E. S. Hammond as the official committee.

The protest of the Intermediate Epworth league reads as follows: "We, the Intermediate Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Salem, wishing to maintain a high moral standard, do hereby sincerely protest and heartily condemn such shows as 'The Scandals of 1919,' as portrayed by the advertising circulated over town and brought here by the management of the Grand theater under stress of public demand."

"In the name of the Mothers' class, a division of the Sunday school of the First Methodist church, consisting of about 50 mothers most vitally interested in the welfare of our boys and girls, and in the name of common decency and to uphold the high moral standard of our fair city, and from a Christian point of view, we do most vigorously protest against such features as the

the personnel of the bureau," it was alleged, "have increased the delay and uncertainty in the settlement of back taxes and there is now no prospect of the excess profits taxes being finally settled within any reasonable period, unless new and radical steps are taken."

After pointing out the alleged injustice to the tax payer of the uncertainty and delay in fixing the amount he must pay, the committee recommended the appointment of a board of special commissioners of income tax, to consist of lawyers, accountants, engineers and businessmen, who will sit for one year to pass upon and settle cases of taxation arising during 1917 to 1920.

The committee recommended that the compensation of each member of the board be fixed at a sum not less than $25,000 per year.

It also recommended that the board be an independent body separate from the bureau of internal revenue and the treasury department, responsible only to congress. The procedure under which it should operate would be analogous to that of an appellate body to which the tax payer could appeal from decisions of the bureau of internal revenue, or to which he could refer his case in the first instance if the bureau failed within a reasonable time to make an assessment or finally approve of his reports for the years in question," the report said.

Prune Situation is Summarized by Paulus

The prune market is sized up by R. C. Paulus, sales manager of the Oregon Growers Co-operative association as follows: "In view of the downward revision of all commodities, the Oregon Growers had named a price on prunes at which it was thought the crop would move, and on a basis where it was probable there would be a slight advance."

"The association's price was named with the knowledge that it is always better to sell on a rising market, as this insures acceptance of contracts, rather than on a falling market which often brings rejections and cancellations. The two declines in prune prices early in the season of half a cent each alarmed buyers. Then another decline of from 1 to 2 cents rather confirmed foreign and eastern buyers in their opinion that the bottom had not been reached.

"At present, buying interest is very low, although sales representatives of the Oregon Growers report increasing scarcity of stock in the market and predict better conditions."

A Six Cylinder Parable

By the BUSINESS MANAGER
New York Evening Post.

HERE once was an Automobile Driver who used all Six Cylinders going Down Grade, but when he came to a Hill he took the wires off two Spark Plugs and tried to negotiate the hill on Four Cylinders. You will agree that he was a Pretty Foolish Driver.

an Opposite View. They ran on Six Cylinders in good times; now they are running on Six and Giving her a lot of Extra Gas. When others are Dropping Out they are going Strong. Here's what they say:

"With summer coming on and the market slowing up we've started advertising big. We are running more and larger copy than we used last winter. Our business is brisk. We sold more cars in August than in June."

A lot of Pessimists say we are in for a business depression this Winter. Those who Discharge their Best Salesmen—doubtless will find business slow. But think—how much Better it would be for Everyone to keep On His Toes and when business shows Signs of Slowing Down, step on the Gas, keep Hitting Out All Six—and take the Hill on High!
