

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

COMING as a distinct surprise is the announcement from Southern California of the engagement of Ivan G. McDaniel, son of Mrs. Ida McDaniel, 666 North Winter Street, to Miss Dorothy K. Belcher, of California. Mr. McDaniel was formerly manager of the Salem Commercial club and associated with local business organizations. During the war he was especially prominent in managing and conducting various drives and campaigns and later served in the intelligence section of the army.

Mrs. Fred A. Wiggins of Toppenish, Wash., and Mrs. George F. Rodgers, Mrs. Wiggins who is a former Salem resident, and a long-time friend of most of the club members, delighted with several songs during the afternoon.

Mrs. T. G. Hopkins arrived this week from California, where she has been passing six months, and is being entertained as the house guest of her sister, Mrs. George J. Pearce, expecting to be here for several weeks.

Miss Ava Miller and Miss Francelle Hawley went over to Corvallis to participate in the week-end festivities, the former to be entertained at the Gamma Phi Beta house, and the latter to be a guest of her sorority sisters the Pi Beta Phi's.

Mrs. Charles Fisher a charming new resident of Salem, was complimented with an informal afternoon Friday, over which Mrs. William Thielens presided as hostess at the beautiful Thielens suburban place south of town. About 20 Salem women motored out to be guests for the afternoon. They were entertained in rooms brightened with autumn foliage and pink and rose chrysanthemums. The tea table was especially attractive with its floral centerpiece and baskets of blue, pink and white grapes. Miss Nell Thielens assisted at the serving hour.

Future belles, displaying their prettiest frocks and manners participated in a delightful little party which Mrs. F. G. Dolano gave Tuesday night in celebration of the birthday of her daughter Cynthia's tenth birthday. Assisting throughout the evening were Mrs. R. L. White and Miss Margaret White.

A background of flowers and decorative novelties made a most attractive setting for the affair. Pink and white forming a color motif. Chrysanthemums were the flowers used, and there were garlands extending from the chandelier to the corners of the room that added to the air of festivity. The small maids found their places by cards attached to pink ribbons which led into a pink and white art baskets in the center of each table on the end of which were novelty favors. The guest list included: Maxine Meyers, Marjorie Webb, Dorothy Moore, Jeannette Sykes, Mary Kafoury, Julia Creech, Maxine Glover, Bonita Edwards, Catherine Mulvey, Mildred Roberts, Elizabeth Waters, Mabel Cupper, Frances Martin, Hazel Martin and Florence Power.

The reception in the Leslie Methodist church Friday evening in honor of District Superintendent and Mrs. E. E. Gilbert was a delightful event, largely attended by members of the congregation and friends of the honor guests. Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert were Rev and Mrs. H. N. Aldrich.

For the occasion the auditorium of the church had been attractively decorated with ferns and late roses.

During the hours a program was given including the following numbers: Readings, by Mrs. Julia Siget; vocal duet, Miss Sadie Pratt and Floyd McIntyre; piano solos, by Miss Lois Nye and Frank Saunders; vocal solo by Miss Gertrude Aldrich; xylophone solo by Miss Springler. Later refreshments were served in the church basement by a committee composed of women of the church.

Mrs. Walter Buckner was hostess Thursday afternoon at a card club, arranging three tables. Card favors went to Mrs. Frank E. Shafer and Mrs. Elizabeth Lamb. Mrs. E. T. Busselle will entertain the club at its next meeting.

A group of girls went over to Corvallis Friday night to be entertained for the week-end at the Delta Delta Delta house. They were: Miss Helen King, Tora Mortensen, Miss Marie Churchhill, Miss Alice McClellan, Miss Margaret Pearce, Miss Dorothy Patterson, Miss Letha Wilson, Miss Esther Busch and Miss Ina Proctor.

The big informal home-coming dance at the college last night was an important detail on the programme of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Webb returned Friday night from a two-day stay in Portland, motoring down.

Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. Frederick S. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John Hargreaves Carson and Carl Becke formed a motor party driving to Corvallis, for the week-end football game, where they were joined by Mr. Hendricks, who came up from the high school game in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig drove over for the Oregon-O. A. C. game yesterday, their daughter Miss Bernice Craig, preceding them Friday, to be entertained by college friends.

Still another big affair centering around the young folk during the coming week will be the sixth annual dancing party of the Julius Caesar club, which was organized by a group of high school boys several years ago, the members since that time having been graduated, and for the most part attending out-of-town colleges and universities, but who will come home for Thanksgiving week.

The affair which will be informal, will be held in the Moose hall Friday night. One hundred and fifty or more invitations will be extended to members of the very younger set.

The Priscilla club met at the home of Mrs. Carl B. Webb Thursday afternoon, several additional guests being asked in. At the serving hour Mrs. Webb was assisted by Mrs. Frank G. Meyers.

Mrs. C. Pogue has returned to her home in Portland after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. T. B. Jackson.

Mrs. Edward S. Lampert has returned home from Portland, where she spent a week as the guest of friends.

Mrs. George F. Holt arrived Friday night from Seattle, and is being entertained as the guest of Mrs. W. W. Fawk, until the first of the week, when, with her daughter, Miss Lucy Holt, she will leave for Los Angeles, and Southern California points, where they will spend part of the winter. In Oakland they will be the guests of Mrs. Percy Ried (Miss Gertrude Fawk).

Miss Gertrude Hartman and her brothers Otto and R. W. Hartman, will attend the Thanksgiving day football game in Portland and also the performance of "Chu Chin Chow," at the Heilig.

Mrs. E. Cooke Paton has been entertaining as her house guest this week her sister, Mrs. A. W. Regner of Portland, who will remain a week longer before leaving for Cleveland, Ohio, where she will join her husband for the winter.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Patton accompanied by Mrs. Regner and their daughter Miss Louella Patton will motor down to Portland for the day.

Miss Bertha Clark plans to leave Thursday night for Pasadena, Calif., where she will receive the first of the month the Pasadena hospital to finish the nursing course which she began two years ago, but was forced to discontinue owing to illness. Before beginning her work she will spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Ferguson, who is well known here, being Miss Nina O. Westcott before her marriage.

Tomorrow Miss Clark will leave for Hood River where she will make a brief visit to her sister, Mrs. W. H. East (Miss Bernice Clark).

The Yew Park circle of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. A. A. Underhill Wednesday afternoon. A social session followed the business meeting, Mrs. Underhill being assisted by Mrs. F. C. Hopson.

Plans are to hold the next meeting at the Old Peoples' Home.

Mrs. Barbara McKay of Astoria, arrived several days ago and is being entertained as the house guest of Mrs. J. R. Chapman, at the Chapman's beautiful country place, "Twin Oaks."

A coterie of young folks attending the football game in Corvallis yesterday was made up of Miss Grace Fawk, and her house guest Miss Lucy Holt of Seattle; Miss Wilma Hoaland, of the U.

of O.; Glenn Gregg, the U. of O. Tom Wolganott and E. W. Barnum.

Miss Ethel Hummel and Miss Myrtle Tobey, are week-end guests of Miss Hazel Fishwood, in Eugene, who was art instructor in the Salem high school last year.
