

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

BY MOLLY BRUNK

THANKSGIVING week has come and gone! And we had much to be thankful for—

Thankful for the host of boys and girls who came home for almost a week, and added their youth and gaiety to the programme of the bliss grown-ups.

Thankful for the gifted musicians who shared their talent so generously during the final days of the week.

Thankful for the outlook for the future that holds just enough informal things to give balance to the formal.

Thankful that conquerors or conquered the University set had still so many things for which to be thankful that the sting of this week's defeat was of short duration.

Thankful that in all the gay doings there was still left the great underlying thought of Thanksgiving, and because of this the inmates of the Old People's Home out on Twelfth street had something to be thankful for because generous Salem folk remembered them.

Thankful that there were none so forlorn that they had not something to be thankful for—that everyone gave thanks in their own way.

They could not know, the mothers of those little children who were Nathaniel Hawthorne, John Motley, Elizabeth Barrett, Thomas Macaulay and Ralph Emerson—they could not guess as they read to that eager-eyed group of the visions and fancies of youth that were to crystallize into the most exquisite verse and prose that the world would ever know.

But we living years afterward are constrained to believe that those mothers chose wisely the literature of the day, when they read to those boys and girls at bed time around the big old-fashioned fireplace.

And as they read a golden spell of dreams was woven about those children, from whose magic meshes as long as they should live, they were not to be set free, and because of it we have been made happier and wiser.

For always in their hearts was the all-compelling desire to tell the world of the beauty and greatness of nature, life and things as had been revealed to them, through imaginations awakened and stimulated at a mother's knee.

It is the early impressions that last, the stories read at twilight that hold throughout the years and make the most lasting impressions. And because this is true it is imperative that mothers choose wisely and well what they read to their children, and what the children read for themselves.

Next week is children's book week at the library. Miss Flora M. Case will suggest and give outlines of books to any mother seeking her trained services, and because of her training she knows that there are books and books, some destructive to character building and some wholesome and instructive.

If you are planning on giving a child a book as a Christmas gift, it would be well for you to consult her—for who knows but the proper literary guidance may develop some unexpected talent in your boy and girl.

THE social calendar has held nothing so worthy of note nor of such wide interest for a long time as the wedding of Miss Marjorie Kay and Hollis Willson Huntington which will take place tomorrow at the residence of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay.

Miss Kay has chosen 4 o'clock for the nuptials, Rev. J. J. Evans of the First Christian church to read the lines.

Mr. Huntington will arrive today from Anaconda, Mont., where he is athletic instructor in the public schools, and to which place he will take his bride.

A large number of out-of-town folk began arriving this week for the event, many of them college friends of Miss Kay and Mr. Huntington. A sorority sister, Miss Katherine Wilson, of Portland will attend Miss Kay as bridesmaid, and Charles ("Shy") Huntington, of U. of O. athletic fame, will come up from Eugene to be best man.

Affairs complimentary to Miss Kay, began last week, the final affair to be a dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson on the eve of her wedding at the Hotel Marion, covers to be laid for ten.

Circling the table will be Miss Kay, Mr. Huntington, Miss Katherine Wilson, Charles Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Erceel Kay and Dr. and Mrs. Robertson.

Deserving first place on the list of affairs of the week was the charming luncheon at the Hotel Marion yesterday, which the Gamma Phi Beta Alumni of the University of Oregon gave complimentary to Mrs. Hamilton Weir, of Portland, house mother of the sorority at Eugene. Mrs. Weir arrived last week to be the house guest of Mrs. Carl Nelson, and is remaining over for the Kay-Huntington nuptials tomorrow.

The luncheon was given in the private dining room of the Hotel Marion. Mauve and white chrysantheums were employed in decorating, an artistic arrangement of tulle being combined with the flowers. Exquisite floral cards marked the places.

Besides Mrs. Weir the luncheon also honored other charming visitors, Miss Leta Kiddle of LaGrande, and Miss Zoe Allen of Astoria, both active sorority members. Additional guests were Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. A. N. Bush and Mrs. Albert T. Hill of LaGrande; local Gamma Phi Betas being: Mrs. Alan Bynon, Mrs. John Hargreaves Carson, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. Hugh McCammon, Miss Bernice Craig, Miss Catherine Carson, Miss Marjorie Kay, and Miss Grace Bean.

The round of entertaining for Miss Marjorie Kay, bride-elect of Hollis Huntington began with the bridge-tee which Mrs. Russell Catlin and Mrs. Frank Spears gave Wednesday afternoon at the Catlin residence. Five tables were arranged for the players in rooms brightened with simple decorations of yellow chrysanthemums. The card awards went to Mrs. W. Connell Dyer and Miss Kay.

Later about a dozen guests dropped in for tea. Assisting about the rooms and at the tea hour were Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. W. Connell Dyer and Mrs. Harry Hawkins.

For the pleasure of Miss Kay, Mrs. Kenneth Hall entertained with a small, informal tea Friday afternoon, the guest list including a number of out-of-town folk and Gamma Phi Beta sorority sisters of the honoree.

Among the number was Mrs. Hamilton Weir, of Portland, house mother during Miss Kay's student days at the University of Oregon, who came up to attend the wedding; Miss Leta Kiddle, of LaGrande; Miss Alice Tompkins of Hood River; Mrs. Robert Hall of Portland, and Mrs. Alan Bynon, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. John Hargreaves Carson, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. Erceel Kay, Miss Catherine Carson, Miss Grace Bean, Miss Bernice Craig, and Mrs. Frank Spears.

The Country club is generally looked upon as one of the most delightful places for dancing in or near Salem, and now that the managers, directors, or whoever it is that makes the laws and rulings of the place, have relented a bit, it is not at all doubtful but what Finzer may be the objective for other gay affairs of a private origin.

During the week following Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Mills will entertain jointly with Mrs. Charles Kent Spaulding at a large Kensington, which will be given at the home of the latter.

After a two-year residence in Salem, during which time Mr. Bennett has been state superintendent of Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bennett are leaving about the twentieth of December for Pendleton where they will take up their residence. Mr. Bennett becoming vice-president of the Inland Empire bank.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and the latter's mother, Mrs. E. J. Burchill who makes her home with them have gathered about them a large coterie of friends in the capital city, who will witness their departure with the utmost regret. The Bennetts are very hospitable folk, frequently dispensing delightful cordiality in the way of dinners and kindred affairs at their residence on Center street.

They will visit friends in Portland on their way to eastern Oregon.

Mrs. W. Al Jones accompanied by her sister, Miss Mabel Creighton and her children Rosalie and Creighton Jones came up to the Jones ranch to spend Thanksgiving and the week-end. For the holiday they were joined by Dr. Ralph F. Fisher of Portland and Mrs. Louise Chapin of Los Angeles, and by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores had with them over Thanksgiving their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinney of Astoria; Miss Alice Dabney and Ralph Moores of Portland. With the exception of Mrs. Kinney, who will remain in Salem several days, all returned to their homes Friday morning.

Through the generosity of John W. Wiseman of Portland, the mothers of Oregon who send their young daughters to Willamette university for an education need not be concerned about their physical well-being, for Mr. Wiseman has made possible the installing of a complete hospital

A CHARMING AND MUCH-FETED BRIDE-ELECT

MISS MARJORIE KAY, whose wedding to Hollis Huntington will be celebrated Monday. Miss Kay has been the inspiration for numerous pre-nuptial attentions, which extended over into this week from last, the final affair in her honor to be given tonight by Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson.

ward of three rooms in Lausanne hall, each fully equipped and beautifully furnished.

Mr. Wiseman was approached in the matter a little over a year ago by Dean George H. Alden, and he at once accepted the opportunity of making possible the ward as a lasting memorial to his daughter, Ellis Wiseman, whose name will appear in the tablets over each doorway. Her portrait will adorn the walls of the hospital, and a poem written by her will also occupy a place of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman have made frequent trips to Salem in perfecting the various details of the ward, and in this work they were assisted by Mrs. A. N. Bush.

The donation which Mr. Wiseman made consists of one hundred and sixty acres of valuable timberland near Tillamook, besides several hundred dollars utilized in fitting up the infirmary.

Miss Josephine Baumgartner will return to her studies at the University of Oregon tonight, after spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bayne was another college girl spending Thanksgiving at home, being with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bayne. She will return to Corvallis tonight.

Judge and Mrs. Henry J. Bean entertained with a Thanksgiving day dinner, bidding as guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Spencer and Harold Larsen of McMinnville.

"Chu Chin Chow," at the Heilig theater the last of the week lured many Salemites Portlandward. Among local folk who motored to Portland to attend the Thanksgiving day performance were: Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. Everett Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gillingham, Mrs. Margaret Lovelace, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laflair, C. B. Clancey, Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. U. Scott Page, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daue, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gilbert, Otto Hartman, Miss Gertrude Hartman and R. W. Hartman.

A great many more went down for Friday's and Saturday's show.

Mrs. Charles E. Bates had as her guest this week her sister Miss Margaret Graham of Portland.

Judge and Mrs. George G. Bingham spent Thanksgiving in Woodburn with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Walker Powell. They returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Boise were joined in celebrating Thanksgiving by Mrs. Frank E. Snodgrass, and their son Breyman Boise, who was home from the Oregon Agricultural College, bringing with him as his guest Gordon Tebb, a college friend.

Mrs. George F. Rodgers and Miss Margaret Rodgers entertained as their Thanksgiving day guests Mr. Rodgers' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fitzgibbon, their daughter Miss Evelyn Fitzgibbon of the University of Oregon, and son Harold Fitzgibbon a graduate of the same institution, later a student at Rush Medical college, who is here from Chicago.

Another sister of Mr. Rodgers, Mrs. Frank Brown who has spent the past fifteen years in Dawson, Alaska, also came up to join the group and will remain over for several days.

Mrs. Clifford W. Brown and the children are expected home from Portland tonight, where they went last week to be with Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. W. W. Bretherton.

Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., entertained as her dinner guests Sunday Miss Mabel Withycombe of Portland, and Miss Elizabeth Lord. Miss Withycombe was returning from Eugene, where she accompanied Mrs. George Geringer of Portland, and stopped off briefly to be the guest of Miss Lord.

Judge and Mrs. George H. Burnett were joined over Thanksgiving by a number of out-of-town folk: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bickford and daughter Miriam, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ormsby and daughter Dorothy of Portland; Judge and Mrs. H. H. Belt and children Myra and George of Dallas, and by Mrs. S. E. Huclat.

Mrs. Kenneth Hall entertained as her Thanksgiving day and week-end guests her mother-in-law Mrs. Robert Hall of Portland, and her sister Miss Alice Tompkins of Hood River.

Friends here of Mrs. George Dickman (Claribel Seely), were grieved to learn of her death in Portland, Saturday, November 29. Her home was in New York City, but during her three months illness she had been with her mother Mrs. S. Seely of Portland. Mrs. Dickman was a niece of Mrs. Charles F. Elgin.

Miss Tora Mortenson is spending the week-end with her mother Mrs. Florence D. Mortenson in Portland.

Beginning what may develop into an annual custom will be the dinner next Tuesday night at the home of Judge and Mrs. George H. Burnett which will be given by the Past Matrons of the Order of the Eastern Star for the pleasure of their husbands. Covers will be laid for about forty.

Prof. and Mrs. W. I. Staley and Mr. and Mrs. William Fleming went to Portland yesterday to attend the last performance of "Chu Chin Chow."

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fry were other Salem folk who witnessed the Saturday night performance of "Chu Chin Chow" at the Heilig.

Mrs. Frank A. Elliott entertained as her house guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Hill of LaGrande, and son Thomas, a student at the University of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton were dinner hosts Thanksgiving day, laying covers for ten around a table attractively ornamented with large yellow chrysanthemums.

came up to spend Thanksgiving with Dr. and Mrs. Smith, who also entertained over the date Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith and their children Virginia and Robert of Portland, and another son, Kenneth Smith, a University of Oregon student.

Miss Leta D. Moore of St. Thomas, Canada, arrived in Salem during the mid-week and will remain until after the holidays as the house guest of Mrs. John A. Carson. Miss Moore has visited in Salem before and has many friends to welcome her.

Joseph Teel, a student in the electrical engineers department of O. A. C., Corvallis, is spending the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Teel, north of Salem.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith are entertaining as their week-end guests, Dr. J. C. Smith of Grants Pass and his daughter, Miss Josephine Smith who is a student at St. Helen's hall, Portland. They
