

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield motored to Portland yesterday to spend the week-end as the guests of friends.

Beautiful pom-pom chrysanthemums in rose and white were used by Mrs. E. T. Busselle as a decorative motif when she entertained a group of friends at an afternoon party Thursday at the Busselle residence on Center street. The same dainty color scheme was carried out in the refreshments served in the course of the afternoon. Five hundred was the diversion enjoyed.

Perfection in every detail marked the informal two-course luncheon for which Mrs. S. S. East was charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained the Priscilla club at her lovely home on Court street. Mrs. G. W. Astle was a special guest of the hostess, the other guests being members of the club. The table was centered with an art vase of Chinese marigolds. Little Miss La Faun Astle and Miss Carolyn-East assisted Mrs. East in serving.

Mrs. P. E. Fullerton entertained informally Wednesday evening with a beautifully appointed dinner for a few friends.

Miss Lillian Haldane is in Salem for an indefinite visit as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. A. E. Laflar.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jaskoski (Leota Noud) arrived in Salem Friday morning for an extended visit at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jaskoski. The young couple have a host of friends who are welcoming them.

Mrs. H. E. Bolinger was among the many Salem folk who were Portland visitors during the past week. She was the house guest of her sister, Mrs. E. M. Johnson, and the inspiration of several pretty social fetes during her short visit.

Dr. R. E. Lee Selmer, superintendent of the state hospital, and H. V. Compton were the principal speakers at the meeting of the Six O'Clock club which was held Tuesday evening at the First Methodist church. This was the regular monthly meeting of the club.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church will hold its regular monthly meeting immediately after early services this morning. This will be the Christmas meeting and plans will be made for the part the organization will take in the observance of the feast, as well as for the annual observance of the 8th of December. A full attendance is desired at the meeting.

The posters are on exhibition at the public library. Competent judges will award prizes to the amateur artists, the winners to be announced later.

Mrs. John McCracken of Prosser, Wash., is in Salem visiting her daughter, Miss Esther McCracken, at Willamette university. She is also a house guest at the Lee McCracken home during her sojourn here.

The Salem Symphony orchestra will make its initial appearance in the city on Monday evening, December 6. John R. Sites, one of the city's most famous musicians, is director of the orchestra, and a great deal of time and effort has been spent in perfecting the organization and making it one of Salem's high lights. W. H. Mills is president, Frank M. Alley, secretary-treasurer, and Leonard Satchwell, custodian. Mrs. A. N. Bush, Miss Sally Bush and Miss Cornelia Marvin are honorary members, the complete personnel being as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McCracken have returned to their home in Wheeler after a short holiday visit at the Lee McCracken home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Waters leave the last of the week for the winter in California near Los Angeles and Long Beach.

Announcement has been made of the banquet to be held at Hotel Marion on the evening of December 14, by the Professional and Business Women's club. It has been suggested that members desiring to attend make reservation early through Mrs. Margaret Montgomery at the Roth Grocery store. Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, will address the young women at the banquet on some topic of interest.

Mrs. S. S. East returned Wednesday night from Stanfield, where she had been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Kyle, during a short visit in the eastern Oregon city.

Mrs. Alta A. Martin will arrive in Salem this evening from Los Angeles for a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Altman, 296 Liberty street. Mrs. Martin plans to remain over the holidays.

Miss Doris Leah Sykes, a student at the University of Oregon, was a Salem visitor Saturday. Miss Sykes was formerly a Willamette university student and was connected with The Statesman in the capacity of society editor during her residence in the Capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jenks and Mrs. William Everett Anderson motored to Portland for a week-end trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Niemeyer and small son, Stuart, accompanied by their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Niemeyer of Fort McMurray, Alberta, Canada, motored to Portland Thursday and spent the day.

Mrs. Frank Davey entertained a number of friends informally Friday evening at her home on Leslie street. Refreshments were served during the course of the pleasant evening, and the hostess was assisted in serving by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Davey.

Mrs. George Barnett spent yesterday in Dallas where she went to attend the birthday anniversary celebration of her little niece, Myra Bell. Little Miss Bell is the small daughter of Judge and Mrs. H. H. Bell of the Polk county city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers returned the first of the week from Portland where they were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Williamson, former Salem residents. Mr. and Mrs. Myers made the trip by auto, and while in the metropolis attended the Saturday night performance of Chu Chin Chow at the theater.

Mrs. T. M. Barr spent the day of the past week in Mt. Angel where she was the house guest of friends and visited with her sister-in-law, Rev. Benedict Barr, Mt. Angel Abbey.
