

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

WOMAN ELECTED TO SEAT IN LEGISLATURE

MRS. W. S. KINNEY, former Salem girl who was elected without opposition to represent Clatsop county in the state legislature. Mrs. Kinney is a member of one of Oregon's best-known pioneer families, her grandmother having been the first principal of Pacific university at Forest Grove.

Mrs. Kinney has made her home for many years in Astoria, and has been an active participant in its business, civic and social life. Her family consists of four sons, Robert C., whose wife was formerly Miss Althea Moores of Salem; Alfred E., and William Kinney of Astoria and Kenneth W. Kinney of Washington, D. C.

membered by a host of friends as Miss Olive Metcalf, will join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Metcalf, in the southern California city, the latter formerly making their home in Salem.

It is rather doubtful if the army will hold the number of Salem folk who desire to hear Frederick Warde, the distinguished actor, author and lecturer, who speaks in Salem Friday night, December 17, taking as his subject, "Fifty Years of Make-Believe." Mr. Warde's lecture is a fascinating story of stage life that breathes of the great characters of the drama. It is the experience of one who has backed in the limelight. It vibrates with the heart-beats of those sterling actor folk who loved the applause so generously bestowed in the days of our fathers and mothers. It is a revelation of the real American stage of the past 50 years told by one who was in the midst of the heat of it—a gentleman splendidly equipped in every way to tell this most fascinating story.

The past winter found Mr. Warde in the leading role of the famous Los Angeles mission play at San Gabriel—the American Oberammergau—where his masterly interpretation created comment throughout the entire west.

His associates and contemporaries have been the foremost actors of the English-speaking stage: Henry Irving, Lawrence Barrett, Charlotte Cushman, Adelaide Neilson, Edwin Booth, and many others have been closely identified in the career of Frederick Warde.

"Fifty Years of Make-Believe," a romance of priceless memories, clothed in choicest language and delivered with the consummate skill of a wonderful actor, is certain to be one of the season's treats.

Members and friends of the Thelma Links club are eagerly looking forward to the second of a series of dances which the club is to give Tuesday evening in Cotillion hall.

Mrs. H. Haid and her daughter, Miss Usenia Haid, are spending the week-end with friends in Portland.

Adjutant General and Mrs. George A. White will go to Portland the first of the week where Mrs. White will remain over for several days as the guest of friends. During her stay she will attend a large reception given by Mrs. F. E. Greenman.

Colonel and Mrs. Perry Willis were dinner guests Friday night, entertaining a group of friends at the Marion hotel.

Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Raymond, Mrs. James Walton, Miss Beatrice Walton and Miss Mary Chadwick.

A pleasing feature of the mid-week banquet given in connection with the Home-coming of the Masons held in the Salem armory this week was the singing of Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, who gave the utmost pleasure by a group of songs, which called forth repeated ovations from the big audience which numbered about 600.

Mrs. Smith chose as her numbers "The First Rose of Summer," "Springtime," "Out Where the West Begins," and in response to encores repeated several choruses. Miss Ada Miller assisted her as accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White have issued invitations for a large dining party, in honor of their daughter Miss Margaret White, which will be given Friday evening, December 24 in Moose hall.

Word received this week from E. T. Barnes who is taking special work at Harvard states that he will be home for the holidays to spend the week with his family. He will reach Salem about the 23rd and will also Miss Ruth Barnes who is attending the University of Washington at Seattle.

Mrs. W. W. Bretherton came up during the mid-week from Portland and is remaining over the week-end as the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford.

Members of the Monday Night Dancing club are anticipating the pre-holiday party in Moose hall Monday night. Walter Kirk is chairman of the decorating committee, and with his assistants has plans for a novel and effective scheme.

A number of dinner and supper parties will be given in connection with the event. Among those entertaining in this way will be Mrs. Will T. Neill, Mrs. Paul V. Johnson and Mrs. W. J. Busick.

Mrs. Henry L. Benson entertained as her guest the first of the week, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Forrest of Portland.

Mrs. R. P. Boise, Mrs. Frank E. Snedecor, Mrs. G. W. Gill and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin formed a party motoring over to Corvallis the first of the week to be entertained at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Mrs. F. C. Scherrie of Hood River arrived Friday night to be a several days' guest of her niece, Mrs. Roy Burton. Before her return home Mrs. Scherrie will be entertained as the house guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Ackerman in Monmouth.

Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson and her grandson, Charles Kay Bishop, went to Portland Friday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop. Their visit was inspired by the celebration in honor of Thomas Burmaster Bishop's birthday, the young son of the Roy Bishops.

Mrs. H. H. Olinger returned the first of the week from Harrisburg where she had been with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shisler for several weeks.

Mrs. Will H. Bennett spent the latter part of the week in Portland, going down Friday.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop went to Portland Friday to remain over the week-end as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop in East Portland, and also of her son Clarence Bishop at the Portland hotel.

Miss Kathryn Slade left Wednesday for Nova Scotia where she will join her parents. Previous to her departure Miss Slade was complimented with a number of pleasant attentions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig were hosts for the "Cherry City" card club Thursday night, entertaining additionally Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Potal. High score for "500" went to Mrs. Fred W. Stensloff and R. E. Downing.

A Christmas party at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Fisher next Friday night, will feature the December schedule of the local chapter of the P. E. O. society, husband, of members to be entertained on that occasion.

Thursday afternoon the regular meeting of the society will be held at the same place, with a program and business matters considered.

Due to damage done Salem electric service by the storm the concert given at the armory Friday night by Albert Lindquist and assisting artists developed into a study of varied lighting effects. However, the affair was well attended, and those who were brave enough to ignore weather conditions were well repaid for the effort.

A number of changes were made in the program, one being the substitution of the Tower song from Il Trovatore. Miss Leonora Allen and her husband Mr. Lindquist delighting with their splendid rendition of that favorite number.

Mr. Lindquist was at his best in the Handel and Meyerbeer arias. The latter's aria from "L'Africaine," sung in French was particularly beautiful. After a group of songs, ending with "Tommy Lad," by Margeson, Mr. Lindquist responded to an encore with "Mother Machine."

Miss Allen sang a number of charming little songs, "Le Coucou de ma vie" in French being especially well received, and in response to an encore gave "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Mr. MacDonald, pianist, is truly an artist. His technique is flawless; running passages are done with a fluidity and a sureness that is a delight to hear. His interpretation "Faith in Spring," Schubert-Liszt was especially artistic. He substituted a "Valse" by Tschalkowsky for the Leschitzky number.

The concert was given under the direction of the Salem Lyceum bureau, was thoughtfully conceived, delightfully executed, and is one more evening of art for Salem music lovers to look back upon with pleasure.

Looking forward as far as the legislature which convenes in January there is the large dance party to be given by the Junior guild of St. Paul's church in the armory which will be one of the brilliant events of that period.

Next Thursday evening the Junior guild will give its dance in connection with its annual bazaar in the Moose hall, the affair to be under the direction of Mrs. Ralph White. The afternoon will be given over to the Christmas sale and tea, hostesses for the latter to be Mrs. C. G. Shipley, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. Edward Weller and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith.

Among the Salem folk going down to hear Lhevaine and the Portland Symphony orchestra at the Heilig theater, Wednesday night, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton, Miss Elma Weller and Mrs. W. Everett Anderson.

Mrs. J. W. Chambers and Miss Dorothy Chambers and Miss Rachel were other Salem folk spending the mid-week in Portland.

Mrs. Chester Cox went to Woodburn the latter part of the week to attend an "at home," given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Don Cowles.

In observance of an annual custom, Mrs. Lena Westcott entertained with a dinner Thursday in celebration of the birthday of her father, Gideon Stolz. Covers were laid for 12 around an attractively appointed table which displayed as a principal detail a large birthday cake, with gleaming tapers. The guests included relatives and a few close friends of the family.

Looking forward on the December calendar one of the most pleasing dates is that of Tuesday, December 28, which the members of the Aloha club have set aside for their second dancing party. A large invitational list will include a representative number of the collegial set, home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith of Jefferson spent the latter part of the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Griffith.

Miss Gene Belle spent the last week-end with friends in Portland, returning home the first of the week.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to Miss Alta Jones, who suffered a broken arm last Monday, resultant from a fall at the Jones ranch.

Mrs. Ada Stone, who left for an extended eastern and southern trip a month or more ago, is expected home before Christmas, being now in California.

Miss Ruth Johns will go to Vancouver the first of the week where she will assist at the wedding of a childhood friend, Miss Norma Sparks. Miss Johns will sing "Because God Gave Me You," by Frederick Knicht, Langan, and she will play the wedding march from Mendelssohn.

Cotillion hall will be the scene of a merry pre-holiday dancing party next Friday night, the affair to be given by the students of the Capital Business college.

Judge P. H. Darcy and his sister Mrs. Teresa Darcy left this week for California where they plan to pass the greater part of the winter in San Francisco at the southern part of the state, according to their annual custom.

J. E. Bourne, Southern Pacific ticket agent, is passing the week-end with his sister, Mrs. H. A. Haller in Portland.

Mrs. S. Levy who went abroad with her daughter Miss Elizabeth Levy several months ago, is expected to reach New York City during the coming week, having sailed from London recently. Upon her arrival she will spend some time visiting relatives and friends in New York City and in the southern states, before starting for home. She will probably reach Salem shortly before Christmas.

Miss Levy plans to continue her musical studies abroad for another year.

ONLY 11 MORE DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Stores will not be open evenings therefore plan to shop early in the day.

Those who delay their Christmas shopping until the last few days are inviting for themselves inevitable hardships. While we maintain at all times a thoroughly efficient store service, this service is bound to be severely taxed just before Christmas, so we urge you to shop early when you are certain to receive more thoughtful and courteous attention than you can expect later on.

Come in tomorrow forenoon and pick them out and avoid the squeezing and jostling which accompanies the afternoon shopping.
