

LIFE SERVICE THEIR CHOICE

More Than One Hundred Salem Young People Respond to Appeal

The climax of the "Win my him" campaign, which was held last week by the class in organization of the First Methodist church, came Sunday night when the close of an impressive service, more than a hundred young people came forward at the invitation of Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick and consecrated their lives to some definite form of Christian service.

That no greater response could have been hoped for was the justifying reflection of those who initiated the campaign. As the final accomplishment of a week of helping each other young people of several denominations joined hands in a pledge of service for those less fortunate of the world. Some declared themselves to serve the foreign missionary field, others to be ministers of the gospel, while a great many merely consecrated their lives to the highest calling that might become theirs.

MRS. ELLIOTT POLK LEADER

Dallas Woman Chosen to Head Campaign for Oregon Orphan Home

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—Special Agent, Sergeant W. H. ... Mrs. Elliott is chairman of the Polk county campaign for the Oregon W. C. T. U. children's farm home is expected to get underway immediately with the hope and expectation that the county quota of $1700 will be reported shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Judge Burnett Will Be Chief Justice of State

Justice George H. Burnett of the state supreme court will be January 1, succeed Thomas A. McElride as chief justice. In accordance with the state constitution, Justice Burnett will serve two years as chief justice and at the end of that time will be succeeded by Justice Charles A. Johns. Judge McElride has been chief of the court many times.

State Secretaries May Call Portland Meeting

In reply to Secretary of State Koser's letter to the secretaries of the states of Washington, California and Idaho, suggesting a conference of state department representatives relative to interstate automobile regulation, Robert O. Jones, secretary of state for Idaho, replies in favor of the plan. Mr. Jones suggests that the meeting be held in Portland on January 20 and 21, so that those attending may be able to return to their homes for the holidays.

Joseph Charles Mullen Passes Away at His Home

Joseph Charles Mullen died Sunday at the age of 57 years. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Rigdon chapel. The services will be in charge of the local order of I.O.O.F. Interment will be in City View cemetery. Besides his wife, Mr. Mullen leaves three children, Mrs. Margaret Weckerly of Delphi, Ind., and Joseph C. of Turner, Or.; by two step children, Miss Anna Eaton of Salem, and Robert Eaton of Oregon City; by two brothers, Arthur L. of Turner and William M. of Watsonville, Cal., and by two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Varner of Turner and Mrs. Martha Hawn of Watsonville, Cal.

Cooper is in Hospital After Traffic Accident

While riding a bicycle last night, Roy Cooper, proprietor of a confectionery store at Liberty and Court streets, was thrown to the pavement and run over by a passing automobile. He was picked up and hurried to the Deaconess hospital, and though he is badly bruised, his injuries are not thought to be serious, and it is believed he will be able to be out of the hospital in a few days. His escape from fatal injury is considered "marvelous" by those who witnessed the accident. McCullen of the state highway commission, who was driving the automobile that caused the accident, reported to Police Officer Victor who was present, that he did not see the man on the wheel at all, and was surprised at the occurrence. The incident occurred at State and High streets.

PLANTER'S C & C OR BLACK CAPSULES. A Preparation of COMPOUND COPAIBA and CUBERS. AT YOUR DRUGGIST. Ask for BY NAME ONLY, avoid Substitutions.

MRS. ELLIOTT POLK LEADER

Dallas Woman Chosen to Head Campaign for Oregon Orphan Home

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—Special Agent, Sergeant W. H. ... Mrs. Elliott is chairman of the Polk county campaign for the Oregon W. C. T. U. children's farm home is expected to get underway immediately with the hope and expectation that the county quota of $1700 will be reported shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Jury Disagrees in Trial of George Aschenbrenner

The trial of George Aschenbrenner, charged with assault and battery, occupied a greater part of the day yesterday in the justice court. The state conferred the charge through evidence produced by John Aschenbrenner, son of the defendant and complaining witness.

Huntington's Team Wins Montana Championship

Hollis Huntington, who recently was married to Miss Marjorie Kay and who is athletic director of the Anaconda, Mont., high school, has coached his team to the state championship by defeating the Billings team of eastern Montana. The Billings team, under the tutelage of an eastern coach, was "doped" to win, but Huntington's team won the game 17 to 0. The contest was on neutral ground at Bozeman, Mont.

Medford Man Contemplates Irrigation of His Land

M. F. Hanley of Medford has filed with the state engineering department an application for authority to appropriate water from the North fork of Little Butte creek for the irrigation of 750 acres in Jackson county near Lake creek. The development contemplates the construction of a power plant and the enlargement of several miles of ditch at an estimated cost of $44,000.

Private Crum to Attend Fort Riley Army School

Six members of the Oregon national guard, according to an announcement of George A. White, adjutant general, will go to Fort Riley, Kan., to attend the private Crum to attend Fort Riley Army School.

Grateful Frenchman Gives House and Lots to County

Charles Boegershauser, a rather unique Frenchman, appeared before the county court yesterday and presented Marion county with a deed to his home and six lots in St. Louis. He has never seen anyone whom he wished to marry, he said, therefore without family ties and now, that he was old, he wanted his property to go to the county that had helped him in his old days.

A REAL BARGAIN! Aemo SELF-REDUCING NO. 360 AT $5.00 THE BEST CORSET FOR STOUT WOMEN. LIGHT BUT STRONG. ON SALE FOR A SHORT TIME. NEMO HYGIENIC FASHION INSTITUTE, Dept. 21, 23 Irving Place, New York.

Pilkenton Heads Printers as President of Union

Capital Typographical union No. 210 announces the election of the following officers for 1921: President, M. D. Pilkenton; vice president, J. A. Blackwood; secretary-treasurer, C. G. Gray; executive committee, H. F. Himes, W. H. Mills, F. S. Craig, H. E. ...

Smiling Cashier Makes Monied Men Nervous

There is a cashier at a prominent hotel in western Oregon whose excessive desire to be pleasant, agreeable and politely entertaining has bred in her a habit that is laughingly embarrassing to many travelers and makes some of them quite nervous. The cashier is a very nice looking woman, decidedly German, efficient in business movement, and always on the alert to make the guest feel at home.

Girl Reserves Have 200 Members in This City

Salem has 200 Girl Reserves, and there are 10,000 in Oregon, Wyoming, Idaho and Montana. The work in this city is under the efficient management of Miss Eva Scott. The Girl Reserve movement in connection with the Y. W. C. A. is growing throughout the country. According to reports there are 100,000 girls between the ages of 12 and 18 enlisted in the movement in the United States and foreign lands. Figures from other countries are not yet available but Girl Reserve groups have recently been organized in China, Japan, South America, the Near East and many other countries.

Co-operation Promised by Street Car Company

T. E. Billingsley, superintendent of the Salem street railway lines, has informed the public service commission in reply to a letter from Commissioner Fred A. Williams, that the company will stop its cars for a longer period than ordinarily on State street at the Oregon Electric depot when trains arrive. This is for the convenience of persons leaving trains and desiring to go to any part of the city by street car.

Heavy Hauling Tearing Salem Streets to Pieces

Heavy traffic on the streets of the city is causing considerable damage. Not alone to the unpaved street is the hauling of heavy loads destructive, for during the rainy season, the pavement is softened, and often will not sustain unusually heavy loads.

City Attorney Resigns

DALLAS, Or., Dec. 13.—Ed F. Coad tendered his resignation to the city council last week as city attorney. Mr. Coad has held the office for more than eight years. A successor has not yet been named.

They can't take a prescribed course of military instruction in school for cooks and bakers. They are Mess Sergeant Ervin F. Stewart, Company B, Fifth Infantry, Independence; Private First Class Frank Cross, Company A, Engineers, Portland; Private First Class Lester Crum, Company M, Fifth Infantry, Salem; Private David A. Hittle, First company, coast artillery, Ashland; Private Earl Lashers, Company K, Fifth Infantry, Independence; Private ...

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice: "The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

"Ah, yes? The $5 cents (or whatever it is); and this is a $10 bill; ah, yes; $5 and 15 is one dollar, two dollars, three dollars, four dollars, five dollars and one five-dollar bill; that makes ten dollars; thank you!"

All this time the guest is wondering whether the cashier is signaling her financial transaction to the bookkeeper at the office across the floor, or advertising to the lobby guests how cheap a dinner he has been buying, or just informing any confidence worker or pickpocket who may be lounging there that he has $9.15 at least in his pocket.

She keeps that up following every meal at every payment and seems to enjoy it. The guests seem to enjoy it, as she is very popular, and the proprietors of the hotel seem to enjoy it, as she is a permanent fixture.

When the guest emerges from the dining room, meal check in hand, he passes it to the smiling cashier, who announces in a loud, distinct voice:

"The cashier's desk is located outside the dining room door in the side of the spacious hotel lobby and in easy hearing distance of all who may be lounging there or in the writing rooms, office, etc."

Sweeping Reductions

in Ladies' Blanket Bath Robes. Every Blanket Bath Robe

Heavily Reduced

Just think how happy "She" would be to tell "Her" Merry Christmas with one of these charming Robes. They look "Comfy" and are just as "Comfy" as they look.

MILLER'S Good Goods

Another Sleepless Night?

It's been a busy and fretful day. Brain fagged, nerves frayed and body exhausted—conscious that tomorrow is fraught with new trials and tribulations, he realizes the imperative need of a refreshing night's rest. Yet, he hesitates and dreads to go to bed lest he roll and toss throughout the night.

LYKO TONIC. The Great General Tonic.

LYKO is a splendid general tonic; a reliable appetizer and an excellent stimulant to the nervous system. It relieves brain fog and physical exhaustion; builds up the nerves; strengthens the muscles; corrects digestive disorders; restores vitality generally the weak, irritable and worn out. Ask your druggist for a bottle today and get rid of sleepless nights.

Sole Manufacturer: LYKO MEDICINE CO., New York, Kansas City, Mo. For sale by all druggists. Always in stock at Perry's drug store.

PRACTICAL GIFTS

SHOES are Necessities, therefore nothing is more acceptable. House Slippers, while not absolute necessities, are very comfortable and pleasant, so everyone is glad to receive them.

FOR THE LADY: Black or brown, kid dress shoes $12.50 to $5.95. Evening or Dancing Pumps or Oxford $12.00 to $3.95. House Slippers, exclusive styles, all colors and shades, finest qualities $3.50 to $1.95.

FOR THAT MAN: Fine Dress shoes, black or brown Brogue, English or other New toes and styles $12.00 Down to $6.45. "Regal" Full Dress Patent cloth top, button $9.95. HOUSE SLIPPERS in great variety, Felt, or Leather Opera, Everett, Romeo or Cavalier cuts $5.00 Down to $1.95.

You will be pleased, Santa Claus satisfied and "They" will be delighted

The Bootery WHERE CASH IS KING "At the Electric Sign Shoes"

YOUR HOME IS OUR CHIEF INTEREST

No one studies your home like your furniture dealer—We know you need good Furniture to make your home comfortable—We know you need Music to make your home happiness complete.

Talking Machines and Records. Pianos and Player Rolls.

H. L. Stiff Furniture Co. COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHING

GRAND THEATRE

Tonight

DAVID BELASCO'S TIGER ROSE

A MELODRAMA BY WILLARD MACK

Prices $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00. Seat Sale Now

PUROLA Shaving Cream. It is eight o'clock. This represents one inch of PUROLA shaving cream. A little water—very popular nowadays. It is one minute past eight. And you have a generous, lasting lather that will soften the toughest beard so the razor will fairly dance through the shaving task. Use Purola for speed and smoothness. And listen to this: If you don't find Purola the greatest shaving cream you've ever used, return any part of the tube to your dealer and get your money back. Good druggists sell Purola.