

BIG AMERICAN GAME IS SAFE

President Hedtyler Will Head National League for Another Term

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The National league at its annual meeting today extended for three years the term of President John A. Hedtyler and granted to him substantial increase in salary. President Hedtyler's present salary is $10,000 a year and the increase, while it is not officially stated, is said to have been 50 per cent. The additional years will make his present term expire December 31, 1923. The new agreement with the American league which is to run for 25 years was adopted and formally signed by each of the eight clubs and President Hedtyler. The agreement was adopted without even the suggestion of an amendment. Baseball as an institution has responded quickly and courageously to meet an unprecedented situation growing out of the discovery of crookedness, said President Hedtyler in submitting his annual report. "The whole governmental structure of the game has been changed to meet this issue of dishonesty within the ranks and to cope with the gamblers' attack from without. No one need fear of the outcome. Prior to the 1920 season our New York club barred two players for the best interests of the game, thereby practically destroying its pennant chances, the Chicago club dropped another undesirable, and successfully defended a damage suit brought by this player. The trial was a public one, the evidence presented by the league being of such relentless force as to warrant a finding against the player by a jury of his own townsmen. This verdict for clean baseball proved of far reaching value.
