

BANK HOLDINGS IN STATE SHOW SALEM SECOND

Eugene Passes Pendleton and Takes Fourth Place on Official List

DECREASES RECORDED

Number of Million-Dollar Cities in Oregon Drops Since Last Call

The number of cities and towns in Oregon having deposits of $1,000,000 or more has decreased from 25 on September 8 to 20 at the call date of November 15, according to a statement prepared yesterday by Will H. Bennett, state superintendent of banks. Pendleton has dropped to fifth place. Salem retains its place at second on the list, while Astoria is third and Eugene fourth.

Hopner, Athena, Condon, Burns and Gresham, which appeared in the million dollar class September 8, have failed to qualify this time. Oregon City and Corvallis have passed Baker. Roseburg has passed McMinnville, and Grants Pass, Ashland, Lakeview, Milton and Woodburn have moved up, passing other towns which failed to show an increase in deposits.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

RIGA PASSES SLOWLY AWAY

Pearl of Baltic is Now Sad Monument of Destruction of World War

RIGA, Latvia, Dec. 15.—Riga, which was known before the war as the pearl of the Baltic and ranked as Russia's second port is one of the saddest monuments to the destruction wrought by six years of ceaseless fighting, much of which took place on the new republic of Latvia, erected on the ruins of the old Russian governments of Livonia and Courland. Half a million persons lived in Riga before the war and over 400 large factories kept it busy and prosperous. Now there are only about 200,000 inhabitants and less than a score of factories are operating. The empty shells of various industries stand awaiting the return of machinery which the Russians shipped eastward before the German advance. Lenin and Trotsky have promised to return all the machinery which belonged to Russian subjects. But many of the factories were owned by foreign capitalists and consequently cannot hope to recover their plants.

Great rubber plants, carshops, wood-working shops and saw mills stand idle awaiting capital to buy machinery. The river Dvina and various lakes and inlets lying to the city are filled with logs but there are no mills to convert them into timber and no ships to carry them into foreign markets. The docks are idle. Few trains operate and those are fired with wood.

Of the 1,500,000 persons in the new republic, nearly all are dependent upon agriculture for a living. The crops were a failure this year and consequently the outlook is blue for the new government, headed by Umanis, the American trained minister-president. But the Letts have learned the joy of freedom in their few months of independence. They fought bravely against the Bolsheviks and later against the Baltic barons who tried to enslave them under General Bernond. And they are courageously building up a national life and a national consciousness in the face of terrible odds.

Unlike most parts of Russia, Latvia was a country where education was general and only a small proportion of its population was unable to read and write. It had been in the line of European culture. Its ports of Riga, Libau and Windau had always attracted many foreign traders. The country had been so attractive to German business men that German culture was firmly embedded in the leading cities. Riga is more German than Russian in its appearance. Its broad streets, magnificent, well-kept parks and dignified public buildings give it the air of a German city. Its numerous Lutheran churches are similar to those found in any of the Hansa-League cities. Its university is organized along German lines. But the great majority of its people have no sympathy with Germany's effort to continue its influence in Latvia through the German barons, whose estates have been confiscated.

Port Au Prince Is Ready To Welcome U. S. Visitors

PORT AU PRINCE, Dec. 14.—Americans seldom come to Haiti except on business. It is the rarest thing to see a tourist here and ship travelers, stopping at this port for several hours, rush aboard again after a hurried survey of the water front section. The hordes of beggars besetting the visitors as they attempt to get through well paved streets, lined with the lame and the blind discourages the visitors. The chamber of commerce, mindful of this evil, is trying to end it, for the organization admits that it is the thing that turns tourists away. Aside from the occupation forces there are about 200 Americans in the capital. Only four full steaming days from New York, Haiti is lucky if it gets mail in eight or ten days. The one hotel here patronized by Americans sits back toward the base of the mountainside overlooking the sea and beyond walking distance of town. Once accustomed the resident American likes the weather, but there never was a sun in Texas that beats down with the intensity of this Haitian sun around midday. The old belief held in many parts of the United States that Port Au Prince is a breeding spot of crime, is wrong now.

It is understood that all of the members of the Wilson cabinet will resign about March 4 next, "in order to better care for their families."
