Thirteen States Have Accepted Chile's Invitation to Celebrate

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 4. — Thirteen countries have accepted the invitation of the Chilean government to send representatives to participate in the festivities early in December commemorating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Strait of Magellan. The Spanish government will be represented by the Infante Don Fernando, of Baviera, cousin of King Alfonso, and a suite of 20 persons. Joseph H. Shea, United States ambassador to Chile, will represent the American government with the rank of special ambassador. In addition, the United States cruisers Des Moines and Dolphin, under command of Rear-Admiral Bryan, will form part of the naval pageant. Great Britain will be represented by its minister in Chile, J. T. C. Vaughan, with the rank of special ambassador, and likewise, it is stated, will send a naval representation. Argentina, Brazil and Portugal will send special ambassadors as well as naval units. Venezuela, Panama, Uruguay, Salvador and Costa Rica will be represented. An extensive social program has been arranged for the Spanish royal party during their stay in Santiago, and Valparaiso, including a banquet at the Hotel Santa Lucia, receptions by various scientific societies and special exercises at the University of Chile. In Punta Arenas, the festivities will include the unveiling of a monument to Ferdinand Magellan the Portuguese explorer who, 400 years ago, discovered the pass connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; inauguration of port works and other public projects and many social entertainments. The austral region of Chile was opened to civilization in 1845 when the government incorporated within its frontier what is now known as the territory of Magellan, comprising 192,000 square kilometers, part of which extends into northern Terra del Fuego. The territory has a population of 34,000, of which 22,500 live in Punta Arenas, center of the cattle raising and meat packing industries of the country, a prominent port and home of many millionaires.

Russian Professors Slowly Exterminated

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 4. — Michael I. Rostovstevff, formerly professor of Russian History of the University of Petrograd, and now professor of Ancient History at the University of Wisconsin, declares that Russian professors and intellectuals are being gradually exterminated by the Bolsheviks and that they are attempting to build up a new intellectual class. "The aim of the Bolsheviks is to make of the 'bourgeoisie' or better 'intellectual Russia,' a 'tabula rasa,' a void place, and to fill this with a new intellectual class educated in the Bolshevik ideas," Professor Rostovstevff said. "The reality shows that instead of this communist class, a class of greedy profiteers and demoralized scoundrels is growing up to replace the class which gave to the world Tolstoi, Dostolevski, Tchaikovsky and a great number of others in fields of science, art and literature." Professor Rostovstevff, who came to the university this year from the College of Paris, has been in constant touch with former intellectual leaders of his country since he left it after the first year of the Bolshevik regime. He fled to Sweden from Petrograd and later went to England, where he taught in Oxford University.

Engineer Declares Historic Land Has Greater Resources Than California

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. — The natural resources of Palestine are greater than those of Southern California and are able to support decently about 4,000,000 people, Harry Thomas Cory, former director-general of foreign relief for the American Red Cross, declared in a report to the Zionist organization of America made public here today. Mr. Cory, a California engineer, went to Palestine recently at the invitation of Justice Brandies, honorary president of the international and American Zionist organization. He had just investigated the Nile River irrigation projects in Egypt. Mr. Cory said his findings after a short survey of the Holy Land were in complete accord with those of Sir William Willcox, head of the Nile projects commission of the Egyptian government, and Professor R. H. Forbes, of the University of Nebraska and an American student of desert irrigation. "The western slope of Palestine is naturally better than the Southern California region in and about Los Angeles, which has made possible that city's enormously rapid development," Mr. Cory said. "The configuration is strikingly similar, and I was therefore not surprised to learn that it was planned to irrigate 150,000 acres of this coastal land in relatively small units, largely by pumps. "The soil of western Palestine is better in all essential particulars, more fertile and more favorable for intensive development. In the lower regions there is no danger from frost. Nowhere in Southern California is there a frost-proof area. "The greater quantity and better distribution of the rainfall renders 'dry farming' easier and safer in Palestine regions. "The valley of the Jordan is an entirely different matter as to climatic conditions and many other features. However, Sir William, Professor Forbes and I are in complete agreement as to the feasibility of irrigating at least 500,000 acres there. Sir William and I are entirely satisfied as to the ability to economically develop 50,000 horse power in hydro-electric plants. "The 500,000 acres are much more comparable to the irrigated lands in the Imperial Valley, the southeastern corner of California overlapping into Mexico. "The future of Palestine is entirely dependent upon the human element. In that regard I was greatly surprised and impressed by the fact that probably the Zionists will be able to secure very quickly ownership of over half the land in that country. Further, the land which can be secured is apparently typical of the region as a whole. "The one outstanding element in the human phase of the situation is the extraordinary morale which I found among the Zionists of all grades in Palestine. I was impressed with the exuberant spirit of fenthusiasm and sacrifice for a cause."

the Oregon mist that we have the Oregon berry, the Oregon prune and the Oregon cherry. It is because of the Oregon mist that the Oregon apple is juicier and richer of flavor than the apples of less favored regions. "Instead of hiding our heads in the sand for half the year and refusing to admit that there is such a thing in Oregon as rain, it behooves us to get on the hill-top and boast before all the world of the fortuitous combination of showers and sunshine that make Oregon the most promising fruit growing section in America."

In many instances an erroneous opinion exists as to the activities of the Red Cross. To many it is an organization set apart for the period of war or pestilence. Refuting this belief in a convincing manner is the record each month showing the work of the local chapter. Among the things done in November was hospital care given the mother of a fine baby. The woman is the mother of a large family, and lives in the country, so the friendly aid of the Red Cross at this time was much needed and appreciated. The ex-service men in the state hospital are kept in touch with by visits of cheer and friendly services are rendered them. Visits are made every week. Every day men and women come to the office for help in getting employment. These requests are given attention and every effort possible is made to get employment for them. Nurses are also listed at the office and calls for help in sickness are given careful attention.

Mrs. Zina Peters is Received at Penitentiary

Mrs. Zina Peters, who was sentenced at Corvallis for manslaughter, a charge to which she pleaded guilty, was received at the state penitentiary yesterday to begin a prison term of five years. She was brought to the state prison by the sheriff of Benton county. Mrs. Peters killed Frank Seltz at Toledo.

Mrs. Peters is the woman who was held in the Salem city jail for several months pending her appearance in court at Corvallis, because of lack of accommodations for women prisoners in the Benton county jail.

Two women prisoners are now in the state penitentiary.

Eugene Paper Thinks Name is Well Chosen

Regarding the adoption by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association of the trade name "Midland" for Oregon products, the Eugene Register is inclined to think the name well chosen. In a recent issue the Register says editorially: "We have no need to blush for the Oregon mist. It is a gift from the hand of nature whose manifold benefits deserve to be heralded abroad. It is because of
