LOCAL interest in musical circles is centering about the first concert of the Apollo club to be given in the armory next Tuesday. An interesting feature will be the initial appearance of Reverend H. N. Aldrich as director of the club. Mr. Aldrich who succeeds John Todd in his official capacity as director, has never before appeared before the Salem public, although he has wielded the baton in other cities previous to his residence in Salem and is acknowledged as an exceptionally capable leader.

Mrs. Gladys Gamble has returned from a several days' visit in Gaston as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Martin.

Miss Alma Voedisch, of New York City was a Salem visitor Tuesday, coming up in the interests of the International concert bureau, of which she is a representative. Miss Voedisch has looked Leopold Godowsky, pianist, and Miss Virginia Iloe, coloratura soprano, for an appearance at the Healy theater in Portland, Thursday, January 6.

While in Salem Miss Voedisch interested a number of persons in musical circles in another group of artists whom the concert bureau may send west this year.

At a quiet home wedding New Year's day, Miss Eva Butler became the bride of George Benjamin Bietz. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Hawthorne of the Summit church, took place in the presence of a coterie of friends at the home of the bride's father, J. E. Butler of the Popcorn district. The ring ceremony was used.

The parlor, where the wedding took place, was beautifully decorated, and the bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Flora Gries, Miss Jeanie Best was bridesmaid and Lester Lippert was best man.

The bride who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white georgette over white satin, trimmed in silver lace. She wore a long white veil and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Immediately after the wedding the young couple left on a brief honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home on a farm in the Popcorn district.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Freeman of Beaverton, were Salem visitors Monday. While here they were guests at the E. A. McElvain home on South Liberty street.

This evening in the church parlors, the members of the official board of the First Methodist church will enjoy a banquet. The wives of the members will be additional guests.

Glenn Gregg Buys Into Mistland Baker Concern

By a business deal closed yesterday Glenn Gregg, former Salem high school athlete and last year a prominent student at O. A. C. bought into the Mistland bakery, Chemeketa and Twelfth streets, as a partner to O. M. Franklin, who just recently opened the bakery.

It is the plan of the two men to handle both a wholesale and retail business. Mr. Franklin attending to the baking part and Mr. Gregg the selling. Both are experienced in the business, the latter having spent the summer on a bakery wagon for the Salem Baking company.

Mr. Gregg has found it necessary to abandon his college work at O. A. C. for the time because of trouble with his eyes. He stood a good chance of making the varsity basketball five had he been able to continue. He may return next year if his health permits.

GOOD YEAR IS REPORTED

Seventh Day Adventists Gain in Membership and Finances in Salem

The Seventh Day Adventist church, North Fifth street and Gaines avenue, held its annual meeting recently and elected officers for 1921. Besides a healthy growth in membership by baptism, by profession of faith and by letter, the church has surged ahead in its finances. With a membership standing of 165 January 1, 1920, funds have been turned in that eclipse everything previously in the church's history.

In the matter of titles from which the ministry of the denomination is supported there was turned in for the year $5941.62. For foreign missions the sum of $4878.53 was given. Of this sum $2474.53 represents the offerings of the Sabbath school, averaging over $45 for each Sabbath of the year. Seventh Day Adventists turn all their Sabbath school offerings to the cause of foreign missions and their local expenses are paid out of a special expense fund taken for that purpose.

Other offerings, including church expense and church day school amounted to $2152.15. The whole total of all funds raised for the year 1920 being $12,960.36.

January 1, 1920 the church set as its goal for missions the sum of 50 cents a week per member. The treasurer's report shows that 59 cents a week per member for the whole year was reached.

For the year 1921 the whole church membership in North America has set a goal for missions at 60 cents a week per member.

During the year just passed over 150 missionaries were sent from the home land into the foreign field, and 1921 is expected to be the biggest year in the history of missions. Scores of men and women are already under appointment of the general conference, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C., and in every academy, junior college, and college this denomination the various bands of young men and women receiving special training for the different fields for which they have volunteered, are larger than ever before.

The report rendered by the church clerk, Mrs. Iva Ashby, shows present membership at 198. A. C. Stiffler was re-elected treasurer, Evangelist A. R. Bell is pastor of the church.
