Evans, manager of the Oregon Growers Co-operative association, left yesterday for Hillsboro to attend the Washington county farm bureau meeting to be held there. He is scheduled to address the gathering.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST Don't mind the rain— You'll be crying for rain when your webs crack not many weeks hence. And the beautiful Mistland land must live up to its newly acquired handle and old reputation. Going to be something doing in corn and poultry this year of 1921 in these parts. The two Salem newspapers are going to run a corn show against a poultry show—and there will be some competition. The corn show will be the Journal's pet and the poultry show will be The Statesman's bird. There will be some crowing and some acknowledging of the corn in Salem journalistic circles when it is all over, you better bet. By the way, did you hear of the star boarder at the boarding house who complained because the chicken wing was tough—and who went so far as to aver and asseverate that he was sure that chicken was the chicken of a hard-boiled egg? A friends of the Bits for Breakfast man is telling what he regards as a new one to all who will stop, look and listen. He says it is a shame the way the Democrats were treated last November; that the Democrats cannot read; and it was a dirty Irish trick that no one told them there was an election.

"JACK" WANTS PAROLE LEAVENWORTH, Kas. Jan. 13.— Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, who is serving a year in the federal penitentiary here following conviction at Chicago on a charge of violating the Mann act, appeared before the parole board today and asked that he be paroled. HUG WINS Y. TOURNAMENT Hamilton and Young Lead in Handball Contest of Business Men

After a keen struggle of nearly a month Captain Hug of the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. last night scored a lead of one point over the aggregation under Captain Oelson. Oelson won the volley ball game but Hug retailed by winning the buff ball contest, thus making the class standing Hug, 109 points; Oelson, 108. Fast games are expected when the two teams meet again tonight. In the handball tournament many changes have been made as the result of the last week's play. Hamilton and Young for the first time captured the lead, but only with a percentage of .875. In last night's games Farrar and Johnson defeated Eyre and Franklin by the scores 21-20, 20-21, and 11-9; Gingrich and Smith defeated Elbert and Butler; and Farrar and Johnson defeated Anderson and Newmyer, 21-16, 21-15. Standings for the entire tournament are now as follows:

The intermediate class last week finished their first basketball league. These contests covered a period of one month. Finals for the league were: Beavers, won 5, lost 1, percent .833; Cougars, 3, 2, .600; Manitous, 2, 4, .333; Pirates, 1, 4, .200. The class begins a new league between the clubs next Monday, the schedule for which follows: Jan. 17—Beavers vs Manitous, Jan. 20—Cougars vs Pirates, Jan. 24—Beavers vs Cougars, Jan. 27—Manitous vs Pirates, Jan. 31—Manitous vs Cougars, Feb. 3—Beavers vs Pirates, Feb. 7—Beavers vs Manitous, Feb. 10—Cougars vs Pirates, Feb. 14—Beavers vs Cougars, Feb. 17—Manitous vs Pirates, Feb. 21—Manitous vs Cougars, Feb. 24—Beavers vs Pirates. Tonight the cadet class is planning a party for its members at the parlors of the First Christian church. A good time, consisting of games and entertainment, followed by refreshments is planned. All preparations were made by the Trojan club of that class.

BANKING FEES TO BE RAISED Senator Robertson of Condon Thinks Examinations Are Not Inadequate

About 40 state banks in Oregon last year are expected to only one examination each from the state banking department, although the law requires two. In many instances the department examiners gave only a day to bank examinations when two or more days should have been given. These are some of the facts back of a bill which will be introduced in the state senate by Senator O. B. Robertson of Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties to increase the fees paid into the department by the state banks so that a more efficient department may be maintained. Department Not Censured Senator Robertson does not censure the state banking department for the too hurried and too infrequent examinations made in the past. He concedes that to do otherwise was impossible for the reason that it was necessary to keep expenses within the fee limits. The state banking department is one of the self-sustaining state departments. While the legislature makes an appropriation for its use the department refunds the appropriation through fees turned into the state treasury. Senator Robertson avers that the present fees are not sufficient to take care of the requirements of the department and maintain enough help. His bill will provide for an increase in the fees from 75 to 100 per cent and require additional assistance in the department. Most of the bankers in the state, it is said, are in favor of the measure and perfectly willing to pay higher fees for examinations so that more time may be given them.

Time Cut Down Banks with $20,000 capitalization or under now pay fees of $17.50 for examination, and on this small amount Senator Robertson, a banker himself, says that more than one day cannot possibly be given to an examination. Banks having from $100,000 to $200,000 capitalization now pay fees of $50 and those having from $300,000 to $500,000 pay $100.

Training School Will Start January 17 The second semester of the community training school held at the Salem public library will open Monday night, January 17. Persons wishing to enroll may do so on Sunday afternoon at the meeting at the armory or on Monday night. The course for this semester includes the following numbers: "The Teacher," by Prof. James T. Matthews; "The Teaching Values of the Old Testament," by Rev. W. T. Milliken; "The Problems of the Christian Religion," by Rev. W. C. Kaptner; "Boyzology," by L. A. Pickett; "Administration of a Sunday School," by Dr. Bowman; and "The Standard of the Primary Department," by Miss Georgia Parker of Portland. Norman Johnson, general secretary of the Oregon Sunday School association, will also be one of the speakers in the administration department.

Harney Wants Water From Rock Creek The Harney Valley Improvement company of Portland has filed with Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, an application for a permit to appropriate water from Rock creek for the irrigation of 315 acres in Harney county. Other applications have been filed as follows: By H. D. E. Pine of Hood River, covering the appropriation of water from Ferguson Creek for the irrigation of a small tract in Hood River county. By Fannie D. Montgomery of Kerby, covering the appropriation of water from Eight Dollar springs for domestic use and the irrigation of a small tract in Josephine county. And by the Deer Creek Lumber company of Minam, covering the appropriation of water from Deer Creek and reservoir for log pond purposes.

Training School Defeats St. Joseph's The Oregon state training school basketball team played the Cardinals of St. Joseph last night in the training school gymnasium. Although the state boys were younger and lighter than the local team and one of the state guards was held in quarantine by the mumps the score stood, Training School, 21 to Cardinals, 15, at the end of the game. The training school team under the physical training director, Walter Clark, is developing a team which is equal to any team in its class by age and size. The line-up was as follows: Aldrich, Joe...q...Tartarini Barr...g...Weinberger Aldrich, John...f...Richardson Jaskoski...c...De Pinto Heenan...c...Brock
