

LANGDON CASE INVESTIGATED

Unprovoked Attack by Japanese Sentry Killed Naval Officer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Lieutenant W. H. Langdon, American naval officer shot and killed by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok January 8, was the victim of an unprovoked attack, dispatches to the state department today agreed.

The dispatches were based on statements elicited from the accused sentry, by the Japanese board of investigation and court of inquiry. The sentry's statements were described as agreeing with the ante-mortem story by Lieutenant Langdon, in that the sentry was the first to fire. The sentry who previously had maintained that the American officer fired first, also was reported as having told the court of inquiry that he had discharged his rifle by accident.

The dispatches to the navy department, filed by Admiral Gleaves, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, now enroute to Vladivostok, with an American naval court of inquiry, added that the sentry had been recommended for court martial by the Japanese authorities. While the dispatches were more complete than any previous ones and while officials expressed gratification that an agreement had been reached as to what happened no tendency displayed in official circles to relax the determination to investigate thoroughly and for that reason Admiral Gleaves will continue to await the Siberian port. State department officials also continued to await a reply to the note sent Japan requesting an explanation of the incident and assurances that it would not be repeated. The state department was informed that Langdon, who is described as "a total abstainer," was returning to his ship early on January 8, using a flashlight to pick his way along an ice-covered street. The sentry was on duty before the headquarters of the Japanese eleventh division.

EXCHANGE BILLS ARE CONSIDERED

Lack of Time May Postpone Consideration Until Next Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Several proponents of bills to regulate future exchanges which are now under consideration by the house agricultural committee said today they did not expect the enactment of such legislation at this session, principally because of lack of time. They added, however, that they expected the hearings now being held for result in a basis being laid for such legislation later. Two witnesses are yet to be heard before the hearings are closed. Herbert Hoover will appear Thursday and Clifford Thorne, representing the American farm bureau federation next Tuesday.

Today Julius H. Barnes, former head of the United States grain corporation, urged that the proposed regulatory measures be not enacted until a national market for investment of men familiar with the subject can be appointed to conduct an investigation. Exchanges are taking every means of eliminating the "manipulation" of markets, he declared.

When growers did not bear all the shrinkage in value of their crop last year, he asserted. It fell largely, he said, on the millers, merchants and dealers, 75 per cent of the crop, he added, being marketed at $46,000,000 over the prices received for the same proportion of the preceding year's production.

UNFAIR SCHOOL LAWS OPPOSED

Senator Ryan Introduces Remedial Educational Measure

To remove a present unfair provision of the school laws, a bill was yesterday introduced by Senator T. F. Ryan of Clackamas county which if passed will eliminate the condition whereby the entire cost of educating the high school pupils in districts where these pupils do not exceed 10 in number is borne by the county at large. The bill is said to have the backing of school leaders generally in the state. Senator Ryan's measure would make the apportionment equal for all high school students, regardless of the size of the high school.

Senator Ryan introduced another bill proposing a four-year term of office for county recorders and requiring them to furnish bonds.

Senator Ellis of Grant, Harney and Malheur introduced a bill increasing the pay of water masters from $4 to $6 a day for each day employed.

Another measure introduced by Senator Ellis relieves circuit judges the necessity of reading and explaining the criminal libel law to grand juries each time they are called into session. At present this is one portion of the instructions required of circuit judges. The senator also introduced another measure making the same provision relative to the prize fight law.

Another bill of Senator Ellis includes rosters among the assistants of county surveyors who are entitled to compensation and increased the daily wage of assistants from $2.50 to $5.

H. B. 55, by Gordon of Multnomah—Relating to recording of titles of motor vehicles.

H. B. 56, by Kay—Repealing section 2, chapter 59, Oregon Laws.

them in the penitentiary during the years to come. Cottage Plan Advised

Briefly I call your attention again to the fact that the cottage plan as now used in the impracticable, while we call the training school in poor in theory and deplorable in practice.

"If you deem my idea worthy of consideration, which I sincerely trust you may, I urge that the present plant be replaced by a plant consisting of cottages, the lines of the cottage plan for carrying these young transgressors.

"Give to them the environment of the home in which scores of them have never lived. Give them clean, wholesome, healthful surroundings where they will be implanted in their youthful breasts the seeds which will flower into strong and decent manhood.

"Surround them there with chances for vocational training fitted to their needs, training which will make them poverty by which will make them poverty when they enter the world. Surround them with a strong corp of teachers with which to develop their tendencies toward better citizenship. Fit them in properly segregated units under the discerning eyes of those who know their history and ancestry and are equipped to aid in working out their salvation in better manhood. One needs but to go among these boys, look into their faces, quiz them for moments, to find in the vast majority of them splendid material for the upbuilding of honest and self-reliant citizens.

"Purchase of land for a new site for the proposed structure will be necessary. We now have state lands available not far from the old school which will furnish one of the most beautiful and feasible sites available anywhere. Every dollar appropriated for the purpose by you will go into the construction of the institution itself and not a penny need be expended for land."

Dennis Would Cut Down Number of Printed Bills

Because "the cost of paper and printing is beyond any price ever before known in this state," Senator Dennis of Union county was constrained today to introduce a resolution limiting the quota of printed bills, memorial and resolutions in the senate. The limit fixed by the resolution is one copy to each member and officer of the senate and the house and one copy to each representative of the press, and it is provided that the remainder be distributed upon application only to citizens and organizations, and that the sergeant-at-arms keep a record of the persons to whom copies of any of the measures are delivered.

Persons requesting copies of measures would be required to sign the name of the person or concern for whom the measure is intended and also his own name.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 17.—Delegates to the 15th annual convention of the Ohio State association of builders' exchanges today were advised by F. G. Webber of New York, secretary of the National Building Trades employers' association, not to reduce wages.

"How to get these men to do a bigger day's work is your real problem," he said.

HOUSE INCREASE WILL BE FOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Lines were sharply drawn tonight for a fight tomorrow to defeat the re-apportionment bill, which would increase the membership of the house from 435 to 485.

After a final check-up, leaders announced that the measure as reported would be voted down decisively and that a substitute plan holding seats, as now, would be adopted by a big majority.

There seemed little sentiment for a larger house. Members from states which would lose representation declared they would vote against adding 48 representatives at a cost of $1,500,000 a year when there is a demand for governmental economy.

The Republican steering committee was reported solidly against the increase, as individuals. Under provisions of the bill, house leaders expect to be
