

WILLAMETTE LIFE REVIEWED

"Squeeze the Lemons" was the slogan painted upon a large sign displayed on the side of the Kappa Gamma Rho Fraternity house yesterday. It might be said that this sign attracted much attention from Salemites who happened to pass near Twelfth and Court streets within that time.

The sign is composed of cardinal and rose letters upon a white background and is one of many instances where the Willamette students are displaying their pep and enthusiasm over the past and prospective future record of Willamette in the present basketball season.

As might be implied from the slogan the University of Oregon is the direct object of attack. The occasion is two games which are scheduled to be played next Friday and Saturday night between Willamette University and the University of Oregon.

Glee Club. Willamette University Glee club made its second public appearance of the season last evening at Willamina. The concert was given under the auspices of the First M. E. church of that city, of which P. M. Bhenkinsop is pastor.

The concert was enjoyed by a full house. The club was well pleased with the proceeds and especially with the chicken dinner which was served them after the performance by the ladies of the church.

The glee club is soon to start on a three week tour of Washington. Before starting on the long tour however, they will appear at Dallas and Dayton.

Collection. The office of the Willamette Collection has just been completed and is situated in the basement of Waller hall.

Since the partial destruction of this hall by fire early last winter the Collection staff has had to do without an office; as the former office was located in this building.

Next Friday and Saturday BLIGH THEATRE

A room in the Statesman office, however, was given to them in which they were privileged to do the essential work. The completion of this office will be of great benefit not only to the circulation department but also to the editorial department for it has been announced that papers will be given out at the office directly after the first period on Wednesdays. If this is carried out, it will result in the students obtaining their papers three hours before the usual time of distribution as well as less complication in giving them out.

BOARD SEEKS EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY

Extending the authority of the board of child welfare commission and by the Oregon products exhibit at a later meeting. Mrs. Alexander Thompson, parent of the law which admits children of 5 years or younger to the state school for feeble-minded, for whom the new dormitory now being completed was provided, was asked to address the committee relative to the feasibility of repealing the law as far as it applies to children of this age, so that the building may be used for older feeble-minded girls, considered a real menace. Mrs. Thompson believes little objection would be made to the repeal if other provision could be made for the younger children. There is talk of a state building to be erected at the Louise Home at a cost of $25,000 to $30,000, but a vote of the people would be necessary to locate the building away from Salem.

Senators Bell, Eberhard and Kay were appointed as a special sub-committee to visit the state soldiers home at Roseburg.

One of the bills to be introduced in the senate in behalf of the state child welfare commission will give it authority in the extension of state aid to any institution caring for children. Under the proposed law such an institution makes application to the state board of health. The amendment provides that if the board of health finds that the institution meets sanitary and health requirements it shall give the welfare commission a certificate to that effect and join with the commission in extending state aid.

Another of the bills provides that when petitions for adoption of any child is made with the county court a proof of service of the petition shall be filed with the child welfare commission. The commission will then investigate to ascertain if the child is a fit subject for adoption and if the petitioners are suitable persons to adopt a child. The commission would then report to the court. A petition for adoption for the child should be filed in the proposed home not without written approval of the welfare commission.

Another amendment provides that when the ward of any institution is placed out in a private home the institution may receive compensation for the child the same as if it were still in the institution, provided vouchers are produced to show that an equal or greater amount is paid by the institution to the family caring for the child. This bill extends the jurisdiction of the commission to all child-caring institutions whether incorporated or not. Also it provides that no building for the care of children under the purview of this act shall be erected without written approval of the commission as to type and general architecture.

The object of the measures is to center authority relative to the care of children. The following bills were introduced in the senate yesterday: S. B. 110, Eberhard—amending sections 303 and 321, Oregon laws, relating to garnishments. S. B. 111, Ryan—Making it a misdemeanor to make false statements in writing to secure the delivery of personal property, the payment of cash, the making of a loan or credit, the extension of a credit, discount of accounts receivable, or the making acceptance, discount, sale or indorsement of a bill of exchange or promissory notes, and defining penalty. Deaf School Boys Pile Up Big Score

The Oregon state deaf school basketball five last night defeated the quintet from the Washington state school for the deaf on the gymnasium floor at the Y. M. C. A., the score being 28 to 4 in favor of the local boys. John Heath and Maurice Sanders, forwards; Walter Valiant, center and Chester LaFave and William Rickert, guards, were the men on the Oregon team.

Locomotive Engineers Back Bill by Hunter

A requirement that motor vehicle drivers shall stop within 50 feet of grade crossings over railroads before proceeding to cross, is embodied in a bill backed by the locomotive engineers of Oregon and which will be introduced in the house by Representative Hunter of Union county. The engineers take the position that some of the responsibility for the safety of motor vehicle drivers should be upon the drivers themselves. The measure will apply to all railway and interurban lines, but not to street car lines.

Bill on Stop Payment Orders on Banks Passed

Senator Joseph's bill designed to stop the abuse of stop-payment orders on banks was passed by the senate today. It limits such orders to 30 days and after that date, if desired, must be reduced. Senator Ellis' bills to relieve circuit courts from the necessity of instructing grand juries at every session relative to the prize fight and libel laws were passed. The measures are designed to save the time which, under present laws, must be devoted to such instructions even though the grand jury investigations may have nothing to do with offenses against those laws.
