

STATE OFFICES PRESENT NEEDS

Estimates of Institutions to Be Acted Upon First

One of the most prolonged meetings of the ways and means committee yet held this session was the meeting Thursday night, at which a number of state departments and state-aided institutions presented their needs. The committee voted to report against the passage of Senator Upton's bill to do away with the state emergency board, and Senator Upton will himself sign a minority report. He explained that he would not do this with the hope of having his bill acted upon favorably in the senate, but that he wants state officials and the people of the state to know that the expenditure of state money is being carefully watched and that there is a working sentiment in favor of greater conservation of finances.

The committee voted to recommend the passage of Senator Bell's bill to change the personnel of the emergency board so that all members will be selected from the ways and means committee, eliminating the governor, the secretary of state and the state treasurer. An amendment to define what constitutes a deficiency will be attached to the bill.

A bill by Senator Moser appropriating $6000 to certain institutions caring for unfortunates of various kinds, will be recommended for passage. A bill for the purpose was passed in 1919, but by error in drawing up the bill it failed to make the appropriation intended by the legislature.

The state engineer will be instructed by the committee to estimate the cost of improving the water supply at the state school for the feeble minded, and the state fire marshal to investigate fire hazards at all state institutions.

The policy of the ways and means committee, as announced last night, will be to pass on the estimates of the state institutions before those of other departments. The committee, if the approval of Speaker Bean and President Ritter is obtained, and the two houses do not object, may hold sessions next week to hurry the work that must be accomplished.

Mrs. Alexander Thompson and W. G. McLaren appeared before the board in behalf of the $6000 appropriation for delinquents.

John Mann, one of the Portland city commissioners, appeared in behalf of the Cedars, homes for unfortunate women in Portland. He asked the state to appropriate $2 per capita per day toward the support of the institutions, or in lieu of that to turn it over to the state outright. The plan, he said, is worth about $55,200. Senator Smith replied that the state doesn't want the institution unless Mr. Mann can be gotten with it. In the three years of its operation the Cedars has received about $8000 from the state.

Dr. C. J. Smith, chairman of the state board of health, appeared for that department which is asking an appropriation of $92,620. The bureau of nurses, a department of the board of health was represented by Mrs. S. O. Dunbar. This department asks $20,000 for the two years. A letter of endorsement was read from A. L. Mills, Portland financier.

George H. Himes presented the needs of the Oregon Historical society, estimated at $23,000 and E. J. Jaeger and Mrs. F. D. Swanton for the Oregon Humane society, which is asking $6000.

The committee is asked by the attorney general's office to appropriate $15,000 for completing litigation in land fraud cases, mainly in clearing up the state's title to swamp and other classes of lands. L. J. Liljquist, representing the attorney general's office, presented the request. The committee voted to ask the attorney general's office to draw up a bill providing that the litigation be financed from the irrevocable school fund.

R. L. Connor, district attorney for Yamhill county, addressed the committee on the bill to be introduced readjusting the salaries of district attorneys.

school praising the actions of Chief of Police Moffitt in his efforts to suppress crime, especially mentioning the arrest of several merchants for selling cigarettes to minors.

The letter was all right as far as it went, but it occurs to me that the actions of Judge Race should be mentioned, wherein he did not allow those two men to escape who insulted a lady at the Oregon Electric depot by forfeiting a nominal bail, but issued warrants for their re-arrest and had them brought before him and gave them good stiff fines and a reprimand, thereby making our fair city not only safe for democracy, but safe for women.
