Jason Lee Memorial Methodist
Corner Winter and Jefferson streets, Thomas Johnson, pastor. A full program of religious services will be held at this church today, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Charles Hageman will be in charge of the school and Mrs. Hageman in charge of the primary department. Our school is well organized with classes for all ages and cared for by capable teachers. We welcome strangers and visitors to our classes. Public worship will be held in the forenoon at 11 o'clock, subject, "Keeping Trust With God." There will be a sermonette for children and reception of new members. Junior league will hold its meeting at 3 p. m. Miss Grace Tyler in charge. Senior league at 6:30, Cori Shottwell is to lead the meeting. In the evening at 7:30, we will hold the second of our series of evangelistic meetings. This will be a very important service and we want a full house for the occasion. Bring your friends and neighbors with you, they will enjoy this service. A special speaker from the Y. M. C. A. convention will preach.

There will be special music by a chorus choir. Prayer and Bible study meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30. The meetings are of vital importance to Christians. Make your plans to be there. The attention of the men of the church is called to the men's mass meeting at the First Methodist church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We urge that every man bring a neighbor or friend with him. Dr. Irvin of New York will speak.

Presbyterian
Regular services at the Presbyterian church in charge of James Elvin. Sunday school at 9:45, Mr. Joseph H. Albert, superintendent. Morning church service at 11 o'clock. Speakers from the Y. M. C. A. convention are being held in the interest of the men of the community. The church joins in the program and desires that the men of the congregation attend in large numbers all the services of the day. Begin at the hour of the church school, 9:45. A Brotherhood class will interest, as will other features of the program. Dr. H. C. Epley is superintendent, assisted by competent teachers and by an unusually fine orchestra. The evening program will be of special interest because of the address by a representative of the Y. M. C. A. in the interest of the men. The public is cordially invited to this service. The music will be under the leadership of Miss Lena Belle Tartar. Carl Wenger at the organ. The young people will join other C. E. societies in a union meeting at the First Presbyterian church at 5:30.

Court Street Christian
Corner North Seventeenth and Court streets, Well, here is where you find the live bunch. A live Bible school superintendent and a live school back of him. Why the school is growing so fast we had to have more room so an addition is being added to the present building. Were you there last time? You can't afford to miss a single session. The superintendent asks you to come today and hear something. You be a booster for the school. Do you sing? Join our choir. Do you play an instrument? Join the orchestra. Special music at each session. Junior following communion service. Ruby Allen, superintendent. Sermon, "What We Owe God and How to Pay It." You ought to hear it. All the men and boys are urged to attend the mass meetings in the afternoon. The pastor will conduct service at the tuberculosis hospital at 5:30.

Facts About the Catholic Church

Rev. J. B. Buck

The Anti-Catholic Crusades in America

With the advent of the A. P. A.'s, all the old charges against Catholics were renewed. The movement took organized form. Lodges were spread throughout the country and Catholics were this time politically proscribed. However, the Catholics were too numerous now to permit of any such attacks as those of 30 or 50 years before. The ring leaders knew that Catholics would easily prove their worth, patriotism and loyalty, and discredit their maligners, and there is nothing so distasteful to a liar as to be proven wrong. No one dared to burn churches or to assault defenseless women or attack priests in person. So the campaign took the form of speeches, circulars, secret communications, newspaper attacks, etc. And despite all history of the past the movement obtained tremendous strength. The coming of the first papal delegate duly accredited to the United States hierarchy and priesthood of the Catholic church, Archbishop Satolli, added fresh fuel to the fire. This was alleged to be a move to make America a vassal of the Pope, in the language of the A. P. A. apostles. Catholics were defeated for office because of their Catholicity. A. P. A. mayors, governors and other officials removed Catholics wherever possible. The middle west was a hot-bed of the vicious anti-Catholic propaganda. The A. P. A.'s boasted that two U. S. senators, some 35 or more congressmen, and about 40 mayors of cities were members of the greatest anti-Catholic society since the days of the Know-Nothings. But in time the A. P. A. died because common sense prevailed and the wild, baseless rumors were found to be deliberate lies and the "American Protective association" proved a fiasco and a great religious peace seemed about to be inaugurated. This seemed all the more certain since Protestantism was falling to live up to its name. They were not protesting against the Catholic church as of yore. In fact, indifference was taking its place, and there was evidence of disintegration of various Protestant creeds. They were steering shy of the name "creed." Ministers were exchanging pulpits, a preacher who believed that baptism was necessary for salvation could preach something—if not his gospel, then something agreeable—in a church where the believers held that baptism was not necessary. The man who held that mere faith saved a believer's soul could preach in a church where the congregation had been taught that faith without works was useless. The general attitude would indicate that Protestants would care very little what Catholics believed. But suddenly a new anti-Catholic crusade appeared. And this time it was the "Guardians of Liberty." Always in the sacred name of Liberty do bigots strive to prevent the guaranteed liberties of Catholics.

N. B.—Just now we might watch with considerable interest the revived "Ku Klux Klan."—Adv.

OAKLAND Sensible Six

The Automobile buyer of today has learned how to make an intelligent selection of an automobile and when he makes a comparison of the different motor cars on the market there are a number of fundamental facts which are firmly fixed in his mind.
It must have ample power.
It must not be too heavy.
It must make good gasoline and tire mileage.
It must be easy riding.
It must be sold by a well established dealer to insure proper service.
The Oakland Sensible Six meets every requirement and it is the second largest selling Six in the Automobile Field. It more nearly meets the public idea of value than any other car on the market. You owe it to yourself to have an Oakland Demonstration before you buy your car.

PERFORMANCE COUNTS

Have You Worn Out a Motor Truck?

You Never Did a MACK

Nor do you know anybody who has. Think over the list of motor trucks with which you are familiar. You probably can recall a considerable number that have passed out of existence because they could not stand the grind of continuous service.

Do you think of any MACK truck in that list? Name them over and over again.

You never wore out a MACK truck yourself nor can you think of someone else who has.

We can cite to you MACK trucks that have been in continuous service for eight, ten and more years that still are on the job.

MACK Truck Life Is Not Measured by Years

Seemingly, they are like the stream that flows on forever. We know that the MACK is as nearly perfect a truck as can be built. Put one to work for yourself if you are looking for proof.
