"Making the Desert Bloom"—A two-reel film of special excellence and instructiveness at the First Congregational church this evening after address on "Transforming the Moral Desert." Good music by quartet and chorus. (Adv.)

Partition Suit Filed—H. M. Ingel has filed a complaint against Bertha D. Fell and others in a suit in partition with the county court.

"The Passion For Righteousness"—And "Transforming the Moral Desert" will be Dr. Kantner's sermon subjects today. Splendid music at each service. (Adv.)

Divorce Action Started—An action to secure a divorce on the grounds of desertion was instituted in the circuit court by Mary E. Buckbee against Perry Buckbee.

Police Get New Uniforms—The Salem policemen are now seen on the streets of the city resplendent in their new regulation uniforms. It is easy to spot the blue coats now. Somehow a policeman always looks bigger in the blue suit with the big-bright buttons on it.

Pigs Is Pigs—See Fred's trained pigs at the Bligh Today. (Adv.)

Court Convenes Monday—The February term of the court of equity will convene on Monday, in department No. 2, Judge George G. Bingham presiding.

Thinking Beyond the Job
The trouble with a great many men is that they don't think. They just think they think. Their minds are like a lazy dog that, when aroused, stretches itself, turns around once or twice and lies down again.

The ability to think clearly, to look forward beyond the present, is the greatest factor of success. That is the faculty that distinguishes the trained man.

Think lay your plans, and then follow them through. Let us tell you how we can help you train yourself for success. Write or call any time. Both day and night school.

BILLS TABLED CRACK RECORD

Total of Eighteen Set Aside, Some Never Again to See Light of Day

A condition prevails in the state senate that is believed without precedent in the history of Oregon legislatures. This is the large number of bills that has been tabled during the session and are still on the table. In all 18 bills are on the table, 17 senate bills and one house bill. Rarely has the number at any time exceeded three or four at any time during a session.

Some of these will never leave the table. Others have been deferred as special orders or until a more convenient time to handle them, mainly to await the presence of all the senators.

The senate bills lying on the table are:

S. B. 210, Hall—Relating to capital stock of trust companies.

S. B. 144, Thomas (by request) —To cancel all claims against the sheriff and clerk of Jackson county on account of failure of Bank of Jacksonville.

S. B. 142, Joseph—Creating a separate district to be known as the Port of Portland. Tabled to give right of way to bills now passed.

S. B. 198, Porter—To regulate the classification and sale of eggs and providing penalties for violation.

S. B. 16, Hume—Changing terms of circuit court in fourth judicial district.

S. B. 10, Hume—Abolishing departments of circuit court in Multnomah county for purposes of election.

S. B. 60, Eddy—Regulating dealers in sales of stocks and bonds.

S. B. 146, Staples—Making Saturday afternoons non-judicial periods in Multnomah county.

S. B. 19, Banks—To provide free school books to pupils in public schools under high school grades. Deferred until Monday to await presence of all members.

S. B. 71, Moser, Staples, Banks and Farrelly—Amending Port of Portland to legislate concerning internal affairs by ordinances.

S. B. 11, Hume—Prohibiting public school teachers from wearing garb indicating affiliation with any church or order.

S. B. 82, Hall—Relating to bank loans.

S. B. 224, Jones—To regulate trolling and use of purse seines.

S. B. 222, Norblad—To regulate troll fishing.

S. B. 221, Norblad—To prohibit the use of purse seines.

S. B. 58, Banks—Regulating the issuance of hunting licenses to persons under 14 years old.

S. B. 174, Smith—To regulate "lawless lawyers."

The house bill on the table is No. 98, by Fisher, regulating methods of determining the circulation of newspapers publishing county court proceedings.

Commission Asks Roads To Improve Their Signals

In a letter addressed to all railroad superintendents in the state, the public service commission calls their attention to the defective warning signals at grade crossings, reported in a number of instances.

It is said the signals sometimes fail to work, and consequently become a menace to the lives of persons who depend upon their supposed infallibility.

The commission asks cooperation of the railroad officials "in an effort to make more perfect the devices on which many people depend entirely for warning of approaching trains, reporting monthly all failures of all automatic warning devices; their locations, time of failure, duration of same, etc."
