

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

The reception in honor of Mrs. W. S. Kinney, the only woman to be represented in the 1921 session of the legislature, at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Thursday afternoon, given under the auspices of the Marion County Woman's Republican Study club, was a pronounced success, calling together about 75 women, several of whom were from out of town, and were in the city attending the legislature.

Forming a receiving line were Mrs. Bishop, president of the club, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. L. E. Bean, wife of Representative Bean and Mrs. F. B. Southwick. During the afternoon Mrs. Kinney addressed the assemblage on "Women and Citizenship," treating the subject in an able and interesting manner. Dr. Owens-Adair, of Astoria, who has the distinction of being the first graduate physician in Oregon also spoke entertainingly on the advancement in things pertaining to women that she had witnessed during the years that she has filled a professional position.

chandler to the four corners. Mrs. L. E. Bean and Mrs. Marie Flint presided at the urns, members of the club assisting with the serving.

Miss Margaret Rodgers went to Eugene Friday to attend the Kappa Alpha Theta formal dance, and be a guest at several other social affairs on the campus over the week-end. She will return home today.

The Junior Guild of St. Paul's church will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Durbin, 1417 Tuesday afternoon.

Aloha club members and feminine friends participated in their third dancing party this winter, given Thursday night, the affair being recorded as one more delightful date on the club's calendar. Spikes of Scotch broom used in quantities with palms made an effective base for additional decorations of cut flowers, in which a red color note predominated.

Music for dancing was furnished by Hunt's orchestra. Those in attendance were Misses Hazel Downing, Margaret Rodgers, Eliza Nolan, Marian Gabell, Constance King, Helen Deckerbach, Gertrude Hartman, Eunice Craig, Hallie Hinges, Winnifred London, of Vancouver, Helen King, Mania Victor, Isobel George, Luella Patton, Beatrice Walton, Johanna Wismer, Mary Carothers, Margaret White Sarah Potter, Rose Hirsch, Miss Huggins, Helene Seelye, Mildred Stringham, and Messrs. Fred Mangis, James Marr, James Marr, James Young, James Crawford, Carl Gabrielson, Larry Hofer, Paul Wallace, Otto Hartman, Albert Egan, Oliver Myers, George Nelson, Clifford Knickerbocker, Dwight Quisenberry, Fred Deckerbach, Claude Stensloff, Clarence Byrd, Andrew Vincent, William Harris, Allen Jones, Fred Brock, Earl McDonough, James McClelland, William Bradley, Charles Craig, Elvin Lantis, Mark Skiff, Bert Ford, Orley Leffingwell, Paul Farrington, Brazer Small and Homer Egan.

Mrs. John J. Roberts opened her home Friday afternoon on the occasion of a meeting of the Missionary society of the First Congregational church. Serving with her as hostesses were: Mrs. Henry E. Chase, Mrs. Richard Robertson, Mrs. Lillian Hartshorn and Mrs. Clifford Brown.

About 25 church women enjoyed a varied program which featured a talk by Mrs. S. S. East on "Church Community Life." Mrs. Robertson was heard in vocal numbers, and Mrs. William H. Bliss, a visitor in Salem from Worcester, Mass., contributed readings.

Mrs. Bruce Dennis, wife of Senator Bruce Dennis, has returned to her home in LaGrande after spending a week with her husband in Salem. She is spending a few days in Portland on the way.

Miss Elizabeth Levy will be honored by Miss Lena Belle Tarrar with an at home Monday evening at her studio. Guests will have the privilege of calling any time between the hours of 8 and 10 and many are looking forward to the pleasure of greeting Miss Levy for the first time since her return from Europe. The invitation list includes a large number of friends and associates of these prominent musicians. Attractive musical numbers will be given at intervals during the evening by some of the favorite soloists of the city.

Invitations have been received in Salem for the wedding of Miss Florian Linklater and Hallie R. Kibler, the event to take place Wednesday evening, February 16, in the First Baptist church in Portland.

Miss Linklater has a large acquaintance in Salem, gained during the time that she was an instructor in the department of history of the Salem high school. She is the daughter of Mrs. John Linklater of Portland.

Mrs. J. C. McLeod entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club this week, bidding as an additional

TO MY FATHER

By Edna L. Daily

A PINE tree stands against the sky, So strong, so dark, so green, In winter time; Storms do not mar as they pass by, It stands, a thing to please the eye, In winter time. Somehow, it makes me think of you. Who stand so firm for all that's true— Though eighty-two!

(Published in American Motherhood.)

guest Mrs. Raymond Walsh. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. B. McCullough, Mrs. E. A. Skelley assisted during the afternoon. Mrs. McCullough will be the next hostess for the club, entertaining at her new home on South Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bacon and small daughter Joyce of Portland are being entertained as week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. McElna at the Court apartments.

Miss Mildred McCauley of Portland was entertained as the mid-week guest of Mrs. Lloyd Farmer. The latter has with her over the week-end Miss Gladys Currey of Monmouth and Theron Hoover, a student at O. A. C.

Mrs. S. P. Kimball is entertaining as her home guests her sister, Mrs. H. C. McGowan and little granddaughter, Marion McGowan of Medford, who arrived last week and will remain for some time.

Mrs. C. I. Lewis and Mrs. E. T. Barnes were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon, entertaining the members of the Piety Hill club and Mrs. Eret Kay additionally, at the residence of Mrs. Lewis.

Daffodils, tulips and pussy-willow made an effective setting for the guests, who passed the hours informally.

Mrs. George Weller, (Doris Churchill) left Friday morning for Portland, where she is spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. James Elton.

An interesting meeting of the Modern Writer's section of the Salem Arts League was held at the residence of Mrs. F. D. Eason Thursday night. With a representative number of writers present, several original manuscripts were read that proved of especial merit and interest. "Poking up the Home Fires" was based on a post-war problem, and was the contribution of Mrs. Frank S. Barton. Miss Mabel Davenport read a story of College life entitled, "Dimples and the Bad Egg." Mrs. W. F. Fargo read "Empty Spaces," one of her character stories that appeared in the Christian Herald, February of last year. "White Arms," by Gertrude Robison Ross was a tragedy of Chinatown, with all the color and fascination of "Limehouse Nights."

Mrs. R. Monroe Gilbert and Mrs. Byron F. Brunk will entertain jointly when the section meets in a fortnight, the session to be held in the Gilbert studio.

Those present Thursday night were: Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. Frank S. Barton, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mrs. Gertrude Robison Ross, Mrs. J. M. Clifford, Mrs. R. Monroe Gilbert, Mrs. Byron F. Brunk, Miss Mabel Davenport, Miss Renka Swart, Miss Audred Bunch and Mrs. Eason.

"Six-in-Hope" is the rather mystifying name that a group of girls have given a club which they formed last week. Tuesday evening they were entertained by one of their number, Miss Florence Elgin, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Elgin, the hours being filled with needlework and music.

Members are, Miss Rita Claggett, Miss Hester Hilpot, Miss Maxine Abst, Miss Elsie Boyington, Miss Elsie Victor and Miss Florence Elgin.

Mrs. Susan Varty of Jacobian Designing parlors left Saturday for San Francisco to attend the fashion show which is being held there coming week. Mrs. Varty expects to return February 14.

Rev. Ward Willis Long, the newly appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church came on from Portland, to remain over the week end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Marcus.

Miss Helen Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, who is a student at the Oregon Agricultural college, was chosen as a member of the Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary commercial fraternity for women, last week.

The members of the Business and Professional Women's club will assemble in the peacock room of the Gray Belle Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when they will enjoy a dinner, Representative Kinney and Dr. Owens-Adair to be the speakers of the evening.

Friends of Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson are sending messages of sympathy to her at the Williamette sanitarium, where she is being cared for during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Settlemyer entertained with a supper Tuesday night at their country home "Lakebrook", covers being laid for 12. The affair was arranged for the pleasure of Mrs. Fred Fish of Bend, a former Salem resident. Mrs. Fish left Friday for Portland, where she will be the guest of friends for several days, later returning for a longer stay at the Settlemyer residence.

Mrs. D. H. Looney was in the city several days last week, coming from Jefferson to be with her husband, who is a member of the house of representatives.

Friends of Miss Laura Pratt, who is conducting an art studio in Portland, are expecting her to stop off in Salem on her way to her home, after a visit with relatives in Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Olson, left Wednesday for Marshfield, where they will take up their residence. Both are former Williamette university students, Mr. Olson being identified with the C. B. Clancey florist shop during the past three years.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Oswald West were last-of-the-week visitors in Salem, being entertained over their brief stay as the guests of Governor and Mrs. Olcott.

An event that is being most happily anticipated on next week's social program is the informal dancing party that the social club of the Order of the Eastern Star is giving to its members and friends, Saturday evening, February 12, in Moose hall. This is the first dancing party that this popular club has sponsored. Patronesses for the affair will be Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. Eugenia Gillingham, Mrs. Ralph Glover and Mrs. Paul H. Hauser.

Friends of Mrs. Walter L. McDougall were welcoming her during her brief visit in Salem during the midweek. Mrs. McDougall is stopping in Portland, coming up from her home in San Francisco.

Many of the wives of legislators visiting in the city during the past week are extending their sojourn over another seven days in order to attend the reception which the Thursday afternoon club is giving next Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. B. C. Miles on Court street. All feminine members of solon's families will be cordially welcomed on the occasion.

If all the writers that Salem has produced remain loyal to their home town, the time is not far distant when Oregon's capital city will be rather celebrated for something other than its wide streets and attractive homes. The fact that Emma-Lindsay Squier is a former Salem resident is forced upon us by an announcement that is featured in the February number of Good House-Keeping Magazine. Here is the way it reads: "Basil King said of a young woman whose story we shall publish next month, 'I think you will feel that her little accounts of her experiences in winning the hearts of wild things bear all the stamp of sincerity.' They bear more than that—the evidence of a comradeship with God's wild beings' that seems incredible. Why? Because we have lost so much of our sympathy for things in fur and feathers. You will long for its return when you read in the March issue Emma-Lindsay Squier's beautiful little story, 'The Wild Heart'—a story of the bridging of the gulf of terror which divides man from the wild animal. It has been beautifully illustrated by Paul Bransom. It will choke you with sympathy."

Miss Squier's sister, Edna Squier Seely, the latter, who knew about the story's acceptance on her last visit to Salem in the winter, stating that it was originally intended for the Cosmopolitan, but had been especially solicited by Good Housekeeping.

After an extended sojourn in Salem, during which time she has been resting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Belle Booth, Miss Georgiabelle Booth leaves next Thursday for Los Angeles from which place she will look out with the Orpheum circuit. Miss Booth is a gifted pianiste, whose work has been previously featured by the Orpheum circuit, which presented her in solos and as an accompanist in 1917. During that engagement Miss Booth traveled through Canada and as far east in the states as Chicago.

In celebration of the birthdays of a group of close women friends Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner entertained with an attractively appointed dinner Sunday night, the natal anniversaries falling on various days during the past week.

Potted primises in tones of lavender and pink formed a low mound in the center of the table, which was banked with greenery. Covers were laid for the following: Governor and Mrs. Ben W. Olcott, Dr. and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. George F. Rodgers and Dr. and Mrs. Steiner.

A red letter date on the winter's program of the Salem Arts League will be next Tuesday evening when an exhibition of the work of Oregon artists will be featured in the auditorium of the public library. The date is that scheduled for the February meeting of the league, the exhibit to take the place of the regular program.

Work of three Salem artists will be given particular place—that of Miss Theresa and Margareta Bahnsen, who are considered among the most talented students at the Portland art school, and Elmer Young, Salem graduate of the Chicago Art institute, now located in Chicago.

Combined with the pictures will be a remarkable showing of old pen and ink sketches and engravings, and etchings, which are the property of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCammon. Some of these works are from 100 to 150 years old, published in London as long ago as 1745 to 1795. In the group of engravings appear the names of Teniers, Charles Le Brun and many other distinguished artists of the period.

Several unusual brasses, from the Philippine Islands will also be shown. The public will be cordially welcomed on the occasion, the hours to be from 7:30 to 10:30.

Mrs. J. C. Evans was at home to members of the Rappaherian society Wednesday afternoon, bidding as additional guests Mrs. A. A. Schramm of Corvallis and Mrs. Prince Byrd.

Mrs. Ronald C. Glover and Mrs. Alpheus Gillette will be hostesses in a fortnight, entertaining at the residence of the former.

Hon. Jay Bowerman was a last-of-the-week visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. H. Bowerman. With his wife and young daughter Jayne, he will return again the first of the week, all to visit briefly with Mrs. Bowerman, Sr.

The latter is entertaining as her week-end guests her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Pierce, also of Portland.

Mrs. B. J. Miles is entertaining as her week-end guest Miss Margaret Hansen of Portland, who is a student at Monmouth college. Miss Hansen came to Salem with a group of students of the college, the object of their visit being the legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Schultz of Portland came up during the week to remain over the week-end with the latter's sister, Mrs. Charles S. Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Moores of Portland are other week-end visitors at the Weller home. They arrived Friday and were attendants in the evening at the formal reception at Waller Hall.

(Continued on page 3)

Do your letters get lost in your files?

WHEN you want an important letter quickly—can your file clerk always produce it? Hundreds of offices are discarding slow and complicated filing systems for the swift and utterly simple "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System. Hundreds of actual time tests throughout the country show that this system enables a file clerk of average intelligence to produce any piece of correspondence in ten seconds or less. Let our system service man demonstrate how this system can speed up your filing department and practically eliminate mistakes. Ask us for a copy of our new booklet—"Finding and Filing is Less than Ten Seconds."

COMMERCIAL BOOK STORE 163 North Commercial St.

No More Gussets Aunt Polly's Out Sizes Women's FIT LARGE ANKLES PERFECTLY THESE shoes contain every style shown in the season's smartest footwear. They make stout ankles stylishly slim and obviate the necessity for gussets, patches and similar makeshifts. We have Aunt Polly's in high heels, Cuban heels, pointed toes, comfort lasts and oxfords. We can give you style plus a perfect fit. Aunt Polly's have solved the shoe problem for stout women. At The Electric Sign "SHOES"

EVENTUALLY You Will Buy THE HOOVER SUCTION SWEEPER Why not get the best at first WM. GAHLSDORF, The Store of Housewares

Spring Brings Pretty Wool Plaids and Stripes The manufacturers have excelled themselves this year originating so many new and pretty colorings as are found in our new showing Price Range Is $2.95-$3.50-$3.65-$4.95 a yd. There is nothing so striking and smart looking as a pretty plaid or stripe for general utility wear. The showing is unusually alluring, affording ample opportunity for choice of colors and patterns. The materials are of a lovely quality serge, and we know you will like them. The widths are 52, 54 and 56 inches. NEW SPRING APPAREL IS ARRIVING DAILY We want you to come often and see the new things that come in by every express. Make this your store. Meet your friends here. We want you to feel that you are welcome to look around whether you buy or not. Mail Orders We pay postage or express on all mail orders Satisfaction Guaranteed or your money back 466 State Street Phone 877 back

THE HOME OF THE VICTROLA Our past experiences have convinced us positively that we can recommend and sell only—The Victrola See Us for RECORDS The Victor people have always procured the services of the really famous artists and we carry one of the most complete stocks in the city. W. W. Moore "More For Your Money at Moore's"