Facts About the Catholic Church Rev. J. R. Buck

The Anti-Catholic Crusades in America.

Anti-Catholic crusaders invarlably raise suspicions against the morals of Catholic people and especially the priests and sisters. But the common sense of the American people to give the lie to such attacks. The bogus or ex-priest and ex-sister comes around periodically to throw dirt, and perhaps a few of the less intelli-gent may elieve something of the tales they tell. Sometimes an investigation—an insult to Catholics—follows. But never yet have these investigators found aught to confirm in any way such stories. But the greatest bugaboo that these crusaders raise is the assertion that Catho-lics wish to gain political prestige so that they may elect the public officers and thus pave the way "to Make America Catholic." Of course this implies that the aCtholics will immediately commence to exterminate Protestants and others not of their faith. Awful wars are predicted, etc. During THOUGH mccerace in price, the SPECIAL-SIX Sedan is the president's tenure of office; great fear was expressed that bea quality car throughout, and its solidity of construccause Turnulty was employed as tion and abundance of power combine to make it a car the president's private secretary, the whole country would certainly be ruined. Tumulty, you know, is Catholic and when Cardinal Gibbons came out last fall and said he favored the league of na-Truly, it is the closed car de luxe--with rain-proof windshield, silver-faced jeweled 8-day clock, artistic cut-glass dome light, massive head-lights of unique design, automatic window regulators, silk roller curtains at windows, Cord tions, many thought that it was a signal for Catholics to abandon the Republican party entirely. But did it? Again and again Catholics have asserted that only in faith and morals is the Pope Mounted upon the Studebaker Special-Six chassis, with considered infallible, and only in strict matters of religion and religious belief is the Catholic bound to conform to the church.
Thus we saw over 35 per cent of the army and navy were our good Catholic boys going forth to fight for their beloved Uncle Same and against so-called Cataolic nations. Thus we saw good Catholic Dem-ocrats arrayed against good Catholic Republicans in the last election. What did it mean? That the Catholic church had failed? That chaos reigned within the ranks?

But is the Catholic church not anxious to exercise authority in civil affairs in these so-called Catholic countries? No. Emphatically no. The Catholic church is like her Master and tells the world again and again that her Kingdom is not of this world. And a division of church and state leaves the Catholic church free to appoint her own bishops and rulers in religious matters without being hampered by the state as has often been the case. But she must demand justice both But she must demand justice both to herself and her neighbors, and this she does as earnestly as possible. So personally, the writer would advise every Catholic to watch carefully the actions of our public officials and an aspirant to public office, and if he is found to be biased and inclined to be unjust, then use the ballot against him. Also watch the man who is just and not afraid to stand for honest convictions, and give him your support. And never vote for a Catholic who is not honest and just toward all. His being a Catholic in name, is not sufficient. He must be a Catholic in his ac-tions also. But when we find the right man, stand by him regardless of church affiliation. tinued for a time.) - (sdv.)
