FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF GOODRICH

"Best in the Long Run" is more than a phrase—it is a principle inseparably connected with the name of Goodrich. It typifies the ideal of service that governs the manufacture of every Goodrich product.

THE REAL MEANING OF "BEST IN THE LONG RUN"

THE MOTTO of Goodrich, from the very first day the company started—fifty years ago—was, "Let us make goods destined for service." The thought of service dominated the work of the organization, for it was rightly realized that only upon the service the products of the company rendered to their users could an enduring concern be built.

Eventually this principle was crystallized into the five words which are now so well and widely known as the Goodrich slogan—"Best in the Long Run." It is almost as old as the history of tires for it grew out of the performance of Goodrich Tires on bicycles. And it grew into the dependability of Goodrich rubber products of all kinds.

It is not just a catch phrase. It is a plain statement of fact. It is really a mirroring of the confidence placed in Goodrich products by their users. In five words it expresses the ideals, the policies, the principles of the institution. It means the "long run" of good faith and good will—the steady building up of confidence in the minds of customers—which is the greatest asset a manufacturer can have.

Quality and service—that is how Goodrich translates this slogan into terms of longest average wear, utmost dependability and known value in all that it produces. It must be "Best in the Long Run."
