Man Who Met Tragic Death In Chicago Had Salem Acquaintances

George J. Kuebler, president of the International Fire Insurance company, who was killed in Chicago Friday when he jumped or fell from his office in the tenth story of an office building, was known in Salem, having visited here a year ago last Christmas season with Prof. Della Crowder-Miller of Willamette university, and her son, Oyvind Crowder-Miller. While in the city Mr. Kuebler made the acquaintance of several local persons.

It was believed by a number of Mrs. Miller's friends in Salem that she and Mr. Kuebler were engaged to be married. Some friends, however, do not believe it was her intention to become married to him.

One news dispatch from Chicago yesterday refers to Mrs. Miller as the fiancée of Mr. Kuebler and quotes her as saying that he was hounded to death by his creditors. Kuebler was believed to be a man of considerable wealth.

Mrs. Miller resigned her professorship at Willamette last year prior to the closing of the college year and was succeeded by her son. Both are now believed to be in Chicago. Mrs. Miller expected to do literary and platform work and further to pursue her studies in Northwestern university.

COLE IS AGAIN WITH SENATORS

Manager Jack Hayes Signs Iron Man Who Performed Last Season

"King" Cole, big twirler who was a tower of strength in helping the Salem Senators through a successful season last year, will again be in a Salem uniform this season. This was announced yesterday by Manager Jack Hayes.

Hayes will have an exceedingly strong pitching staff, according to indications. He has made a discovery in a man named Osborne, who is with a local automobile house, said to be a pitcher of considerable reputation. Schroeder of the Coast league also is expected to be on the mound for Hayes.

Catcher Edwards, a new recruit orders and we must have your order before tractors will be shipped to us.

With your co-operation and assistance we can get tractors and we ask you to come in the store and we will tell you what Fordsons are doing for others. As a last appeal, we ask you to come in as soon as possible and sign up for a Fordson. Yours for power farming, Valley Motor company.

Willamette Sophomores Win in Song Contest

The class of '23 or the Sophomore class was the winner of the Willamette Freshmen Glee at the Armory last night, and adjudged to have submitted the best song. The song will be used as a college official song. The sophomore's won by the biggest margin in years, nine points being the difference between them and the next best. The words and the music were written by Bruce Putnam of Salem.

The senior class took second place with the song called "Bend the Knee," the words being by Maurice Lawson and the music by Loren Basler. The freshman class grabbed third place with the song "Cheer Willamette, Cheer," the words by Audred Bunch and the music by Byron Arnold. The junior class was fourth, with the song "Hall Willamette," the words being contributed by Emma Shanfelt and Lester Day, the music being written by Eva Roberts.

A Paying Investment

Investment in a business training pays dividends every day—in more congenial employment, better pay and the increased comfort and lessened anxiety that go with these.

No one can steal such a resource from you. No one can cheat you out of it. Once acquired, it's yours "for keeps."

You owe yourself such an investment. The amount of time and money required is small when compared to the actual dividends such a training will net you.

Let us talk this matter over with you. Write or call for information.

Dallas Business Man Marries Miss Duignan

DALLAS, Or., March 19.—(Special to The Statesman)—Wiley M. Gardner, a prominent young Dallas business man, and Miss Hazel Duignan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duignan of near this city, were united in marriage today at the home of the brides parents. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the relatives and a few friends of the contracting couple.

Mr. Gardner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gardner, prominent residents of the Bridgeport community west of Dallas. He is a World War veteran and saw service in France as a sergeant in charge of one of Uncle Sam's largest camps at St. Aignon where he had charge of feeding about 60,000 men daily.

Mrs. Gardner was formerly a resident of Dallas but for the past few years has been assistant cashier of the Bank of Falls City.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to Seaside after which they will return to Dallas and make their home in the Imperial apartments where the groom has furnished a cosy home.

Government Experts Study Methods Here

Three government experts who are making a tour of the west studying methods of dehydration and general fruit conditions were in the city Friday, callers at the office of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association.

David J. Price of Washington, D. C., says there is great interest everywhere in fruit problems, especially in the matter of dehydration. He is also engineer in charge of grain dust explosion investigations.

W. A. Noel, engineer of the division of dehydration, of Washington, D. C., also said the matter close attention by experts from the bureau of chemistry. Ray Powers, one of the investigators of the United States bureau of agriculture is devoting his time at present in dehydration experiments at Oregon Agricultural college.

Power Farming The Only Way

The progressive and modern farmer is now thinking of "Power Farming" said Walt Shipp, and when he is doing so there is but one answer—Fordson Farm tractors.

Ford products need no introduction to the motor public—they have stood the test for years and we have no apology to make for any Ford products. Consider what Mr. Ford has done. He has brought the price down to a price that no farmer can afford to be without a tractor.

Modern farming demands modern tools and with present labor conditions and high prices of hay and grain what farmer can afford to be without a tractor? Now is the time to get on the Fordson band wagon and place your order. Settle the question of high priced farming. Ask any Fordson owner what his Fordson has saved him in time and money and your problem is settled—every Fordson owner is a booster.

We know you are busy with your work; that you are not ready for a tractor for 20 days, but we must have your order in order to get tractors. Don't think because there has been a drop in price that it means a large supply. Such is not the case. The factory is now over 25,000 tractors behind in their
