By MOLLY BRUNK

If you were the wife or the day, which marked the last entertainment given on the Menely Lyceum course secured by the local lodgmen this winter. The singing of the songs was made consistent by the fragment of a story that was the warp upon which the woof of vocalism was woven.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

A Colonial party, with the participants garbed in quaint attire of that period was the second and concluding act, featuring exclusively songs of a by-gone day, which included: "My Old Kentucky Home," "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Dixie," "Annie Laurie," "The Last Rose of Summer," "Ben Bolt," and as a finale, "Home, Sweet Home."

A wedding of much interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Gretta Richmond to A. J. Dimse of Portland, which took place on Easter Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Richmond. Dr. W. C. Kantner read the lines in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends. The bride wore her traveling costume, a navy tulleur, with a smart spring chapeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimse left shortly after the ceremony for Portland, where they will take up their permanent residence, and where Mr. Dimse is general inspector for Swift & Company, Inc. formerly of Aberdeen, Wash.

Mrs. Dimse has been secretary for the Willamette Valley Packing Company for the past year, and previous to that served in a similar capacity to the secretary of the Salem Commercial club. She is a very interesting young woman and has many friends to regret that her marriage takes her from the city.

Adjutant - General and Mrs. George A. White and their daughter Dorothy went to Portland the last of the week, going down to attend the annual banquet of the United Spanish War Veterans, at which Colonel and Mrs. White were guests of honor. They were guests also at the large party which the James McCarrons gave later in the evening. Mrs. White remained over, returning home Tuesday.

Mrs. H. L. Parrish of Vancouver, Wash., and Prof. Hendrick of the Washington High School of Portland, stopped off in Salem on their way to Corvallis with returning O.A.C. students, the first of the week and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Waters, and upon their return to Portland were accompanied down by Mrs. Waters, who enjoyed a brief visit with her son Roderick, who is attending Washington High.

Mrs. Thomas Holman (Viola Vercler) left last night for San Francisco, where she will join Mr. Holman, who preceded her south several weeks ago. The latter has accepted a business position with the Standard Oil Company there, and with Mrs. Holman will take up a permanent residence in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Holman recently returned from the Orient, where they spent several years engaged in musical work. It was their intention to return this summer for a longer period, but upon arriving home decided to take a rest from processional musical activities.

During their stay in Salem Mr. and Mrs. Holman have been the guests of Mrs. Holman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vercler.

Mrs. Paul Stege went to Portland Tuesday, where she will spend the remainder of the week with friends.

Mrs. H. V. Matthews left the last of the week for Portland, where she will pass a fortnight, with friends, before going on to her home in Warsaw, N. Y. A former Salem resident, Mrs. Matthews found many old-time friends to welcome her during her three weeks' visit here as the house guest of Miss Mattie Beatty.

A motor party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard and Carl Abrams went to Portland Sunday to attend the annual banquet of the United Spanish War Veterans, which was held in the Hotel Benson that evening, and was largely attended by guests from all over the state.

The Salem folk remained over to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James McCarron, who were giving a large party following the banquet, and who also claimed them as over-Sunday guests.

Mrs. William B. Mott returned home Wednesday from Portland where she went to spend Easter and several days following with relatives and friends.

Prof. and Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, who went south some time ago for the benefit of the latter's health, write to friends here that they will return to Salem the eleventh of April. They are at present enjoying a sojourn at Long Beach, Calif.

An interesting wedding of the Easter week-end, was that of Miss Helene Seeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Seeley, and Earl McDonough, which took place Friday at the home of the bride's parents. Only relatives were in attendance. Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick, of the First Methodist church, read the service.

The young folk left immediately following the ceremony for Portland, where they will take up their permanent residence. Mr. McDonough's business as a firm head of Bach & McDonough taking them to that place. Both have a wide circle of friends. The bride is a February graduate of the Salem High school, Mr. McDonough being a former O.A.C. man.

Mrs. George Kaiser of Portland, who has been the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Eugene Eckert, Sr., for several weeks, is returning to her home in Portland this week, being joined by Mr. Kaiser, who is stopping off briefly on his way home from a trip to California.

The 16 members of the T.L.T.C. club of the Rebekah lodge, under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Waters, have been asked to furnish musical numbers at the district convention of the I. O. O. F. lodge which will be held in Hubbard on the ninth of April.

Two weeks from that date the Rebekahs will hold a similar convention in Canby, which will include about a dozen lodges from this district.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Shaver have returned from a brief visit in Newberg, where they went the first of the week.

Members of the Tillamook club enjoyed a regular dancing party in Moose Hall Tuesday night, which was quite informal and enjoyed by members exclusively.

Members of the Yeoman lodge and a few of their friends will participate in a masquerade dance in their hall Saturday night. Last Saturday night members enjoyed a few hours of dancing, the evening culminating with an Easter supper, with appropriate favors for the 40 members present.

Miss Genevieve Campbell and Miss Lorena Geor spent the Easter week-end in Portland, being the guests while there of Miss Campbell's mother, Mrs. Frances Campbell.

Miss Minnie Culbertson of Long Beach, Calif., will leave for her home this week, after spending a fortnight in Salem as the guest of Mrs. H. St. Helens.

The Thimble club of the Woodmen of the World will hold a session in McCormack hall Friday night.

The Pythian ladies entertained the Sir Knights and additional guests at a card party in McCormack hall Tuesday night. Eleven tables were arranged for progressive "500" prizes being awarded to Mrs. P. E. Ackerman, Mrs. H. St. Helens, George W. Skeels and Roy Campbell. A silver offering was taken, the money to be used to purchase new lodge paraphernalia.

David Lloyd George has faced so many crises that it must be an old story with him by now. It is simply one crisis after another in England these days.

DICKY SURPRISES EVEN MADGE

What did Dicky mean to do about the Bayview festivities?

This was the question that hovered above me as I might a pestilent mosquito during my toilet of the morning following my unfortunate attempt to write Dicky's speech. I tubbed and dressed and arranged my hair to the annoying accompaniment of its buzzing. And when finally, attired in my new suit, and with even my new hat adjusted to the correct angle, I descended the stairs, I felt my knees trembling, so nervously uncertain was I of Dicky's intentions. But Dicky is always full of surprises, and it was a most unexpected angle of behavior which I met as I entered the dining room. He sprang up, pretended to stagger, and put his hands to his eyes as if overcome by my sartorial splendor.

"My word!" he exclaimed with one of the mannerisms brought back from the other side. "Just cast your eyes upon this vision. Will you?" He turned with hand outspread toward my father and his mother, already seated at the breakfast table. "Don't know whether we ought to turn her loose on an unsuspecting world, do you, dad?"

My father's eyes twinkled. "Perhaps you'd better tag her before she leaves," he said, smiling lovingly at me.

My mother-in-law stiffened as she always does when Dicky praises my appearance. This attitude of hers used to grieve and irritate me, but I realize now only that it is distinctly subconscious on her part, but that in her heart she is as proud of my presenting a good appearance as Dicky. But she would die before she would admit it.

"Struck Twelve on That Rig."

"May I remind you that the cereal is getting cold?" she said icily. "Margaret is late now," her tone expressed the belief that I had purposely tarried upstairs. "We did not wait for you," she went on, to me, "for, as you know, I am always faint until I get my morning coffee."

"Of course," I said placatingly, slipping out of the coat and into the chair which I had taken for me with exaggerated courtesy. My mental thermometer had leaped from sub-normal to a fever record at my husband's unexpected friendliness. Yet there was a glint of mockery in his eyes which made me uneasy, as I think, perhaps, he intended it to do.

"You sure struck twelve on that rig, old girl," he said as I settled to my grapefruit. "It suits your type exactly. Lil went with you, didn't she? I thought I detected her fine Italian hand."

"She has wonderful judgment," I acquiesced heartily, but I could not help flushing at the implication that I would have been unable to select so modish a costume without Lillian's help. The mocking glint in Dicky's eyes deepened. I realized that for some reason or other he was deliberately teasing me, and I resolved that he should not have the satisfaction of know-

ALL WOMEN OF U. S.

Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, the wife of George Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, is seeking the aid of American women to help the starving children of Armenia. She said that America is the only hope of the people who were cut down by the war.

Prohibition Becomes Vital Issue in Ulster

BELFAST, March 26.—Prohibition has become a vital issue in Ulster. The big Protestant element of the population is taking a lively interest in the campaign against drink. As in Scotland, the efforts of the "drys" appear to be directed toward securing local option.

There is little doubt that the unionist members of the new parliament will be sharply divided on this issue.

Argentina Outlaws Indecent Clothing

BUENOS AIRES, March 26.—Bare arms and low-necked dresses have been outlawed by the ecclesiastic governor of Argentina. A notice has been posted in the doorways of all the Catholic churches reading:

"After Sunday, March 27, no priest for any reason will be permitted to administer holy communion to any married woman, girl or child who approaches the altar without having completely covered the breast, shoulders and arms with material that is not transparent."
