

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

Interesting out-of-town visitors and the beauty of the appointments marked the first meeting in April of chapter "G" of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, which took place Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. B. J. Miles.

Mrs. Lena O'Dell, state organizer, and Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the State Tuberculosis association, were present, the former speaking on the work of the organization and coaching local members on the demonstration work that is to be put on at the state convention to be held this year in Woodburn in May.

Mrs. Dunbar spoke in behalf of the county health nurse, and complimented chapter "G" on the efficient help that had been given Miss Lillian Godsey, health nurse for Marion county, in the furnishing of towels, bedding and other articles to be used among the poor.

At the tea hour Mrs. Miles was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Will A. Knight of Portland; Mrs. Laura Grant and Mrs. E. J. Huffman. The serving table was beautiful with its central decorative motif of daffodils and greenery in an art basket, with tall yellow tapers in brass sticks on the four corners. The menu also bore out this color note. Daffodils were used in available places throughout the rooms.

Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding will open her spacious home to the members of the Thursday Afternoon club, Thursday afternoon of the coming week.

Mrs. Wesley Williams of Sacramento, Cal., who is visiting here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Fowler, at Rosedale, has been spending several days in Salem as the guest of Miss Jessie Miller and Miss Loretta Davis. She plans to return to California next week.

Miss Will A. Knight of Portland came up during the week to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles. Mr. and Mrs. Miles recently returned from an extended eastern visit, spending much time in New York.

Mrs. F. H. Howarth and daughter Lois of Seattle arrived yesterday and will remain for a week as the house guest of Mrs. Ralph Jacobs.

The Valley View club will be entertained at its next session Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Mrs. O. P. Hoff went to Portland yesterday, where she will spend the week-end with friends.

Mrs. Floyd Putnam and two children David and Shirley of Brownsville, arrived Friday and will remain throughout next week as the guests of Mrs. Putnam's sister, Mrs. Walter Kirk. They were accompanied to Salem by another sister, Miss Florence Howe, who will re-enter Willamette university after spending the spring vacation with her parents in Brownsville.

Miss Marie Churchill is spending the week-end in Portland, where she is being entertained as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Elton.

Mrs. Grace Stevens of Portland arrived yesterday and is spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Frederick S. Stewart.

Miss Eulalia Lindsay went to Corvallis the last of the week to remain until Tuesday as the guest of members of the Chi Omega society.

Members of the Illahee Country club will motor out to Finzer in five numbers today to witness the first tournament of the season, when Salem plays a return match with Astoria. A group of picked players arrived from that place yesterday and it is expected that the game will be close and unusually interesting.

Miss Jean DeWitt went to Portland yesterday where she will spend the week-end with her sisters, Mrs. Fred Gerber and Miss Lucile DeWitt.

Dr. Mary Rowland and her daughter, Miss Nellie Rowland, motored to Lebanon last night to spend the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. C. H. Barrett.

Announcements are being received in Salem this week of the marriage of Miss Martha Gillett to Bruce D. Enaley, at Prineville last Saturday, April 2. The bride is a graduate of the February class, '17, Salem high school, and a daughter of H. H. Gillett, formerly teacher of agriculture at Chemawa, now principal of the central junior high school of Albany. She has been working on the editorial staff of the Crook County Journal at Prineville for the last year. The bridegroom is the son of Charles Enaley, well-known rancher of Lebanon. Mr. and Mrs. Enaley will make their home at Prineville for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Masters and their daughter, Vivian, motored to Roseburg Thursday, being accompanied by Miss Katherine Diddel of Riddle. The two latter are college friends at O. A. C. The party will return to Salem tonight.

A delightful affair of Friday was the afternoon which Mrs. W. H. Steualloff gave for the pleasure of the East Side members of the Presbyterian church, the event being planned as a "get-acquainted" party. In this respect it was eminently successful, about 35 participating in the enjoyable, informal entertainment furnished.

The house was a bower of spring flowers for the occasion, daffodils and branches of cherry blossom being the principal note. At the tea hour Mrs. H. J. Clement cut the ices and Mrs. J. C. Griffith presided at the coffee urn.

Mrs. T. W. Davies and her daughter, Miss Esther Davies, went to Portland yesterday to remain until the mid-week as the guests of friends. They will also be entertained in Oregon City before their return home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. White will be hosts tomorrow night, entertaining with a community dinner. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. James Teed of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kaerth, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McElvain, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell and Asel Eoff.

Mrs. R. L. White closed her adult dancing classes in Silverton Thursday night, with a large formal dance. A pretty incident of the occasion was the presentation of handsome corsage bouquets to Mrs. White and her assistants, Mrs. Horace Sykes and Miss Valeria Briggs.

Following the affair the three were also guests of honor at a beautifully appointed supper which was given at the Charles Reynolds home, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. George Steelhammer serving jointly as hosts. Additional guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Keene, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Risteigen, Mrs. Reynolds, Sr., and Jack Hyat.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Busselle entertained as their guests Thursday, a group of motorists who were enjoying the beauties of the Willamette valley. In the group were Mrs. D. C. Burns of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. William Sneed of Winnipeg, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Gillingham of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Yates of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Jones of British Columbia. The Canadian people and those from Michigan (the latter heavily interested in the lumber industry) were delighted with this section of the country, and resolved at some future date to take up a residence here.

Over 200 local folk responded to the invitation of the women of the First Congregational church Friday evening to attend the first of their famous chicken-pie suppers since the war. This was a record attendance, and according to one guest, who had never missed a similar affair at this church, one of the most perfectly appointed and carried out of the many that have been given.

The eight tables were under the supervision of as many women of the church, who lent a personal touch to each through the attractive decorations. Spring's loveliest blooms had been utilized, yellow and white predominating. The eight hostesses were Mrs. Frederick S. Stewart, Mrs. H. S. Poinah, Mrs. Earl Paulsen, Mrs. Donnell, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. L. R. Burdette and Mrs. Raymond Walsh.

The committee in charge of the dinner was headed by Mrs. W. C. Kantner, Mrs. W. H. Bross, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr., Mrs. John Bayne, Miss Chaffor, Mrs. Abbe Farrar and Mrs. C. H. Long.

At a business session of the Salem Woman's club yesterday afternoon, the following delegates were named to attend the county Federation of Women's clubs, which will be held in Jefferson April 21: Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, Mrs. L. T. Harris and Mrs. Z. J. Riggs.

Delegates to the state convention in Prineville will be named at the next meeting. Nominations for office was continued, and members were urged to remember Humane week, which begins tomorrow. A tea and social hour culminated the afternoon.

Children's dancing classes of Mrs. R. L. White in Silverton will close their year's activities with a large May party, which will be a formal, invitational affair, and will be held at the Silverton opera house. A large group of city and Salem children will assist on the occasion and many local folk will motor over to be guests.

The first of a series of studio recitals was given Friday night by Miss Minetta Magers who presented several gifted vocalists in a short program of unusual merit. All the singers, with the exception of M. Alice Schaller, were appearing for the first time. Outstanding qualities were the well-placed voices, good style and stage presence. Miss Schaller's voice is particularly beautiful, a coloratura soprano of unusual range. She was given an audience by Charles W. Clark, when he was in Portland recently, and he pronounced her voice excellent and her training of the first rank.

Miss Trista Wenger, a contralto with deep, full tones, was a surprise to all by the ease with which she sang and the fineness of her voice. Miss Rita Ried is a soprano of the lyric type, who gave a pretty double number. Two young men were presented—Archie Holt, a lyric tenor, whose voice is of fine quality on high tones, and Leon Jennison, a high baritone, who did excellent work, and whose voice is well known through his solo work at the Christian Science and Episcopal churches.

Assisting in piano numbers were Miss Ruth Bedford and Miss Gretchen Brown, both regular accompanists of Miss Magers' studio. Their solos were most artistic, and Miss Bedford, who has been studio accompanist for Miss Magers for four years, lent the most efficient support as accompanist for all the vocal numbers. An unexpected incident of the recital, and one that revealed Miss Bedford's musical gift, was her being called on to play from memory the difficult accompaniment to the coloratura song, "Lo, Here the Gentle Lark." Both pianists are pupils of Miss Beatrice Shelton.

The program follows: Lassie O'Mine ..... Walt A Little Bit o' Honey ..... Bond Trista Wenger ..... Arr. Grainger Country Gears ..... Arr. Brown Miss Gretchen Brown ..... Good Night, Sweet Dreams ..... Bischoff Happy Song ..... Del Riego Rita Ried ..... Bond The Hand of You ..... Bond Sequidilla ..... Albering Allegretta Scherzando ..... Miss Ruth Bedford The Rainbow ..... Voorhis Lo, Here the Gentle Lark ..... M. Alice Schaller The Last Call ..... Sanderson All For You ..... Rutherford Ma Little Banjo ..... Leon Jennison

The auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans will meet at the home of Mrs. A. T. Woolpert, 1197 South High street, Thursday afternoon, April 14.

The younger pupils of Mrs. R. L. White's local dancing classes will participate in their annual May party, Saturday afternoon, April 30, in Moose hall, the affair to close activities for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Teed of Portland are spending several days in Salem as the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano.

The Marion County Woman's Republican Study club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the law offices of Heitzel & Gehlert in the Ladd & Bush bank building. Business of importance, including the election of officers, will come before the club, and it is urged that every member be present.

A much appreciated visitor in Salem this week has been Mrs. Grover Long, now of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Salem, who is being entertained as the house guest of Mrs. John C. Evans. A number of small affairs have already marked her stay.

Mrs. Lola Helman will come from Portland Tuesday and with members of the Salem Business and Professional Woman's club

ALL SOULS DAY

By C. V. Barton

MARCH fifteenth Is Nature's All Souls Day In Oregon; the day When all the dried trees stir And shrubs stretch up Expanding their fragrant souls, "Resping out" From the rough bark And hard twigs To glimpse returning spring Their liberator. Willow prisons have long since Opened their doors And freed their captives; The last peach blossoms, Timid souls, Are winning forth To wind and sunshine And all the apple-blooms Everywhere Show themselves Veiled in probationary Green and white. Souls of the faint cherry And ruffly plum trees Are fully emancipated From hard, material prisons But the oaks—poor things— Have withered souls, Too old to rush forth For the spring. They wait grimly For summer.

will go out to the Girls' Industrial school, where she will speak. Machines carrying members will leave Dr. Mary Rowland's office at 7:30 o'clock, all desiring to go out being requested to previously notify Dr. Rowland.

Miss Marie Marshall is spending the week-end in Portland, where she is the guest of friends.

Mrs. A. E. Huestein, Jr., was a hostess Wednesday afternoon, entertaining members of the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters at a Kensington. Luncheon rounded out the hours, with the table done in Easter decorative material.

News comes of the marriage of Miss Helen Long of Albany and Paul Pierce of Salem which took place in Albany April 5. Both young folk are graduates of the Salem high school, the bridegroom of the class of 1917.

Mrs. A. D. Lyons left Saturday for Portland to spend a few days with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Lobb, of Irvington.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fry motored over to Neskonong Thursday, and will remain until the mid-week at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Legge and their daughter, Miss Margaret Legge will motor to Portland tomorrow, going down to hear Tetrazzini in concert at the public auditorium.

Some were in rags, some in tags and some in velvet gowns, (but the velvet gowns were antiquated) at the "hard times" party which Mrs. R. L. White and her Wednesday night dancing class gave Wednesday night in Moose hall for the pleasure of members of the Tillicum club. About 60 couples were in attendance enjoying one of the merriest dancing parties of the year on the occasion.

The two cleverest costumes were worn by Mrs. William Cravat, who was a quaint, old-fashioned figure in her gown of a by-gone period, and Lester Davis, who impersonated a flapper in black curls and black and white frock.

During the evening guests enjoyed vocal numbers by Mrs. James Teed of Portland, and later for refreshments they were served ginger snaps and pink lemonade.

Every member of the Amiens club was present Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. J. H. Garsjober entertained on the date of a regular meeting. The usual Kensington was enjoyed with the guests surrounded by a charming background of flowers. Red carnations in tall vases with potted fern were utilized in decorating. At the tea hour Mrs. Garsjober was assisted by Mrs. William Cravat and Mrs. L. N. Simon.
