AN INDIANA SILO

Pays for itself each time it is filled. This is a strong statement, but owners present figures which are convincing.

Winter 1919-20 fed 20 head of young steers the following ration:
Amount and cost of feed per day
15 lbs. alfalfa hay $.12
7 lbs. ground barley .24
Total cost per day .36
Cost per month $12.00
Winter of 1920-21 cost of feed figured on 1919-20 prices:
18 lbs. alfalfa hay $.18
5.4 lbs. ground barley .03
5 lbs. sunflower silage .03
Total cost per day .24
Cost per month $ 7.20

Saving per month on silage ration $4.80 per head and on 20 head for a five-month feeding period $480.00. This stockman paid $384.00 for his silo and in 5 months time not only paid for his silo but showed a gain of $96.00.

SALEM IS THE DEHYDRATION CENTER OF THE WORLD

Do you realize what that means? It means that there is a market, and a growing market for every vegetable and fruit that can be raised on the land in this territory.

And that means more than is apparent to the stranger at first glance; for a greater variety of fruits and vegetables can be successfully grown here than in any other part of this country or the world.

Dehydration is the greatest thing in the world, in food conservation.

It takes out the water; the consumer puts it back, at any time in the future, anywhere under the shining sun—and then he has the fruit or the vegetable as good as fresh, in every nutritive quality, and in every other way.

The saving will be billions, annually. And all the money comes to Salem excepting what is expended for the nails in the shipping boxes.

Better than a gold mine; for it will never "pinch out."

There Must Be More Legumes in Salem District

The farmers of the Salem district must raise more and more of the legumes. There is nothing else "just as good;" nothing else that will do; nothing else that can take nitrates out of the air and leave them in the soil for its renovation— Nothing else that can furnish the necessary late summer bee pasture to maintain the little workers that are absolutely necessary for the pollination of the fruit blossoms to make certain the production of fruit crops. The farmers must get it into their noodles that the nodules are invaluable. All the well known legumes do well here— But the big thing, for both cow feed and for bee pasture, is the Bokhara or Sweet or Honey or White clover. No farmer with fruit or with cows should think of overlooking Sweet clover. Nature will do much; but the wise man will assist nature where its laws fall short in performing the proper uses for his purposes. More legumes mean more life; the legumes cannot be overdone. Asparagus is the Salem slogan subject next week.

DID YOU KNOW that Salem is the center of a district in which the legumes do wonderfully well; that no country can grow better red or sweet clover, or better vetches or field peas; that alfalfa does well here on certain soils; that the orchardist may grow here the finest of cover crops in legumes; that the dairyman may grow the best legumes for his uses; that the bee keeper may raise sweet clover for bee pasture to his heart's content—that, in short, the farmer of this district now has the knowledge in his noodle of the great value of the nodules on the rootlets of the legumes; and that he must use this knowledge?
