CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13. The task of editing a local news paper here is exactly four times more difficult than in an American city for here there are Turkish, British, French and Italian paper there after the censors have finished with it sometimes bears little resemblance to what the editor intended.

Here are gathered some 2n nationalities, and each requires an organ. The Greeks have seven newspapers in their own language. and one printed in French; the Armenians have four in their own language and one in French; the Turks have nine dalies, in their own language; the Jews have one in French and two dailies in Spanish; the French have one in their language, the commonly spoken and written language of the Levant; and they also pay subsidies to several others. The British have one-The Orient News. The Arabs have their organ. So do the Persians. Likewise the Russians, anti and pro Bolshevik. Strange peopAles fro mother lands have their little sheets. The Americans prine a magazine of business and a weekly, the Far Seas, printed by the United States navy. The Italians used to have their organ, and soon will have it again. The Greek Patriarch has his. There is also in French the weekly bulletin of the Vatican's Apostolic Vicar. It is an easy matter to print a paper in English or French. However, consider that the Jewish pawas brought into play here today per cent of the male population by the Belmont development combut in the Spanish language, also pany and the Tonopah Mining that the Turkish language requires four kinds of type and has 90 letters to its alphabet.
