STATE MEETING HERE SATURDAY
Delegates of Foreign War Veterans to Effect Temporary Organization
The Veterans of Foreign Wars at their regular meeting in the armory last night installed the permanent officers for the balance of the year, elected additional delegates to the department encampment and served a big feed to the 50 members present.
The preliminary meeting of the state delegates to the department of Oregon has been called to gather in the armory at Salem next Saturday at 10:30 a. m., when the temporary organization of a state department will be held.
Delegates to this meeting will attend from Portland, Eugene, Lebanon, Corvallis and Salem, all of which towns now have active posts.
The first regular department encampment will be held in Portland on May 9 and 10, when National Commander Woodside will attend.
The delegates from Marion post of Salem, including those elected last night, are: Commanders C. F. Hagerman, Carl Abrams, H. O. Miller, Bryan Conley, L. J. Page and Bolton Hamble.
The delegates held a caucus last night and decided that they would support the candidate of Over-the-Top post of Portland for department commander, provided that post is harmoniously behind its candidate, but if factions appear with several Portland candidates, as now seems likely, the Salem delegates may put forward a candidate for the honor of first department commander of Oregon.
The Salem men are going to ask for senior vice commander for Salem and decided unanimously to support Bolton Hamble for the position.

The oil companies in submitting their tax statements to the secretary of state show the amount of tax paid by them under each law. Under the 1919 law the several
