Eleanor Hank Takes First Place in Inter-Class Contest at High School

The senior class of the high school last night captured the dramatic and humorous contest, the last of the inter-class declamatory contests, thereby taking the lead from the junior class who had maintained it until that contest.

The speakers with their speeches and positions in the final decisions were as follows: Dramatic—Eleanor Houck first place, "Laska"; Helen Selig, third place, "One of Bob's Old Tramps"; Hattie Martin, second place, "The Boy Orator of Zephera City"; Humorous—Florence Dell, third place, "The Americanizing of Andre Francois"; Thelma Peed, first place, "The Abandoned Elopement"; Ralph Hamilton, second place, "Valiant".

HELPED HER LITTLE GIRL Children need all their strength for growing. A lingering cold weakens them so that the system is made open to attack by more serious sickness. Mrs. Amanda Flint, Route 4, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my little girl of the worst tickling cough. I had tried many things and found nothing to help until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Gives immediate relief from distressing, racking, tearing coughs.—Sold every where.—(adv.)

FIVE MEASURES ARE UP TO ELECTORATE (Continued from page 1) introduced, with the exception of appropriation and defense measures, to place the president of the senate and the speaker of the house on the same pay as other members, eliminating the present proviso that they "shall receive an additional compensation equal to two-thirds of their per diem as members." No change is proposed in the limit of duration placed in special sessions or on the mileage allowance of members.

The purpose of the World war veterans' state aid fund is to provide for the relief of the aged and infirm, but not exceeding $500, to each honorably discharged resident of Oregon who served in the United States army, navy or marine corps between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, to levy an additional annual tax of one mill to pay the principal and interest of such bonds, and ratifying correlative legislative enactments.

Two Measures Related The "correlative enactments" mentioned refers to an act passed by the legislature of 1921 providing that each qualified veteran of the World war may borrow from the state up to $3000, or may receive a cash bonus of $14 a month for the time he was in service, but not to exceed $500. This act would be ineffective if lack of funds should prevent the constitutional amendment from passing. While the constitutional amendment authorizes loans in amounts up to $4000, the act passed by the legislature fixes the maximum loan at $3000, therefore, $2000 would be the largest amount a veteran could borrow from the state.

Veterans taking loans pay the state 4 per cent interest. The affirmative argument in the voters' pamphlet offers this information about the loans: Loans Given Ample Time "The loan must be made upon real estate security and shall not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised valuation of the real estate."

Spence Charge Recalled Charges were made, and rightfully perhaps, that the privilege of using the emergency clause has been abused by being attached to measures for no other reason than to forestall the referendum. A notable instance of such abuse occurred during the legislative session of 1919 when C. E. Spence, master of the state grange, while lobbying against the $10,000,000 highway bond act of that year, declared in a public speech in the senate that the public health, peace and safety did not depend on that measure's becoming effective immediately.

Governor is Curbed As the emergency clause now serves a double purpose, it may be said also that the proposed amendment will serve a double purpose. It will prevent the governor from using the emergency clause as a pretext for vetoing an entire bill. The hygienic marriage examination and license bill has as its purpose the cutting off of the propagation of feeble-minded persons, or those otherwise likely to suffer by inheritance, and it provides that both the male and the female applicants for marriage licenses shall submit to examination by competent physicians to ascertain if they are afflicted with contagious or communicable venereal disease or whether they are normal mentally. If both either fail to pass the examination the measure would prohibit their marriage unless one or both were sterilized. If either should feel the judgment unjust provision is made for appeal from the court clerk's refusal to issue a license to the county court which would cause an examination of the complaining person to be made by two competent physicians selected by the court. Their judgment would be final.

The women jurors bill is a revision of the jury law providing that women are qualified to sit as jurors. Further provision is made, however, that the duty shall be optional with the woman and she shall not be required to serve. The amendment changes the word "male" to "persons" wherever the method of calling jurors is set forth. It is provided that in criminal actions in which a minor under 18 years old is involved, whether as defendant or as complaining witness at least half the jurors shall be women. Exemption Provided "Any woman desiring to be excused from jury service may claim exemption by sending a written or printed notice thereof and returning the same to the sheriff before the date for appearance and if exemption is so claimed by reason of sex no appearance need be made in answer to said summons; provided, that it shall be the duty of the person serving any summons for jury duty to inform every female person so served praised valuation of the real estate. The real estate need not necessarily belong to the soldier but may be owned by his wife, father or mother. It is the duty of the borrower to repay the loan in installments of 5 per cent per annum. Of this 4 per cent on the unpaid principal applies an interest and principal on the 28 years, although the veteran may pay up his debt to the state sooner. Relative to the bonus the argument says: "Application for the bonus must be made within one year from the date the act became effective. The first 60 days of service are excluded from the time for which a bonus may be paid as it is considered the government bonus of $50 paid at the time of discharge covers the first 60 days of service."

Relative to the bonds the argument explains that "to November 11, 1919, one year after signing the armistice because it was many months after the ending of actual hostilities before the men overseas could be returned to the United States, and it was considered that the bonds should include the time served by each man up to the date of his actual discharge, in the period for which he receives the bonus payment."

Females Benefit This measure applies either to males or females who have served at least 90 days. Conscientious objectors and those who served only as students in training camps are barred. Third of this trio of proposed constitutional amendments is that empowering the governor to veto the emergency clause attached to any act of the legislature. When the emergency clause is attached to a legislative act two purposes are served. First, the bill becomes effective as a law as soon as it is signed by the governor, while acts not having the emergency clause prevents the inworking of the referendum against the measure.

Clearance Begun. A. J. Frey, president of the O.S. Angeles Steamship company, declared that sailings of their vessels, Yale and Harvard, between here and Los Angeles, would not be interrupted by the strike. Efforts to clear as many vessels as possible before the strike is called are being made here, as union announcements made by labor representatives, such vessels will continue to their destinations regardless of the strike. Sixteen steamers are scheduled to depart tomorrow. Final word had not been received by operators here from their representatives now in Washington, at a late hour tonight.

of this provision and to furnish her with a written or printed blank on which to make such claim for exemption. Both trial and grand juries are affected. FOUR VESSELS ARE HALTED BY DEADLOCK (Continued from page 1) Seattle Faces Tit-Up. SEATTLE, April 29.—Marine engineers here were instructed by the national executive committee of the marine engineers' beneficial association today to sign ship's articles only on the basis of the present wage scale agreement which expires May 1. Officers of the Seattle local said retroactive agreements already signed would be null and void but no further agreements of that character would be made. Puget sound steamship owners recently asked for a new agreement providing for a 10 per cent cut in wages which the engineers rejected on the claim that such a cut had been granted on Puget sound vessels ten months ago. The situation is said to threaten no immediate trouble, as owners would be required to give 30 days notice of another 10 per cent reduction.

Course Decided Upon. SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Steamship operators have determined upon procedure to be followed in case the threatened strike of marine engineers is called for May 1, as scheduled, it was announced here tonight. It was stated that all trans-Pacific mail steamers would be operated in spite of the strike, although steamship officials said that it probably would be necessary for the federal authorities to call upon the United States naval reserve, under the national emergency act. In the coastwise service practically all of the lines will tie up their steamers until the strike is settled and then to announcements made by prominent operators engaged in the coastwise trade.

Reports from the Portland school show high standards of speed and the locals will have to show decided improvement if they take the event. Salem coaches, Ford and D'Autremont, nevertheless expressed confidence that Salem would make a very creditable showing, taking into consideration the amount of training they have received. Little definite information seems to be at hand concerning the McMinnville nine, but with the Salem men in the best condition that they have been in this season a fast game is predicted when the teams cross bats today. It has been noticeable that in all of the games played this season the locals have won by a larger score each time. In the game with Monmouth yesterday, Ellis White and David Adolph filled the pitcher's box.

Cousins Meet Here For First Time in 69 Years Cousins who had not seen each other for 69 years met in Salem yesterday when William Macy of Nebraska and John B. Simmons of Salem, said hello and talked of the old days when they were playmates back in Indiana. Mr. Macy is 79 years old, and for three weeks has been a visitor at the home of his brother, Jesse Macy, 193 Miller street. Mr. Simmons is 83 years old and has lived in Oregon since 1852. It was in 1852 that young Simmons came with his people to Oregon. His playmate cousin later moved into Nebraska. He served in the Civil war four years and was wounded in one of the important engagements. Macy enlisted in the Oregon cavalry for the Civil war but these troops were not ordered into the fray.
