Influence of Government Regulation is Considered

PINEHURST, N. C., May 3.-The influence of the government regulation on the value of railroad securities was considered today by one of the committees of the American Bankers association. As a result a resolution was prepared for presentation to the association's executive that "government interference with business in general with particular transportation in should not extend beyond preventing exploitation of properties, making impossible any descrimination between individuals and communities and the maintenance of reasonable safeguards to the ives of patrons and employes "

This and other resolutions, to gether with reports, will be submitted to the executive council this week. Among the reports will be one to be presented by John S. rum, president of the association, on business and commercial conditions with remedies suggested, on economic policy drawn up by Paul M. Warburg. New York banker, and others devoted chiefly to the 'inancing of foreign trade.

Tries to Square Triangle And is Sent to Workhouse

AKRON. Ohto. May 3 - Giuseppi Sarniola, who attempted to square the triangle formed when his wife arrived from Italy Friday and found him living with a second by keeping both, was sentenced to the workhouse for one year by Judge Spicer today. Sarniola was found by officers living in a one-room shack with three children, one by his first wife, one the son of his second wife's first husband, and one by his second wife

A second son by his second wife was born today Judge Spicer ruled that Sacniola was living in a manner which would tend to contribute to the delinquency of the children.

CAN YOU WRITE A GOOD AD?

If you think you know how to write a good classified advertisement, here's your chance to win one of the three cash awards the Statesman will give each week for the best story entitled "How to Write a Classified Ad."

The first awards will be announced in Tuesday's 1ssue of each week, the first 3nnouncement Tuesday. April 26. Contestants must see that their "stories" reach the Statesman of co before Monday morning of each week in order to be considered.

The awards will be as follows: first award, $2.50 second award, $1.50; third award $1.00. The Statesman wants your ideas as to how these ads should be written to get the best results. Tell us what you would say in your ad and why you would say it Don't forget the why. For example, do you think if should contain price of the article offered for sale, or the price you are willing to pay for an art cle you want to buy? If you think the ad should contain the price, tell us why If you think it better to leave the price out of the ad, tell us why. Should it contain description? Why? Should it contain location? Should it describe quality?

Tell us about ads for "help wanted" and "work about any and all other kinds of classified ads. Write your stories plainly on one side of paper only curing certain articles, I should like to give you my idea of what an "Ad" should contain, and why. The first consideration is some attractive beginning that will catch the casual readers' eye and set forth what the "Ad" contains. The second requisite is to give all the information possible in a brief space, as it must be remembered we are all busy people and an 'Ad" that contains location, size description and price complete. will receive consideration from a busy person when one giving only a partial description would not be considered, as it would necessitate considerable effort without the assurance of any good resulting therefrom.
