MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE
CHAPTER 54
WHY MADGE WAS FRIGHT-ENED AT THE SITUATION.

Kenneth Stockbridge's tired face brightened with a smile as he caught sight of our party. But beyond the smile and a bow he made no effort to speak to us, even though the table to which the waiter had escorted his party was very near to our own.

Of course we all realized at once the reason for his constraint.
It was evident in his wife's attitude. She included us all in a cut, unsmiling nod, then dropped frowningly into a seat, paying no attention whatever to the rest of her party, but staring moodily at her plate.

She was in one of her worst moods. One could see it not only in her manner, but in the lightened lips and deepened pallor of her husband, and the worried looks of the elderly man and two younger women nearby. Stockbridge's own face, made up the group at their table.

"Little Sweetie's papa and mama and fond sisters are with us tonight," Beas Dean murmured audaciously, but after my first glance at the smiling man and the people at the other table could not possibly have heard her. She has the trick of speaking in an almost inaudible tone, yet managing to make herself comprehended by the person she is addressing.

I was relieved, however, when in another minute the orchestra struck up a highly syncopated selection, which made it possible for one's next neighbor to shout the most dangerous secrets without the slightest chance of having them overheard.

"You know, I think there's going to be fireworks," Beas Dean went on glibly, pretending to be absorbed in buttering a roll.
There was the naive enjoyment of a child at a circus in her voice and manner, and I realized that while she might have generous, sensible moments in which she would give any aid in her power to help her husband, and in her general attitude toward the domestic tragedy of Kenneth and Milly Stockbridge was that of a spectator who did not much care whether she were amused or shocked so long as the drama remained interesting.

I was not certain how much she knew or guessed concerning Milly Stockbridge's insane and absurd jealousy of me, which had so nearly proved a tragedy upon the night of the reception to Dickie at the party at home.
Nor did I care particularly except for my fear that through some inadvertent look or gesture Dickie might suspect the truth.
He was bent toward Miss Dean as she spoke, and I saw a look of surprise flash into his face.

A Cruel Complaint.
"Fireworks?" he repeated wonder-ingly.
"Pine the thundercloud at your right," Miss Dean warned him cheerfully. Kenneth's been doing something he hadn't order.
Perhaps he didn't give the poe-dile the proper amount of calories or whatever you call 'em in his evening meal. At any rate, the missus is on the warpath, and things don't go just her way—just you get ready to dodge the silver! She'll start hearing 'em at Kenny, but she also has a woman's aim, and you're about the right distance for an innocent bystander."

SILVERTON NEWS NOTES

SILVERTON, Or., May 1.—
(Special to The Statesman.)— The Wrightman and Uphoff garage building on North Water street which the Keelan Motorcar company has occupied for some time past, has been leased to the lawyer Dr. J. W. Lawry. Mr. Lawry will rent the rear of the building to auto mechanics, who will operate a repair shop.

Vernon Suckow, who is employed in the old music store at Ribeuse, was at Silvertown during the past week. Mr. Suckow said that he was thinking of purchasing a general motor car loaded with Silvertown people speeding in that direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph French, who have been wintering at Silvertown, have returned to their home at Grafton. N. D. Mr. and Mrs. French expect to return to Silvertown in the fall.

Miss Thelma Jensen returned to Portland Saturday after spending four weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna K. Jensen.
Miss Jensen will enter the Sel-wood hospital at Portland to complete her course in nursing.

Mrs. H. W. Opie and two children of Austin, Minn., are visiting Mrs. Opie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kotter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams of Hubbard moved to Silvertown on Thursday evening to help celebrate Mrs. S. H. Myers' birthday.
They returned to Hubbard the same evening.

Miss Nellie Cavender was a Salem visitor Thursday.

Mr. O. Ormbeck was at Portland the past week to visit his daughter, Miss Mabel Johnson, who is at a Portland hospital.

Silvertown Postmaster and Two Clerks Resign
(Special to The Statesman.)— John H. Brooks, who has been Silvertown's postmaster for five years, has filed his resignation.
It took effect May 1. Miss Marie Jones, who has been employed at the postoffice for the past eight years, and Miss Mina Lincoln, who has been postoffice clerk for several years, have also resigned.

Some time ago Mr. Brooks wrote to the postoffice department asking the department to furnish an assistant at government expense. The reply, which led to Mr. Brooks' resignation, stated that postoffices paying less than $2500 a year were not entitled to an assistant.

T. W. Riches, who was postmaster some years ago, was offered the position. He declined.
Evelyn Allen has been appointed to fill the office. The postmaster is regularly appointed to Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Brooks has not yet decided upon his future plans but says he will take a few months rest.

The poorer cuts of meat show a sharp decline, but the trouble is nobody wants them. That is another reason why they are cheap.
