DAILEY PITCHES WELL

Money Changers Powerless To Cope With Opposition Twirler

With the score standing 1 to 1 in the first inning of the Twilight league game yesterday, the Legionnaires came back in the second to pile up eight runs on the Bankers, forcing Manager Wendt to bring up a new twirler, McKinney, replacing Hirscher, who checked the onslaught until the fourth when they gathered eight more for a total of 17 to 2.

The Bankers second and last counter came in the third when Eakin went to first on a wild pitch, stolen second and third, coming home on a passed ball.

Hirscher allowed five hits and four free passes, and McKinney allowed four hits and walked one of the Legionnaires while Dailey of the Bankers allowed two hits and one walk.

In the second inning Empire Seton announced that the Bankers were finishing the game under protest on account of a questionable decision over a double play in the first frame.

The next game will be played Monday evening at 8 o'clock on Willamette field between the Valley Packing company and the Legion.

Dan Whit, said by the state police to be a non-combatant, was reported shot and killed at Matewan when he ventured out to obtain water for women and children.

Towns Under Fire.

State troops working in the firing zone reported today that most of the shooting was directed from mountainside to mountainside on the Kentucky and West Virginia sides of the Tug river. Shots were said to be striking in nearby towns.

"My mother was counting eggs in the store when the editor of the old Oregon Statesman, the first newspaper man west of the Rockies, came running in, his shirt sleeves rolled up to his elbows and his brow covered with dampness. He gave every appearance of a man in a hurry.

"Mrs. Markham, I want you to write a poem about the Lot Whitcomb getting off the sancbar, yelled the editor, 'and I'll wait right here while you fix it'.

Enterprising Editor Remembered

"My mother dropped what she was doing and took pen and paper and waited only a moment until the mused caught up with her; and then she wrote the poem. It began something like this:

"Lot Whitcomb is coming,
"Her banners are flying"
"She steams up the river with pride!"

"The editor grabbed the copy and ran to his office, where the 'devil' was waiting. They set it, put it on the first page, printed off an armful of papers, and the editor was at the landing with them as the boat came up. That is what I call real enterprising journalism."

Driver Held Responsible For Deaths in Collision

SPOKANE, Wash., May 13.—A verdict of guilty was returned in superior court here late today against P. Clive Heddle, charged with negligence in connection with three deaths when the automobile he was driving crashed into a street car here March 18. The jury deliberated 43 minutes.

The automobile party was returning from a dance at a road-house near Spokane when the accident occurred. The state placed the responsibility on Heddle for negligence in applying the emergency brake; while counsel for the defense declared that the blame rested on the motorman of the street car.

Judge Huneke, in issuing instructions to the jury, stated that a verdict of guilty should be rendered if the jury believed the accident was due to negligence on the part of Heddle, or the combined negligence of Heddle and the street car motorman.

AURORA LIGHTS VISIBLE HERE

Telegraph Wires Worried by Electrical Phenomenon Last Night

The northern lights ran amuck last night, creating wild havoc with the telegraph, and making an unusually brilliant display in the northern skies. From first to last, the demonstration lasted for the greater part of an hour.

From what is known or believed at this season of the year, it is a polar product and there hasn't been enough winter this year to give even any polar product a foothold this far south. It is an electrical phenomenon, though just what makes it work is about as little understood as any other electrical demonstration. Northern travelers have asserted that it sometimes "pops" like the discharge of fireworks, but no one whose word is good at the bank has made such a statement of late years. The aurora is now believed by some scientists to appear in periodic cycles, there being a maximum about every ten years, and a double maximum about once in 60 years.

But for all that science says that the aurora breathes its silent breath over Aurora.

PORTLAND SEES AURORA

PORTLAND, Or., May 13.—A display of the aurora borealis or northern lights, was plainly visible from here tonight, extending entirely across the northern sky and flashing intermittently from darkness into a broad white strip or luminous and then back again. The display lasted about an hour. Interruptions to telegraph wire service at intervals during the evening were attributed to the influence of the aurora.

SEATTLE TREATED TO DISPLAY OF NORTHERN LIGHTS

SEATTLE, Wash., May 13.—Seattle was treated to an unusual display of northern lights early tonight with the skies lighted over all this section. Early today colors were visible in the shooting rays, which is said to be unusual this far south. No colors were in sight tonight but frequent brilliant flashes of white rays lighted the heavens at frequent intervals.

Seamen's Union Leader Declares Saving Not Accomplished by Cut

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The action of the shipping board and the ship owners in making a 15 per cent wage reduction was not for the purpose of saving, Andrew Furuseth, president of the Seamen's union, said in a letter today to Chairman Benson of the shipping board.

Furuseth gave figures intended to show that the daily saving of each ship was but slightly more than 1 cent on each dollar expended in operation and declared that an inexperienced fireman would burn more than that sum in excess in one watch of four hours.

Furuseth reiterated that the charge that the wages and conditions to be offered to the seamen had been determined by the shipping board and ship owners prior to April 1 and that in spite of requests by the union representatives no hearing was granted them until April 19, 11 days before the wage agreement expired.

Porter was sent to watch the movements of the man.

Porter followed him into the Chinese clothing store on North Commercial street where he attempted to pass a check, and from there to Fry's drug store, where Porter took him in charge, and took him to the police station.

In his grips and in bundles were found a quantity of clothing consisting of some women's and men's wear, and some jewelry. He had $200 in currency on his person when arrested and carried checks on banks in San Francisco, El Paso, Tex., and on the Home Trust & Savings company of Denver, Colo.

Claims to Have Pal.

After his arrest, the young man who claims that he is but 20 years old, confessed to having a pal with whom he had been associated with in carrying on operations.

He said he was on his way to San Francisco from Portland and that he had trunks on the way there which he had checked out yesterday. From El Paso to Denver and from Denver to Portland was the route he said he had taken to Oregon.

Denver Lead Followed

In answer to telegrams sent to Denver asking for information regarding his wife, whose address Sugarman gave the police, and also that of a friend with whom she had worked, the reply was to the effect that no such persons had ever lived at the addresses given.

Further information will undoubtedly be forthcoming upon the arrival of the trunks which will be returned here.

Confronted with two negotiated bad checks, with two other alleged bad checks in his pockets, and telegraphic advices that five others just like them were with the authorities of Portland, a young man giving the name of Willard Patterson was held by the Salem police last night for an accounting on a number of checks.

Officer White took a corner in the Ford sedan he was driving. Patterson deposited a $10 cash bond to secure his appearance in the morning court. While this was still being talked over, Chief Officer came in and at once recognized the man as one for whom inquiry had just been made from Portland.

Examination Reveals Checks

A searching examination revealed the fact of the alleged bad checks. Five of these all for $12.50 each made out to Conrad Shields and signed by R. W. Shields had been reported from the State Bank of Portland. Two of like amount, drawn on the United States National bank by Wallace Kimball in favor of Horace C. Kimball, had been passed on Steusloff Brothers and Foster & Baker and two others, with the same amounts and drawn in the same manner, were found in his pockets.

Patterson claims that he was on his way to San Francisco, to accept a job at $175 a month with a publicity firm. He came from Seattle, in the car which he had purchased on a contract that called for its remaining in Kinks county, Washington, though he says that he had permission from the former owner and mortgagee to take it out of the state in his business. On his way from Seattle, where he had $240 in cash, he says that he befriended a woman who repaid him by taking all his money.

Kruttchnitt Says Increase In Railroad Claims Are Threatening Ownership

WAGE ISSUE DELAYED

Loss Said to Be Over Half Million Dollars Daily Pending Decision

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Deficits in present railroad operations, and the increase in claims against the treasury arising from wartime government control, threaten the permanency of private ownership in transportation, Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee said today during cross-examination of Julius Kruttchnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific in the general investigation of the railroad situation.

Final Sum Hurd.

Senator Cummins said the final sum to be taken from the government in settlement very probably would be around $1,500,000,000. Continuation of deficits from operations, Chairman Cummins said, would also "have to be met from the treasury."

Mr. Kruttchnitt said the growing claims under the guarantee arose from under-maintenance of railroad equipment and roadbeds under government control.

Tardiness Deplored.

Kruttchnitt said tardiness of the railroad labor board in deciding the roads' application for lower wage scales delayed possible saving.

"Railroads are losing between $500,000 and $600,000 a day while waiting for the board's decision on wages for common labor," he declared.

Ruling of Former Attorney General Palmer is Condemned by Kramer

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A serious problem confronts federal prohibition enforcement officials in the prevention of sales of alcohol, ostensibly for medicinal and industrial purposes, which later are diverted into illicit channels, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer told the house judiciary committee today.

The commissioner, appearing at the committee's request to discuss the new Volstead anti-beer bill, declared that federal agents had established something like good control over the illegal whiskey traffic but that the new task was developing rapidly.
