LEAGUE HELD AS INTRUDER

General Zeligowski Believes That Possession is Nine-Tenths of Law

LITHUANIA CONTROLLED

Believes Plebiscite Should Make Disposition of Vilna District

VILNA, May 17.—General Lucien Zeligowski, who still defies the league of nations and who last Saturday marched into the Vilna district at the head of 20,000 or more Polish soldiers and proclaimed himself dictator of Central Lithuania, is a great believer in the old time proverb that possession is nine tenths of 10 when it comes to law, international or otherwise.

For seven months the general has been supreme in the occupied country while the league of nations, through its military commission of control, has been endeavoring to act as mediator in the dispute between Poland and Lithuania.

She was a native of Germany, coming to the United States 39 years ago, and to West Salem one year before her death. Mrs. Ruge is survived by two sons, Charles S., and Albert W. Ruge, of West Salem; and three grandchildren, Mrs. Fred Gibson of Salem, and Lillian and Mabel Ruge who reside at the family home in West Salem. BITS FOR BREAKFAST Showers, says the weather shark.

The farmers are not the only ones who are watching the rain clouds. The building builders are hoping for dry days.

The men who are building the Pacific highway from the paved stretch this side of Jefferson to Salem are hurrying their work, and they expect to begin laying the cement at the south end on Monday next. As they get their materials in Salem, they will build entirely from the south, completing their contract at the southern city limits of Salem, if all goes well, some time in September.

Two more growers of broccoli joined the procession yesterday, joining with and getting their seed from the Salem Broccoli association. One will plant two acres and the other six. The days are growing short to join this procession, and so is the available seed.

Plans are being made for beginning the construction of the new building for the Old People's Home, on Center and Sixteenth streets. If that project gets under way, and also the new Salem hospital building goes ahead, Center street will add materially to the building activities of the coming summer and fall in and about this city.

All Salemites rejoice when Salem boys make good in any field. Richard Slater, one of Salem's fine young men, is making good at the Oregon Agricultural college. He has recently been elected president of the Lambda Phi Lambda, the honorary engineering fraternity at O. A. C. He has also been chosen treasurer of the 1922 class, with 60 to 400 members, and he is the president of the Kappa Sigma house at Corvallis.

forts put forth by the league of nations to settle the affair. "No Confidence in League." "Frankly, I haven't any confidence in the league of nations, so far as our affairs are concerned," said the general, "and why should I have? What have they ever done, anyway. No, I have never recognized the league of nations." And then, with a twinkle in his eye: "the league has never recognized Central Lithuania, nor Zeligowski either, and I guess we can settle our own affairs, if they will let us alone."

DOCTORS HEAR TIMELY TALKS Ten Officers and Men Go From Central Willamette Valley Towns

More than a score of physicians attended the Marion-Polk-Yamhill Medical society meeting at the Commercial club rooms last night to hear two exceptional papers on important branches of the medical profession.

One was by Dr. Mathieu of Portland, specialist in obstetrics and instructor in the medical department of the University of Oregon on "Puerperal infection," or child-bed fever. It was a scholarly address, bringing the latest treatment and diagnosis for this affliction. One of the interesting matters considered was the transfusion of blood in septic cases where the introduction of healthy blood can be used to save many a mother.

Another address was by Dr. Harold Bean, also of Portland, who is connected with the department of pathology, University of Oregon. His topic was "Blood Transfusion," and various cases were cited where special treatment of this nature was required. The speaker exhibited the apparatus necessary for the successful performance of the operation. The transfusion of blood is most commonly used for cases of severe hemorrhages, such as deep-cutting wounds that bleed profusely, or following major surgical operations that necessarily involve deep cutting; and in pernicious anemia, or blood impoverishment where the blood factors of the patient fails to work properly and requires an outside stimulus. The treatment can be made of such great benefit in so many of these common cases, it is said, that it was a timely topic for discussion.

The local association will be largely represented at the Tri-State Medical convention at Portland June 30, July 1 and 2. Speakers representing the best national and international research work—and American surgeons are coming to be known as the best in the world—will be there to present the latest marvels of healing. An unprecedented attendance is expected.

quoted in Berlin at 157 at the end of 1919 are now 630. A 12 per cent dividend declared by the Kamagarn Spinning Works of Dusseldorf was only 10 per cent of the profits earned. In the 10 years previous this company had regularly declared a dividend of only 8 per cent.

A similar company declared in 1920 a dividend of 40 per cent, as compared with one of 11 per cent in the three preceding years.

The writer of the article points out that but for the evidence of such figures Germany could more effectively have resisted the demands of her opponents that she make full reparation to the allies.
