

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS SPEECH

Progress of Centenary Missionary Movement Shown By Dr. Wade

WORLD PROGRAM GIVEN

Valuation of Property of Methodist Church Increased Million

A very large audience greeted Dr. Raymond J. Wade, at the First Methodist church, Friday night, in his address on "World Missions." Dr. Wade is the corresponding secretary of the committee on conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The progress of the Centenary missionary campaign was shown in a vivid series of stereopticon pictures, from all over the United States, Porto Rico, India, China, and indeed almost all over the world.

The address was statistical to a considerable extent; with the figures dressed up as soldiers and saints and sinners and every manner of men to be paraded in a fascinating calvaudee. It covered the work of the Centenary program in every portion of the globe.

Bishop Stuntz lauded For instance, it was told how Bishop Stuntz, the gifted intellectual giant who held Salem spellbound one night last week, had preached to an audience of but 11 people in one of the neglected foreign sections of New York; but how the Centenary funds and interest had resulted in a splendid, consecrated church that is making the once benighted locality a shining center for better Americanism and better humanity.

The Centenary funds practically saved the whole Methodist Episcopal church in China and India from disaster imminent on the great reduction of the American dollar.

Pay the Centenary to the last cent! is urged upon all pledgers, individual and collective, in view of the fact that 72 per cent of the first year's pledges have been paid.

Valuation increased During 1920, the Methodist church in America had through this movement, added $10,000,000 worth to its property at a cost of $2,000,000.

He enumerated some of the other activities of the movement and gave figures to show the beneficial results of the movement in the increase in church membership.

Wisconsin Work Cited. From Centenary funds $6500 was a donation to Medford, Wis. With this money the dismantled a material and furnishings of a large hotel were purchased and used to build six new churches; remodel four parsonages; remodel four churches; build a gymnasium; build four new parsonages; furnish 15 parsonages, and furnish 20 rooms in Rice Lake Methodist Episcopal hospital.

Realists had predicted when the program was initiated that the membership would fall off, for the men would not subscribe to these pledges. In 1920 every state in the union showed an increased church membership.

tioned in the foreign field. Dr. Wade dwelt on the work being done in Mexico. The Mexican government has pledged its support to the missionary movement and a great opportunity is presented for releasing the poverty stricken Mexican people from their virtual serfdom.

Speaking generally on the work, he said that more than one million people contributed to the $10,000,000 pledged to the Centenary for its five-year program. Together with the evangelical work done at home and abroad, a great work of Americanization is being carried on among foreign-speaking people in the United States.

Another part of the funds was devoted to missionary work in the great industrial centers in rural neighborhoods. The value of the church as a social center in the country districts is becoming more and more appreciated.

War ravaged Europe has received aid in generous measure, the total physical relief for the year amounting on April 20 to $24,787,577. Relief has been given to the following countries: France, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Jugoslavia, Estonia, Latvia, North Africa and Armenia.

At Chateau Thierry a general headquarters and social center has been established with 56 social workers. Money has been donated for rebuilding of Protestant churches, and for establishing of homes for orphans.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., May 20. Division of opinion as to the advisability of filling immediately the office of stated clerk of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America developed today at the 153rd general assembly of the church.

The commissioners favoring an election at this assembly to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. William Henry Roberts showed their strength today, putting through an amendment to the executive commission's report providing for an election at the present session.

Defeat of the overture which proposed that women be made eligible for the offices of elder and deacon in the church was announced this afternoon. It failed to receive the required two-thirds majority.

A referendum vote also defeated the overture for the proposed organic union of the evangelical churches.

Messages from Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of Labor Davis and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace were read today. A popular meeting in the interest of religious education was held tonight.

of goods is to be found, the choice resting largely with the preference of the frequenters of the particular rendezvous in question.

Salem is the possessor of what might be termed 12 town drunks, that is, well known characters whom the police courts have to deal with regularly. Of these, eight are described as the drug or grocery store drunks, the other four having a preference for moonshine.

Just what is the motive of the government in writing to the various police departments throughout the United States, for reports of this kind, is not known, but on the surface it would look as if it realized the impracticality of a new ruling demanding of the druggist and groceryman cooperation in furthering the cause of prohibition.

It is believed the grocers and druggists ordinarily are innocent of the intent of persons buying the liquids.

It has been rumored that Manager White of the State House has let a contract to a local blacksmith for a set of helmets to protect his outfielders from fly balls.

In last night's game they were in considerable danger of being hit whenever the sphere chanced to drop in the outer gardens. Although the Bankers were on the short end of an 8 to 5 score they staked a surprise for the fans and upset several buckets of Twilight league dope by their game attack against the Senators.

The Senators came back with spirit in their half of the first when Small connected with the second pitched ball for two sacks, going to third on a passed ball and scoring on Knickerbocker's single. Knick stole second and third and registered on Gabrielson's hot grounder to short which Hirscher muffed up. Gabe was advanced to third on Jackson's and Schneider's outs and scoring on a wild pitch.

Twilight Flickers Manager Jack Hayes of the Salem Senators was out ivory hunting at the State House-Bankers game while Ducky Holmes tended bats and furnished ozone for the chest protectors.

A new Twilight league ruling has been effected which bars the wearing of a glove from the belt loop of a player's uniform.

To dispel any misunderstanding as to the time and place the Twilight league games are played, fans are advised that all games are played at Willamette field on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 p. m. Postponed and the games will be announced.

Jack has offered as a prize to the leading batter of the league, a framed picture of the leading batter himself. The boys are all stampeding the official scorer for their hits as a result.

The only real ball game to date was the State House Spaulding tray but some good baseball is booked in the next two weeks. It's a long way to the gonfalon.

OFFICERS BACK FROM ARMY CAMP

Major Gjedsted Was in Command of Coast Artillery At Stevens

Major Charles E. Gjedsted of the Oregon National guard, returned Thursday morning from Fort Stevens, at the mouth of the Columbia, where he had been in command of the preliminary instruction camp of the coast artillery for their four days session. This camp was for the purpose of fitting them for instruction for the annual encampment at Fort Stevens, June 15 to 23, when the whole artillery service will go into intensive training.

Fifteen officers and 20 enlisted non-coms were in attendance at this session. They had everything that big gun war offers—except dodging shells and gas from a hostile enemy. Big gun practice, sub-caliber practice, signaling with the great searchlights, night drills, lectures day and night on the great game of war, and the whole routine of actual and constructive war, were given them in miniature, so that they may go back to their local organizations prepared to impart the knowledge of an artilleryist's duties. There is no branch of this service in Salem; only Adjutant General George A. White, Major Gjedsted and Captain Kenneth Hall attended from the Capital city.

The big annual encampment will be held at Fort Stevens at the same time that the infantry camp of the Oregon guard is being carried on at Camp Lewis.

Grain Grower Federation Blocked by Laws of Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—Grain growers meeting plans of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., adopted by the marketing committee of 17 appointed by the American Farm Bureau federation, cannot operate in Ohio.

Operation in this state was held to be in violation of the Ohio corporation law in a letter written by Harvey C. Smith, Ohio, secretary of state, to Clifford Thorne, general counsel for the American Farm Bureau federation.

In his letter, Secretary of State Smith said "that a foreign corporation not for profit cannot qualify under the laws of Ohio" and further that "it is objectionable for the reason that a domestic organization is not permitted to deal or own and buy stock of other organizations in this state, only as an incidental matter and not as a part of their principal purpose."

Officers of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation met here today to discuss the situation.

Secretary Smith's ruling will not deprive Ohio farmers of taking part in this marketing movement, C. A. Dyer of the federation announced tonight.

FOOTPRINTS 130 YEARS OLD FOUND

Explorers Discover Trace of Fleeing Hawaiian Army

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., March 20.—Footprints, 130 years old, of an Hawaiian army that fled from the wrath of Pele, goddess of the active volcano of Kilauea, near here, are believed to have been discovered in the Kilauea desert, south of the great crater, by Professor T. A. Jagger, Jr., in charge of the volcano observatory.

Dr. Jagger and his party was exploring a region far removed from any of the known, modern trails when they came upon a area thickly covered with the imprint of naked feet, all pointing in the one direction, all deep as the toes and light at the heels, indicating that the makers of the tracks had been running at top speed.

The tracks had originally been made in volcanic ash, which is strongly impregnated with sulphurous acid, and gypsum and which when wet by rain, settles into a hard concrete, thus explaining the preservation of the imprints for a period believed to have stretched over more than a century and a quarter.

Advertising Irresistible. IF THERE IS one enterprise on earth that a "quitter" should leave severely alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—lots of it. Somebody must tell him that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. —John Wanamaker.
