

PICTURES ARE ON EXHIBITION

Oregon Audobon Society Displays Paintings in Salem

LECTURES EACH NIGHT

Birds and Wild Life of State Shown in Work of Western Artists

Starting Monday the Oregon Audobon society will have on display in the Salem public library 139 paintings and photographs of Oregon life, birds and scenes, and a number of other well-known pictures under the auspices of the Salem Arts League. The library exhibit rooms will be open each afternoon and night to the public and a program of lectures is also arranged for each night.

Many of the 139 pictures, some of which are framed and others unframed, are the work of R. Bruce Horsfall, Oregon painter, whose wonderful collection of paintings of Oregon birds are in the exhibit coming to Salem. There are also some of Horsfall's scenes and paintings of heads.

Horsfall is Exhibitor

Mr. Horsfall, whose home is in Portland, but who spends a good deal of his time in New York, will be in Salem all of the week to tell the visitors at the library about Oregon birds. He is an authority on everything about birds, their customs, and in fact everything there is to know about birds. Mr. Horsfall is said to know a Thursday night he will deliver a lecture on "Painting of Bird Pictures."

Among the pictures in the exhibit are collections from Earl A. Marshall, the U. S. Forest Service and Mrs. Charles E. Ladd, who has loaned her photographs of Oregon flowers and shrubs. Mr. Marshall's group of photographic enlargements of trees and scenery in this state includes about 30 works. Much regret has been expressed by the league that the collection of Prof. A. R. Sweetser of University of Oregon could not be here at this time. Mr. Sweetser has promised it for a later date.

Program each Night

Among the speakers on the program for each night this week are Monday, Prof. Albert Sweetser, University of Oregon, "Preservation of Wild Flowers"; Tuesday, John A. Lee, a Director of the Audobon society, "Cone bearing trees of Oregon"; Wednesday, Prof. M. E. Peck, Willamette University, "Our Birds—at Home and Abroad"; Thursday, R. Bruce Horsfall, Portland, "Painting of Bird Pictures"; Friday, Willard A. Elliot, Portland, "The Birds, Our Friends"; Saturday, Miss Mary Raker, Pacific University, Bird for Children. All of the lectures will be illustrated.

Mr. Elliot, who will speak on Friday is vice president of the society, but is now acting executive in the absence of W. L. Findley, the president. Miss Raker, who is a student at the Pacific college, is much interested in birds and has gone on many of the tramps with the Audobon society and become well acquainted with the Oregon bird life. She will speak at 9:30 and again at 11 o'clock Saturday morning to accommodate all of the children who are expected to come.

This exhibit is practically the same as the one made in Portland last month, which was seen by thousands.

Talks to the school children will be made at 4 o'clock each afternoon this week, according to the following schedule:

Tuesday—8 and 9 grades Washington Junior high.

Wednesday—Grant Junior high and 7 grade Washington Junior high.

Friday—McKinley Junior high.

At 9:30 on Saturday morning lectures will be given at Garfield, Lincoln, Washington and Grant, and at 11 o'clock the same day at Kenilwood, Richmond Park and Highland.

RATE INCREASED.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 21.—The St. Louis federal reserve bank today announced a rate of 6 per cent, an increase of one-half per cent on paper maturing within 90 days, discounted for member banks and secured by liberty bonds and victory notes.

The preacher was asked if the man who played the cornet in the church orchestra would go to heaven. To this he replied: "I don't see why he should not, but—after a pause—"I doubt whether the man next door will."

CITIZEN CAMP DATES ARE SET

Month of Intensive Training For Potential Soldiers Is Announced

AMERICAN LAKE NAMED

Everything Soldiers Do Will Be Taught Under Discipline of Army

Soldiers who want to work for nothing but the pure joy of packing a gun and jumping to obey the command "For-ward H-eh!" and crawling into bed at the unrighteous hour of 9 o'clock, can get one of the finest little month's vacations free of charge that ever came down their individual pipe. They can get a little money on the side, too, in the way of eating allowance on the road, for they can either go hungry or carry a lunch from home, and get back with real money in their pockets.

Open to 10,000

This is the citizens' military training camp service, the western branch of which is at American Lake, Washington, and the summer camp to be held during July and August. It is open to 10,000 civilian young men, between the ages of 16 and 35 years, and is distinct from any and all the strictly military national guard camps where soldiering is carried on as a well-paid job.

It is aimed to develop a citizen soldiery, that in case of national need, would be well grounded in the rudiment of military knowledge, good health and the habits of outdoor life.

The government will refund the railroad fare from the candidates' home to the camp, at the rate of 5 cents a mile by the nearest direct route; the excess being aimed to cover cost of subsistence on the way. The return fare will be paid at camp, before leaving for home.

Clothing Is Free.

Uniforms, shoes and all major articles of clothing are furnished free; also arms and ammunition.

Underclothing, blankets, socks and towels will be furnished by the soldier-to-be.

Banjo pickers, guitar sharps, harmonica fiends, slight of hand operators—so that they are honest—and every sort of entertainers and their paraphernalia are welcomed, to dispel the usual camp monotony. Even sinners and mumble-pers players and expert thumb-twiddlers, as well as other gymnasts and athletes and actors, are in demand. Adequate facilities are provided for the most diverse histrionic talents. It would not be strictly true that the banjo-players or the jewsharp operators won the great war single handed; but the facts prove that the American army, that encourages every line of entertainment and kept the morale of the troops up to the highest possible standard, was the happiest, the bravest, and the most efficient army in the whole war history—and that light-heartedness is an asset second only to guns and powder.

Even Liars Help.

Even the prevaricating and exaggerating man whose persuasive eloquence can make a rat-hole look like a well or a railway tunnel, may be a national asset when troops are disheartened; so the government urges every man who has a talent to come and spread it before his fellows to make them happier and braver.

Three courses are provided. The Red Course is intended for the those who have had no previous military training. It covers the rudiments of military knowledge. The White Course is for those who desire to qualify as specialists, or as non-commissioned officers. Those in this grade must be at least 19 years of age. The Blue Course is the higher development of military instruction, and leads to non-commissioned or warrant officers' appointments, and from that to officers' commissions in the officers' reserve corps.

Daily Athletics Given.

Daily work will be given in athletics, setting up exercises, bayonet practice, boxing and other physical training, scouting reconnoitering, camp life, marching, personal hygiene, target shooting are among the important matters of daily routine. Demonstrations will be given of airplane work, machine guns, grenades, trench mortars, engineer and signal corp equipment and practice and the whole soul of a real soldier will be shown to the earnest student who wants to learn how better to defend and understand his country.

This is the Plattsburgh camp idea, grown to national proportions following its splendid influence on the nation just before and during the great war. The Plattsburgh camp turned out thousands of the best men who helped organize the American army on both a spiritual and military basis, and gave form to the national desire to get into the war because humanity and self-defense called.

Must Be Morally Fit.

A certificate of moral fitness is required for all applicants. These certificates, in blank, may be secured upon application to the commanding general of the corps area in which the applicant lives. All who are received must be citizens or foreign born, though the holding of first papers is sufficient evidence of national devotion. The government especially desires to encourage those of foreign birth to come and get acquainted with their foster country.

Vaccination and inoculation, for smallpox and typhoid, are required as a matter for individual self-protection, this treatment being administered free of charge at the camp if it has not previously been given.

Must Have Approval.

Every applicant is required to fill out a regular application blank, which must be approved by the commanding officer of the area in which he lives. These blanks for this section may be secured by writing to the commanding officer, Citizens' Military Training camp, American Lake, Wash.

Tired business men who want a vacation that doesn't cost them a cent except their time; students who want to get out of the work of books and breathe a bit of the outdoors preparatory to another year's grind in the college halls; anybody who believes that an American ought to be able to march and fight and smile in the face of every possible foe, all are urged to put in their applications and plan to go.

Perfectly Safe.

The governmental circulars didn't say it, but they almost did—that it's safe; there will be no shooting at anybody. That might be inducements to some to whom the high cost of funerals is objectionable.

The above is a free translation and interpretation of the military circular sent Adjutant General White respecting this great citizens' preparedness movement. The movement has his heartiest approval.

And you can easily recall when hard cider was considered the zero in drinks. But not now.

Salem Heights Couple Take Grange Degrees

The Salem Grange met yesterday in regular session in the grange hall on Court street, at 10:30 o'clock with Worthy Master Miss Elizabeth Smith in the chair. After opening services, and the preliminary business, the grange conferred the third and fourth degree of the order upon Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Salem Heights. In the afternoon, the lecturer's hour was given over to the discussion of the economic situation of the farmer. The principal address was given by Seymour Jones of the Keizer district.

Siegert Leaves Money To Lutheran Church

Five hundred dollars has been bequeathed to St. Johns Lutheran church, to be used toward the purchase of a new pipe organ or a new church, through the will of the late Gottlieb Siegert, who died on May 15. The will was submitted to probate yesterday in the county court. The estate consists of personal property valued at $15,000. August Kehring was appointed by the court as executor.

Gets 60 Days in Jail For Stealing Jewelry

Claiming that he wanted to quit work and did not like to ask for the money due him and therefore helped himself to some jewelry in its place, Fred Davies, 19 years old, pleaded guilty to the charge of theft yesterday before Judge G. E. Unruh of the justice court. He was sentenced to a term of 60 days in the county jail.

The value of the articles taken was estimated at $100 and consisted of a watch, two lockets and a chain. Davies was employed by Roy Vance of route 1, on his farm and shortly after his departure Mr. Vance missed the jewelry and reported to the police department which effected his arrest at the Klett pool hall.

Mrs. Harris is Hurt in Collision Near Gervais

Mrs. Arvey M. Harris, 1620 Court street, received a lacerated knee and a bruise on the head as a result of a head-on collision while driving an automobile north on the highway near Gervais yesterday. Her three children who were riding with her were slightly injured. F. S. Eberhart of Portland, driving an automobile coming in the opposite direction, and while attempting to pass a wagon with a hay rack on it, met the Harris car when alongside of it, causing the collision.

Both cars were badly damaged and it was necessary for them to be towed into Salem for repairs.

Oregon Grower Officials Return from South Today

C. I. Lewis, assistant manager of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association, and W. I. Staley, secretary and treasurer, will return today from the southern part of the state where they have been holding several meetings with members of the association.

Friday they spoke to members in the afternoon at Seaside and in the evening at Roseburg. Saturday meetings were held in the afternoon at Riddle and in the evening at Myrtle Creek.

As many members of the association in the southern part of the state were unable to attend the annual meeting held in Salem April 26, reports were submitted covering the same information as those read at the annual meeting held in Salem.

Pool for Small Fruits Closed by Association

Pools for the signing of new acreage of berries, cherries and small fruits have recently been closed by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association, according to R. C. Paulus, general manager. The association is not now accepting new acreage for any of these varieties for the time being.

Mr. Paulus says that the association has several large deals now on hand but has been unable to close them as buyers up to date are not in a position to judge their requirements. Nor have these buyers been able to place a price on fruits or berries that they are able to pay this season.

Mechanism of Organ is Explained to Students

Professor T. R. Roberts, instructor in organ at Willamette university, appeared before the music department of the senior high school Tuesday at the regular class hour and lectured to the students, who gathered in the choir loft of the First Methodist church, where Mr. Roberts is organist.

He explained the mechanism of the pipe organ and played numerous short selections. He illustrated the points which he wished to bring out. Following the interesting demonstration Professor Roberts played several of the best known organ concert numbers in a finished and highly artistic style. The entire program was received with enthusiasm by the pupils. This was the fourth of a series of numbers arranged by Miss Lena Belle Tartar, supervisor of music in Salem schools, to cultivate music appreciation among the members of her high school class.

FIVE RECORDS ARE SMASHED

University of Washington Wins Pacific Coast Conference Track Meet

OREGON AGGIES SECOND

Hurley of Washington is High Point Man and Tuck is Second

HAYWARD FIELD, Eugene, Ore., May 21.—The University of Washington with 60 points came out winner in today's Pacific Coast conference track and field meet, a meet in which five conference records were smashed. Second, with 48 points, was Oregon Agricultural college, third with 37 1-2 points the University of Oregon and fourth with 18 1-2 points Washington State College.

Waltley of Oregon, running a spectacular mile race, and leading Seoa of O.A.C. until the final five yards, finally crossed the tape ahead of the Aggie, shattering Swan's conference record of last year, 4 minutes 28 seconds.

Half Mile Record Made

In the half mile run Sims of O.A.C. crossed the line at one minute 57 1-2, bettering last year's record of 1 minute 58 1-5.

Robert Aggie two miler, surpassed his own time of a week ago, finishing the gruelling run in 9 minutes 51 4-5 seconds. Gus Pope, Washington Olympic star threw the discus 148 feet better than the record but not equalling his own Pacific coast record.

The shot put Pope heaved the sphere a distance of 45 feet 8 inches. One conference record was tied when Hurley, Washington, ran the 100-yard dash in 9 4-5 seconds with Snook of O.A.C. neck and neck.

Tuck Easy Winner

Art Tuck, another Olympic man could not better his distance of a week ago with the javelin, but easily took first place for Oregon in the event.

Jenne of Washington State did not try for a record, the bar was at 12 feet when he was declared winner.

Run on a perfect oval under a sunny sky from which all hint of rain disappeared early in the course of events the meet offered every chance for record-smashing. Hopes for a new Pacific coast record in the two mile were dashed when Rowlee of W. S. C. did not enter on account of sickness.

Hurley of Washington was the individual high point man of the meet with 15 points. Tuck, Oregon, was second with 10 1/2 points.

and will be classed as a national record.

Machines in Three Classes.

Three classes of machines, all of two-cylinder type, are to be recognized: Those of 37 cubic inches displacement; those of 61 cubic inches displacement (the usual stock models) and the free-for-all up to 80 cubic inches piston displacement. Some of the rules of the competition are here given:

Tradition is limited to non-skid chain, rope or motorcycle drive chain which does not extend more than one-half inch from the tire.

Tractor will be allowed in the free-for-all only. Tractors must be over tires not smaller than three inches. Tractors must not be wider than five inches.

Front chain guard and guard over rear must be carried for the protection of the rider.

Two Trials Allowed

No rider can ride two machines in the same event, but an expert may ride a machine that has been ridden by another expert in another event.

Highest up the hill or fastest over will be the winner.

Every rider will be given two trials.

Distance will be measured in feet and inches. Riders less than one foot apart will be called a tie and the tie run off to decide the place after the event.

Rider must weigh a minimum of 122 pounds. A rider may carry ballast to bring his weight to 132 pounds.

Practicing on or near the hill is absolutely prohibited. Riders violating this rule will be disqualified.

All machines must be ready for inspection one hour before starting time.

All machines must have three speed transmission.

Valuable Prizes Up

Valuable prizes, including the association gold medal and trophy for first place in each of the schedule events will be offered so that the event is well worth contesting for.

H. J. Scott, who visited Portland Friday in the interest of the show, found Rose City motorists much interested in the climb. They expect to be down by hundreds, to contest or at least to witness the events. Portland dealers have offered to make liberal contributions for prizes, so that the place-winners will find it a good day's work apart from all honors that they may achieve. Many of the greatest riders in the nation will be here to demonstrate the merits of their special machines.

Hinshaw Photographed

A remarkable photo snapped in last year's climb on this then impassible hill, shows the motorcycle ridden by C. V. Hinshaw of Salem just rearing back over its rider, who fortunately slipped aside and was not crushed. None of them crossed the top in that contest, and may not do it this year. There is a limit beyond which even a motorcycle cannot go—and this Salem hill may still be this limit. Whether it is or not is what the estimated 5000 visitors want to prove.

THE PROMISED MAN

Two negroes were working in a coal bin in a Mississippi town, one down in the bin throwing out the coal and the other outside welding a shovel. The one inside picked up a large lump and heaving it carelessly into the air, struck the other a resounding blow on the head.

As soon as the victim had recovered from his momentary daze he walked over to the edge of the bin and peering down at his mate, said:

"Nigger, how come you don't watch where you throws dat coal?"

"You done hit me smack on the head."

"The other one look surprised. 'Did I hit you, nigger?'"

"You sho did," came the answer. "An' I jes' wants to tell you. I've been promising de debbil a man a long time, and you certainly does resemble my promise."

GREATEST HILL-CLIMB WILL BE HERE JULY 4

Capistrano is the star event of the southwest section. The Salem event is to be staged under the auspices of the national organization, under standard rules,

"So you want to sell your piano General; how many octaves has it?"

"I don't know just how many—but the darn thing is full of 'em!" was the teasy reply.
