The presence of Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, Oregon historian and author, in the city yesterday and today was the occasion for a reception in her honor last night at the home of Robert S. Gatzke, professor of Oregon history at Willamette university. Professor Gatzke, Dean Frances M. Richards and the student body of Willamette and the university were the host and hostesses for the reception which was very informal.

Members of the student body and faculty of both Willamette university and Kittling School of Theology, and all people in the city interested particularly in Oregon history and in Mrs. Dye were included in the general invitation to the affair.

Mrs. Dye will speak today to the classes in Oregon history and will also be chapel speaker at 11:20 o'clock today.

One of the most far-reaching community enterprises ever launched by the churches of Salem is that of the Daily Vacation Bible school. Sunday afternoon the pastors and representatives from several of the local churches and Sunday schools met at the First Methodist church and considered the whole matter of establishing the Daily Vacation Bible school as a permanent community enterprise. A committee previously appointed made a very favorable report.

Alpheus Gillette, chairman of the committee, showed that it was no longer an experiment but a success everywhere it has been tried and that it has become a great national movement. Last year the following places in Oregon had such schools and intend to continue them year by year: Roseburg, Eugene, Albany, Astoria, Corvallis, Oregon City, Portland and also several places in eastern Oregon. The Baptist church of Salem conducted such a school last summer and intend to cooperate in this community enterprise.

It is the hope of the council called yesterday that the Sunday schools of the various churches in this city will help foster the movement.

Those elected were: president, Dr. Frank Brown; vice president, Rev. E. B. Kirkpatrick; secretary, Harold Garrett; treasurer, Harold Eakin; director of Alpheus Gillette; committees: publicity chairman, R. L. Putnam; finance, Harold Eakin, Mrs. W. W. Emmons, C. F. Ueckman.

The following schools will in all probability cooperate in the enterprise this summer: school which will be in session for three weeks immediately after the public school closes. First Methodist Episcopal, Jason Lee Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, Central Congregational, First Congregational, Nazarene, Court Street Christian, Highland Friends and one or two other small churches. The matter is to be presented to each school for definite action.

Lyle Bartholomew, graduate of Salem high school and a well known Salem boy, will play the part of Dick's double in the play, "Nothing But the Truth" coming to Salem next Friday night for one night performance at a local theater.

"Nothing but the Truth" is the senior play put on by the fourth year students on the state university campus during the recent Junior week-end. It starred such a success on both nights of its appearance that negotiations were started to bring the comedy to Salem.

The story of the play in brief is that Job Bennett, leading man, makes an agreement with a number of friends that he can tell nothing but the truth for 24 hours. The play is woven about the complications which ensue.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron F. Crunk returned last night from spending the week-end in Portland.

Leland Milton, Jr. is the name of a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Leland Milton Ryer Sr., Saturday night. The new arrival weighs nine pounds.

Miss Mary Findley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley, arrived Monday morning to spend the summer in Salem. Miss Findley has been a student at Columbia university this year, since her graduation last year from Willamette university. Miss Findley has as her guest until today Miss Marian Nicholson, a fellow student, on her way to Los Angeles to spend the summer at her home there. Miss Findley will resume her studies at Columbia, where she is fitting herself for a life of social service work, in the fall.

The sixth birthday of Daniel C. Gibson was celebrated Sunday when children, grandchildren and friends of Mr. Gibson gathered for an afternoon in his honor. Games were played and the afternoon spent in informal amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ibersen and Miss

Elizabeth James, the latter an instructor in English in Salem high school, went to Portland Saturday to spend the week-end. They returned last night.

About 40 young people of the Center Street Methodist church held a picnic Monday at Silver Creek falls. The entire party made a trip in automobiles.

X-RAYS AND EXPERTS.
Edward W. Redfield, the painter of snow scenes, said the other day at the Philadelphia Art club:

"I see that in Paris the experts are proving the authenticity of dubious old masters by means of the X-ray. This is a good idea. It will do away with a lot of hoaxing."

"I heard the other day of a dealer who tried to hoax a professor. The dealer offered a Raphael for sale, pointing to the signature triumphantly, but after examining the signature, the professor said:

"The name don't look like Raphael. Looks more like Rachel to me."

"The dealer examined the signature himself.

"Yes, it is Rachel," he said. "I'll tell you the history of that. When Raphael painted that picture he was in hard luck, y'understand, so he put it in the wife's name." —Washington Star.

HISTORIAN IS GREETED HERE

Reception to Mrs. Eva Emery Dye is Given at Home of Mrs. Fowle

A host of interested Oregon history students gathered last night at the home of Mrs. Carrie G. Fowle, 298 North Capitol street, to greet Mrs. Emery Dye of Oregon city, the distinguished Oregon historian. She comes as the guest of Robert M. Gatzke, instructor of Oregon history in Willamette university, and Miss Frances Richards, dean of the university women. She will be the house guest of Miss Richards.

A brief program was given at the reception, among the numbers being two solos, "Out Where the West Begins" and "When the Great Red Dawn's Shining," by P. M. Blenkinsop. Miss Martha Ferguson of Willamette gave a reading, the third chapter of McLaughlin's Old Oregon, the first of Mrs. Dye's published historical works; this particular chapter treating of Jason Lee's wedding. Mrs. Dye followed this with a brief interpretation of the story and some personal notes on Dr. McLaughlin. (He was Irish, and he pronounced his name McLoekin, the historian said.) Punch and wafers were served during the evening.

Mrs. Dye is to speak before the Willamette students this morning, especially to the two classes in Oregon history, for whose benefit she made the trip. She is recognized as one of the foremost historians of the northwest, and her coming is counted a red-letter event.

One of our bootlegging friends says that the raise, like some of the promises of President Wilson, has proven very disappointing.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH SICK
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Comer, Shenandoah, Va., were both ill. He writes: "Rheumatism and bladder trouble was our trouble. My wife had rheumatism in her legs so she could not use them. She had no trouble since taking Foley Kidney Pills. I don't have to get up at night so much since taking Foley Kidney Pills, nor have I a weak back." Backache, sore, swollen or stiff muscles or joints, tired languid feeling—yield quickly to Foley Kidney Pills. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

CENTENNIAL IS OBSERVED TODAY

Famous Educators From all Over World Gather at Virginia University

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., May 30.—This grey, old college town was crowded tonight with visitors and returning alumni who are to attend the centennial celebration of the University of Virginia, which begins tomorrow and continues through Friday. Graduates from as far back as the class of 1870 paraded the streets while prominent educators from all parts of the country and from abroad were guests at the university.

Exercise in Carol hall, commemorating the influence of the university in the religious life of the nation will mark the opening of the centennial tomorrow. Dr. William Alexander Barr, dean of Christ Church cathedral, New Orleans, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the university, will welcome the visitors, and Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton university will preach at vesper services.

Greek Amphitheater Presented. In the evening the new Melburn Greek amphitheater will be dedicated. The amphitheater, a gift from Paul Goodloe McIntire, of Charlottesville and New York, brings the total number of out-of-door Greek theaters in this country up to seven. The others are located at Berkeley, Point Loma, Bakersfield, Claremont, California; Cranbrook, Michigan and Garfield park, Chicago.

Among the distinguished educators to attend the centennial exercises are Prof. Jules Legras, University of Paris; Prof. Beverly Dandridge Tucker, Jr., University of Oxford; Prof. Ernest William Brown, University of Cambridge; William John Matheson, University of Saint Andrew; Prof. Federico de Onis y Sanchez, Central University of Spain; His Excellency Marc Peter, University of Geneva; Prof. John Kolman, University of Edinburgh; Monsier Gabriel Hanstaak, Academy of France; Prof. Ernest William Brown, The Royal Society; Prof. Charles Homer Haskins, Academy of Inscriptions et Belles Lettres; Prof. Joss Maria Galvez, University of Chile; Arno Kidder, University of Christianity; Prof. Wilfred Pitt Mustard, University of Toronto; Mr. Touraj Selva, University of Brussels; Prof. Samuel Alfred Mitchell, Queen's University; The Rev. Prettier Teeth Next Week

If you will now start this delightful test

This is to offer you a way to whiter teeth, cleaner, safer teeth. Such glistening teeth as millions now enjoy.

Your dealer will give you the means. Get it and watch the effects. See your teeth grow prettier—note how clean they feel.

Dentists everywhere advise this method. Millions of homes have adopted it. Try it this week, for your own sake. Learn what it means to you.

To remove the film
Your teeth are coated with a dingy film. It is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It clouds the teeth and causes most tooth troubles.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it, so the tooth brush has left much of it intact. As a result, teeth lose their luster. And, despite all brushing, tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

The film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germes breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Many other serious troubles are also traced to them.

Science combats it
Dental science has long sought ways to combat that film. The way has now been found. Able authorities have amply proved them. Leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent. It combats the film wherever it may linger. In this way it brings surprising results which one quickly sees. Over 5,000 new people daily are trying out this modern method.

Fights acids too
Pepsodent brings three other effects which authorities now desire.

It multiplies the salivary flow—Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acid.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay. Pepsin is also included.

Quick changes come
The user of Pepsodent quickly feels conspicuous changes. One cannot doubt the benefits it brings.

Perhaps men who smoke see the most conspicuous effects. Their films are tobacco-stained.

Women see them in prettier teeth, for most film-coats are dingy.

But Pepsodent is most important to the children. Their teeth seem most subject to these film and starch attacks. Dentists advise that children use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects, and read the reasons in the book we send.

This ten-day test will be a revelation. It may bring to your home a new era in teeth cleaning. And the benefits to you and yours may be life-long in extent. Cut out the coupon now. Present it at your store.
