

JUNIORS TAKE TRACK MEET

Third Year Students Capture 7 Out of Possible 10 Points in Contest

SENIORS TAKE SECOND

Sheppard High Point Man; Socolofsky Wins First in Two Events

Capturing seven out of a possible 10 first place positions, the junior class of the high school easily took the inter-class track field meet held on Willamette field yesterday afternoon. The juniors carried a lead of 9 points being up 46 points for the class, while the seniors won 37, and the sophomores 7. The seniors were able to hold up their score by capturing a large majority of the second and third berths.

Irving Sheppard was high point man, winning 11 tallies for the senior class. Herbert Socolofsky, junior runner, won first place in the two races in which he entered and would probably have done much for the juniors in the relay had that race been run. The juniors had been saving Socolofsky for the relay which was scheduled as the last event of the day but when they found out that they would win without the relay points they cancelled the race in order that Socolofsky might save his strength for the school meet with Benson Polytechnic of Portland on the local field Saturday.

Summary of events:
100-yard dash—Herbert Socolofsky, junior, first; Sheppard, junior, second; Harold Socolofsky, junior, third.
220-yard dash—Herbert Socolofsky, junior, first; Roberts, sophomore, second; Noeske, sophomore, third.
Quarter-mile—Roberts, senior, first; Kennedy, junior, second; Stolzhise, junior, third.
1/2-mile—Leon, junior, first; Jones, senior, second; Robertson, junior, third.
Half-mile—Adams, junior, first; Jones, senior, second; Gapa, senior, third.
High jump—Griffith, senior, first; Nyman, sophomore, second; Kennedy, junior, third.
Broad jump—Stolzhise, junior, first; Nyman, sophomore, second; Sheppard, senior, third.
100-yard low hurdles—Post, junior, first; I. Sheppard, senior, second; Cromwell, junior, third.
Shot put—A. Sheppard, senior, first; Stolzhise, junior, second; I. Sheppard, senior, third; Post, junior, fourth.
120-yard low hurdles—Post, junior, first; I. Sheppard, senior, second; Cromwell, junior, third.

Governor Eberhardt of Minnesota Visits Here

Former Governor Eberhardt of Minnesota was a visitor in Salem yesterday for a few hours. He was here in connection with a big corporation which is affiliated with Debiskey and Co., a large financial concern which operates in Oregon and other states. The former Minnesota executive was here in conference with T. B. Handley, state corporation commissioner.

SENIOR PLAY IS POSTPONED

High School Students Alter Date to Avoid Conflict With U. of O.

The annual senior play, "The Man From Home," which was to have been presented by the senior class at the high school Friday night has been postponed until the following Wednesday, the management of the play announced yesterday. The change was made in order that the date might not conflict with the presentation of the annual senior play, "Nothing But The Truth," which the graduating class of the University of Oregon are going to present here at the Grand theater Friday night. Although the Eugene management offered to change the date of their play it was felt that it would be less difficult to change that of the high school production. The university people said that they had contracted for that date without knowing that it would come on the same night as a local play. Those seats which have already been sold for the high school will be honored on next Wednesday night, according to the high school manager.

STUDENTS HEAR TALK ON BONUS

Winslow and Abrams Present Plea at Willamette University Chapel

Walter C. Winslow and Carl Abrams spoke Wednesday at the Willamette chapel services on the soldier's bonus and loan bill to come before the voters of Oregon, June 7.

Mr. Winslow especially dwelt upon the fact that Oregon had been first in so many splendid national enterprises to win the war. He recalled the pledges the state had made to do the right thing by the soldiers who represented Oregon on the field. It would be inconceivable at this time, he said, for the state to fail or refuse to carry out the pledges. He said that most other states had already made provision for caring for their soldiers, and that it would be a humiliation and a disgrace to have the telegraph send the report all over the nation and the world, that Oregon alone had repudiated its obligations after getting the services which it pledged its honor to repay.

The fact that the university was so nearly depopulated of boys of military age, during the war, and that so many of those now on the Willamette rolls wear the bronze star of service, made it an impressive service.

Flags May be Lowered To Honor Soldier Dead

Hereafter the flag on the Salem postoffice will be lowered to half-mast during funeral ceremonies of local men who lost their lives in the war and whose remains are sent home, if the request is made in an official way. Postmaster Hucksstein was informed yesterday that favorable action had been taken at Washington.

Requests have been received from time to time at Washington from custodians of public buildings under control of the treasury department, for permission to half-mast flags during funeral ceremonies over the remains of soldiers returned from abroad. The permission has been given by the department at Washington and henceforth flags will be lowered to half-mast during such ceremonies, provided a request is sent to the custodian of such enough trained in observing colors. One would be tempted to guess that fully one-half of these shades, which do not include any of the reds or greens, are visible in the display.

The flowers will be on exhibition all this week, or as long as they last, or new ones come in to fill the places of the first ones.

Fine Platter of Fish Shown in Store Window

A platter of trout that made even old men wearing canes, drop their support and begin to measure off the incredible length of the big fellow that he hooked but that finally broke away, was shown in the Hauser Brothers window yesterday.

There was a big steelhead, 18 inches long, a fish that looked capable of butting its way up a ravine, with or without water. Next was a beautiful Dolly Varden trout, smaller and as dainty as a bird of paradise or the works of a Jurgensen watch. "Purty as a circus pony" was no name for the exquisite spotted beauty of a choice Dolly Varden. The third of the series was a rainbow trout, or cut-throat as some have called it. It has a row of teeth that would gnaw sole leather like a rat; and its reputation for voracity is that of a tramp or a bulldog.

The fish were taken on the upper Santiam by George Johnson. Most fishermen have reported that the Santiam is still too high for good fishing. Mr. Johnson found little trouble in getting all these splendid varieties in one trip.

President Decided on Shipping Board Members

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Harding is understood to have reached a conclusion as to practically the entire membership of the shipping board and nominations for the seven places on the board may go to the senate before the end of the week.

CLOTHING TAKEN FROM CLEANER

Thieves Enter Shop of S. Watanaba and Make Away With Haul

Men's clothing valued at several hundred dollars was taken on Tuesday night from the cleaning and pressing establishment of S. Watanaba, 434 North Commercial street. Entrance was gained after forcing a padlock loose from the front door. The burglars succeeded in getting away with 16 suits, an overcoat, a hat and a suit case. Most of the suits bore the trade mark of local business firms.

Appearance would lead to the belief that the intruders were systematic workers and that after they performed their work rapidly leaving in an automobile immediately after for unknown parts. Whether time would permit of the taking of about 20 suits which were drying or whether the culprits were afraid that the clinging odor might lead to their detection is a question, that they were discriminating in their choice is, however, most apparent.

Gathering Trout Eggs Is Nearing Completion

PORTLAND, May 31.—Gathering rainbow trout eggs for incubation in fish hatcheries is nearly completed, according to the state game commission, and it is thought that the egg-take this year will be in excess of ten million eggs.

"Between five million and six million rainbow trout were hatched and planted last year," declared A. E. Burghdoff, state game warden, "and I believe at least ten million trout fry will be hatched and planted in the various lakes and streams this year."

Mr. Burghdoff and M. L. Rickman, superintendent of hatcheries, have returned from a trip to the McKenzie and Butte Falls hatcheries.

DISPLAY OF IRIS RICH AND RARE

Extremely Beautiful Collection of Flowers Shown At City Library

If anybody thought that the iris grows in only three colors—blue, white and yellow—he could explain such a display as is shown at the Salem City library this week only on the ground that he had been color blind and couldn't tell the difference. There are almost 100 named varieties, and others that have no name but are the living exemplification of the poet's verse:

"What's in a name. A rose, by any other name would smell as sweet."

The flowers come in almost every known shade, except the brilliant reds. There are Black Knights, and white-as-snows, and a host of arbitrary names that mean nothing except an identification; but the flowers themselves represent the most incredible shadings. Mauve, lavenders, mild blues, yellows, and a thousand indescribable shades from these primary colors make up most of the display. Painters say that more than 2,000,000 shades are recognizable by the eye skillfully
