Lane County Vote Fails To Recall Mr. Harlow

Friends of M. H. Harlow, commissioner of Lane county, will be pleased to hear that at the election held yesterday, when efforts were made to recall him, that he was fully sustained by the voters of Eugene and Lane county by a vote of about two to one.

With about $2,000,000 to spend the next few years in road building, Mr. Harlow was the only member of the county court that had had experience in county affairs, and especially in road building. Certain interests were opposed to his methods of saving the county money, and attempted to put him out of office.

Mr. Harlow is well known by fruit growers throughout the state. He is president of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association, having been elected last April, and has served on the board since the association was organized about two years ago.

LOGGERS BESTED
BY LEGIONERS
Hope of Lumber Pilers To Win Pennant Quashed in Last Night's Game

The Legionaires put an end to what hopes the Loggers may have had to win the Twilight league pennant to the tune of 7 to 2 in last night's game on Willamette field.

The Lumberpilers played good ball in the field, but were unable to connect with Week's fast ones, setting in all but four safe hits, and winning 12 times. Their first counter came in the initial frame, when Durlin drew a walk, stole second and third and came home on McKee's single through short. In the next inning Bozell practically repeated the performance for their second and last tally.

The ex-soldiers gathered two runs in the first canto, added another in the second, and put a padlock on the final outcome by bringing four more across in the third for a total of seven. Of their five safe hits, one was a three-bagger, and two were for two sacks all coming at the crucial moments.

WILLIE'S GUESSES

The actors Willie knows most about are those who do lofty feats in the circus and vaudeville. He has a proper appreciation of the danger of their calling and the means adopted for their safety.

Recently he heard his father, while reading a book on theatricals, mention the name of Sir Henry Irving.

"Who is Sir Henry Irving, father?" asked the boy.
"He was a great actor," said father.
"What show is he with?"
"He isn't with any show now. He's dead."

STRESS PLACED UPON SERVICE

Program for Boys Announced by Y—Chicago Man Elected Director

"Service membership" that will allow any boy to avail himself of the Y. M. C. A. privileges, has been agreed upon by the Salem Y. M. C. A. committee as a proper plan to bring every boy under the Y influence. It will be adopted in full, if the city authorities will meet the association half-way, as is being done in many other cities.

The general plan is to allow every boy to make the Y his club room, whether he has or has not the money to pay for his membership. The one requirement is service, attendance on some Sunday school or similar institution giving religious and moral instruction. If he is earning any money, he is expected to pay something; if he isn't, and needs the Y, it is his. The city, however, is asked to help make up any financial deficiency that may ensue through opening this extensive service to the possible many who can quite pay their own way, but who as future citizens need the best influences that can be given them during the impressionable years of boyhood.

In so many other places where the plan has been tried, the city has found it such a money-maker in the decrease of crime and petty prosecutions, that it is held to be a great tax-saver to vote the necessary small amount of municipal funds direct to the Y for administration. Olympia, Port Coler, Billings, are a few of the places that have tried the plan and found it a great winner. The matter will be presented to the Salem city council for consideration.

Secretary Kells announces the selection of Robert N. Boardman of Chicago as manager for the Y department and general athletics, to begin on his arrival here in August. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university and attended the Columbus Art school, as well as the Springfield Y. M. C. A. training school. For the past year he has been art director of all the Rotary club publications.

Boardman was for 20 months in France, as division director of athletics, with 50 assistants under him. He's a big fellow, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches tall, and he weighs 235 pounds of smiling, vital, wholesome strength. He will spend a month at the Great Lakes, Geneva training school before coming here to take up his new duties. Mr. Boardman has rejected an offer of $1100 a year more than he will get here, and he saved $600 a year from his present position, but he wanted to come west, and to be with his old friend, C. A. Kells, general secretary of the Salem "Y," so he passed the others by and is preparing to give Salem the very best he has.

It should be said that the "service membership" plan can not be made effective until the close of the present fiscal year, October 1, at which time it is hoped that it can be adopted in full. It considers sincere parochial or Jewish religious instruction the same as Protestant Sunday school attendance, and so is living up to the finest traditions of the Y. The directors and secretaries are in thorough accord to try and make the "Christian" part of the name a living reality, so that there can be no reproach as to its being a largely secular institution.

The board passed a resolution of thanks to the Mothers' club that recently installed curtains in the Y reading room; also to Harold Eakin, the leader of the "Hi-Y" club, a high school organization that has met in the Y rooms and has done a vast amount of good citizenship work among its members. This Salem club is said to be one of the best, if not absolutely the leader, in the whole northwest.

Several men from Salem will attend the great annual summer school at Seabeck, Wash., July 8 to 23. It is a training school for Y leadership, and presents all the big new and old things that can make the Y great. E. M. Robinson, the pioneer leader in the boys' department, who has been a year's tour abroad, to study the boy problem all over the world, and he will give at Seabeck his first series of wonderful talks on what he has learned abroad.

Whitney is Bound Over To County Grand Jury

After waiving an examination on a charge of burglary yesterday, William Whitney was bound over to the grand jury by Judge G. E. Unruh of the justice court. Whitney is under arrest charged with having taken a number of watches from the second hand store of which H. C. Lockhart is the proprietor. The watches were recovered when the arrest was made in Portland on Tuesday by Lieutenant of Detectives J. A. Goltz, in the north end of the city where Whitney attempted to dispose of them at a second hand store.

About a month ago, Whitney was released from the Multnomah county jail after having served six months for attempting to break into a house on the East Side. He was brought back to Salem Tuesday night by Chief of Police Moffitt, to answer to the charge preferred against him here.

SCHOOL PLAYERS ARE REAL ACTORS
Huge Success is Scored In Presentation of "The Man from Home"

Interpretation of the leading roles in a style which would have done great credit to the more professional cast which presented the play in Salem some four years ago, crowned the presentation of "The Man from Home" when it was presented by the senior class of the high school last night.

Alfred Montgomery as Daniel Pike, the American "Man from Home" was not only well cast into his part, but interpreted most creditably the part of the unsophisticated and unaffected young American who rescues his young ward, Ethel Simpson, from the designs of an aristocratic Italian family who had hoped to marry Ethel into the family in order to secure her money. Montgomery carried his part with an ease and naturalness of which he spoke careful direction and a thorough familiarity with principles of dramatic presentation.

Janelle Vandeventer as Ethel, the ward of Pike, who has been educated with Italian society and especially with the title of countess which she hopes to attain, won much favorable comment for her interpretation of a difficult role which involved a complete change of viewpoint during the action of the play. Rudolph Paulson as Almeric, with whom it is planned Ethel shall make an alliance, kept his audience in constant good nature by his imitation of an Italian dandy. Other characters who carried the parts especially well were Frank Chapman as the Grand Duke Vasilvitch and Percy Hammond as Ivanoff.

The play was given under the direction of Miss Mabel Davenport upon whom falls the credit for the development of a cast, most of whom were new to the stage, but two having taken parts in previous high school dramatics.

The entire cast included: Daniel Voorhies Pike, Alfred Montgomery; Horace Granger-Simpson, Mayne Mack; Earl of Hawcastle, Frank Alfred; The Hon. Almeric St. Aubyn, Rudolph Paulsen; the Grand Duke Vasilvitch, Frank Chapman; Ivanoff, Percy Hammond; Marianne, Burton Adams; Ribiere, Joe Albrich; Michele, William McKinney; Carabiniere, Don Davidson; Edwin Edwards; Ethel Granger-tesse de Champigny, Jean Kitts; Comtesse de Champigny, Jean Kitts; Lady Creech, Josephine Bross.
