AN ADVERTISEMENT HELPED HER

Mrs. Lucile Mackey, 16 Buena Vista St., Washington, Pa., writes: "Last winter my 3-year-old girl caught a bad cold which left her with a dry cough. It bothered her most at night and she would cough until she vomited. I think she must have had whooping cough. I saw an advertisement for Foley's Honey and Tar, I tried it and bought two bottles and her cough left her before she finished the second bottle. She had gotten awfully thin, but now she is as fat as ever." Sold everywhere—Adv.

UNFORTUNATE KNOWLEDGE.

"I thought sure Jack and Miss Fyrtie would make a match of it. What caused the break?" said Smith. "It was all due to Jack's unfortunate knowledge of Shakespeare. You see, when he proposed Miss Fyrtie said: 'Well, here's my hand and my heart with it. 'Twas mine; 'tis yours'." "And has been slave to thousands" quoted Jack without thinking—and it was all off in the twinkling of an eye."—Unidentified.

HOFF, OLCOTT TO RUN AGAIN

Mr. Patterson May Decide To Try For State Treasurer Nomination

MANY NAMES ARE HEARD

Bean of Eugene is Likely to Try to Unhorse Hawley For Congress

Who will be the Republican aspirants for the nomination for state treasurer?

Who is going to run for the Republican congressional nomination in the three Oregon districts?

Who is going to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer?

What are the Democrats going to do?

These are some of the questions that are being asked in Oregon politics.

Olcott is silent. Governor Olcott has not told anyone he will be a candidate in 1922, at least he hasn't said so where it would reach the public. A year ago it was frequently said that Olcott would not be a candidate. So one says it now, and it may safely be said that he will be in the race. There are three reasons for this. One is that the legislature this year increased the salary, so there is at least bread and butter in it. Another reason is the human desire to hold office by election of the people as well as by inheritance. The third is the political policy adopted by the governor which his friends believe has maintained for him friendships sufficient to warrant his entering the race.

Baker is Enigma. No one has yet come forward with any definite information whether Mayor George L. Baker of Portland will be a candidate nor whether Colonel George Kelly, member of the Port of Portland commission and business man, will be a candidate. Both Baker and Kelly talk is strong in Portland and sporadically about the state.

Senator I. L. Patterson has everyone guessing except those who are on the inside. The senator is rarin' to go for governor. But he is a close personal and political friend of Mr. Olcott. Whether his ambition to be governor is strong enough to cause him to discard sentiment and run against Olcott is a question. There is a rumor that Patterson will stay out of the gubernatorial race and become an aspirant for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. Should Olcott not be a candidate, it is said the administration support would go to Patterson.

Friends of Colonel George A. White, adjutant general of Oregon, have been importuning him for several months to seek the governorship, but the colonel is said to have discouraged their efforts. Before the war White was sometimes mentioned as a gubernatorial possibility.

Kay Might Run. T. B. Kay, former state treasurer, and member of many sessions of the legislature, is under consideration. Kay's record for retrenchment and economy in the last legislature gave him strength among farmers' organizations and a percentage of business men. He would be able to poll a large vote in western Oregon both because of his record and his acquaintance. Hundreds of eastern Oregon farmers and stockmen have been hard hit in the last year or two and retrenchment might appeal to them more than ever before. This would help Kay.

Senator Jay Upton of Princeton is among the latest to be talked of as a gubernatorial possibility.

The halls of congress where he might sit in place of Nick Sinart is believed to be more of a lure to Senator Roy Ritter of Pendleton than is the governor's office. There is no Ritter talk relative to the governorship. L. J. Simonsen of Coos Bay is not considered a gubernatorial possibility. A new figure in the country has been mentioned as Judge Thomas J. Cleston of Portland. It is said he might aspire to the governorship or try to beat Pat McArthur for the congressional nomination.

Hoff Will Run. As for the office of state treasurer, recent gossip has it that O. P. Hoff will be a candidate for reelection. Senator Thomas Ryan of Oregon City, who was deputy under former State Treasurer Kay, and whom Hoff barely defeated in 1918, is looked upon as a certain entrant. Should Senator Patterson not run for governor, he may run for treasurer.

In the first congressional district which W. C. Hawley has represented for years at Washington, L. E. Bean of Eugene has designs on the place. In the second district Senator Ritter may try to unhorse Mr. Sinnott. Ritter is also talked of for national committee-man to succeed Ralph E. Williams.

Much interest is beginning to center on the third district, Multnomah county. Information comes to the surface that Barze E. Leonard and Maurice Crimpacker want McArthur's place and may try to get it in the next election. Judge Cleston is mentioned also in this connection as well as a possible candidate for governor.

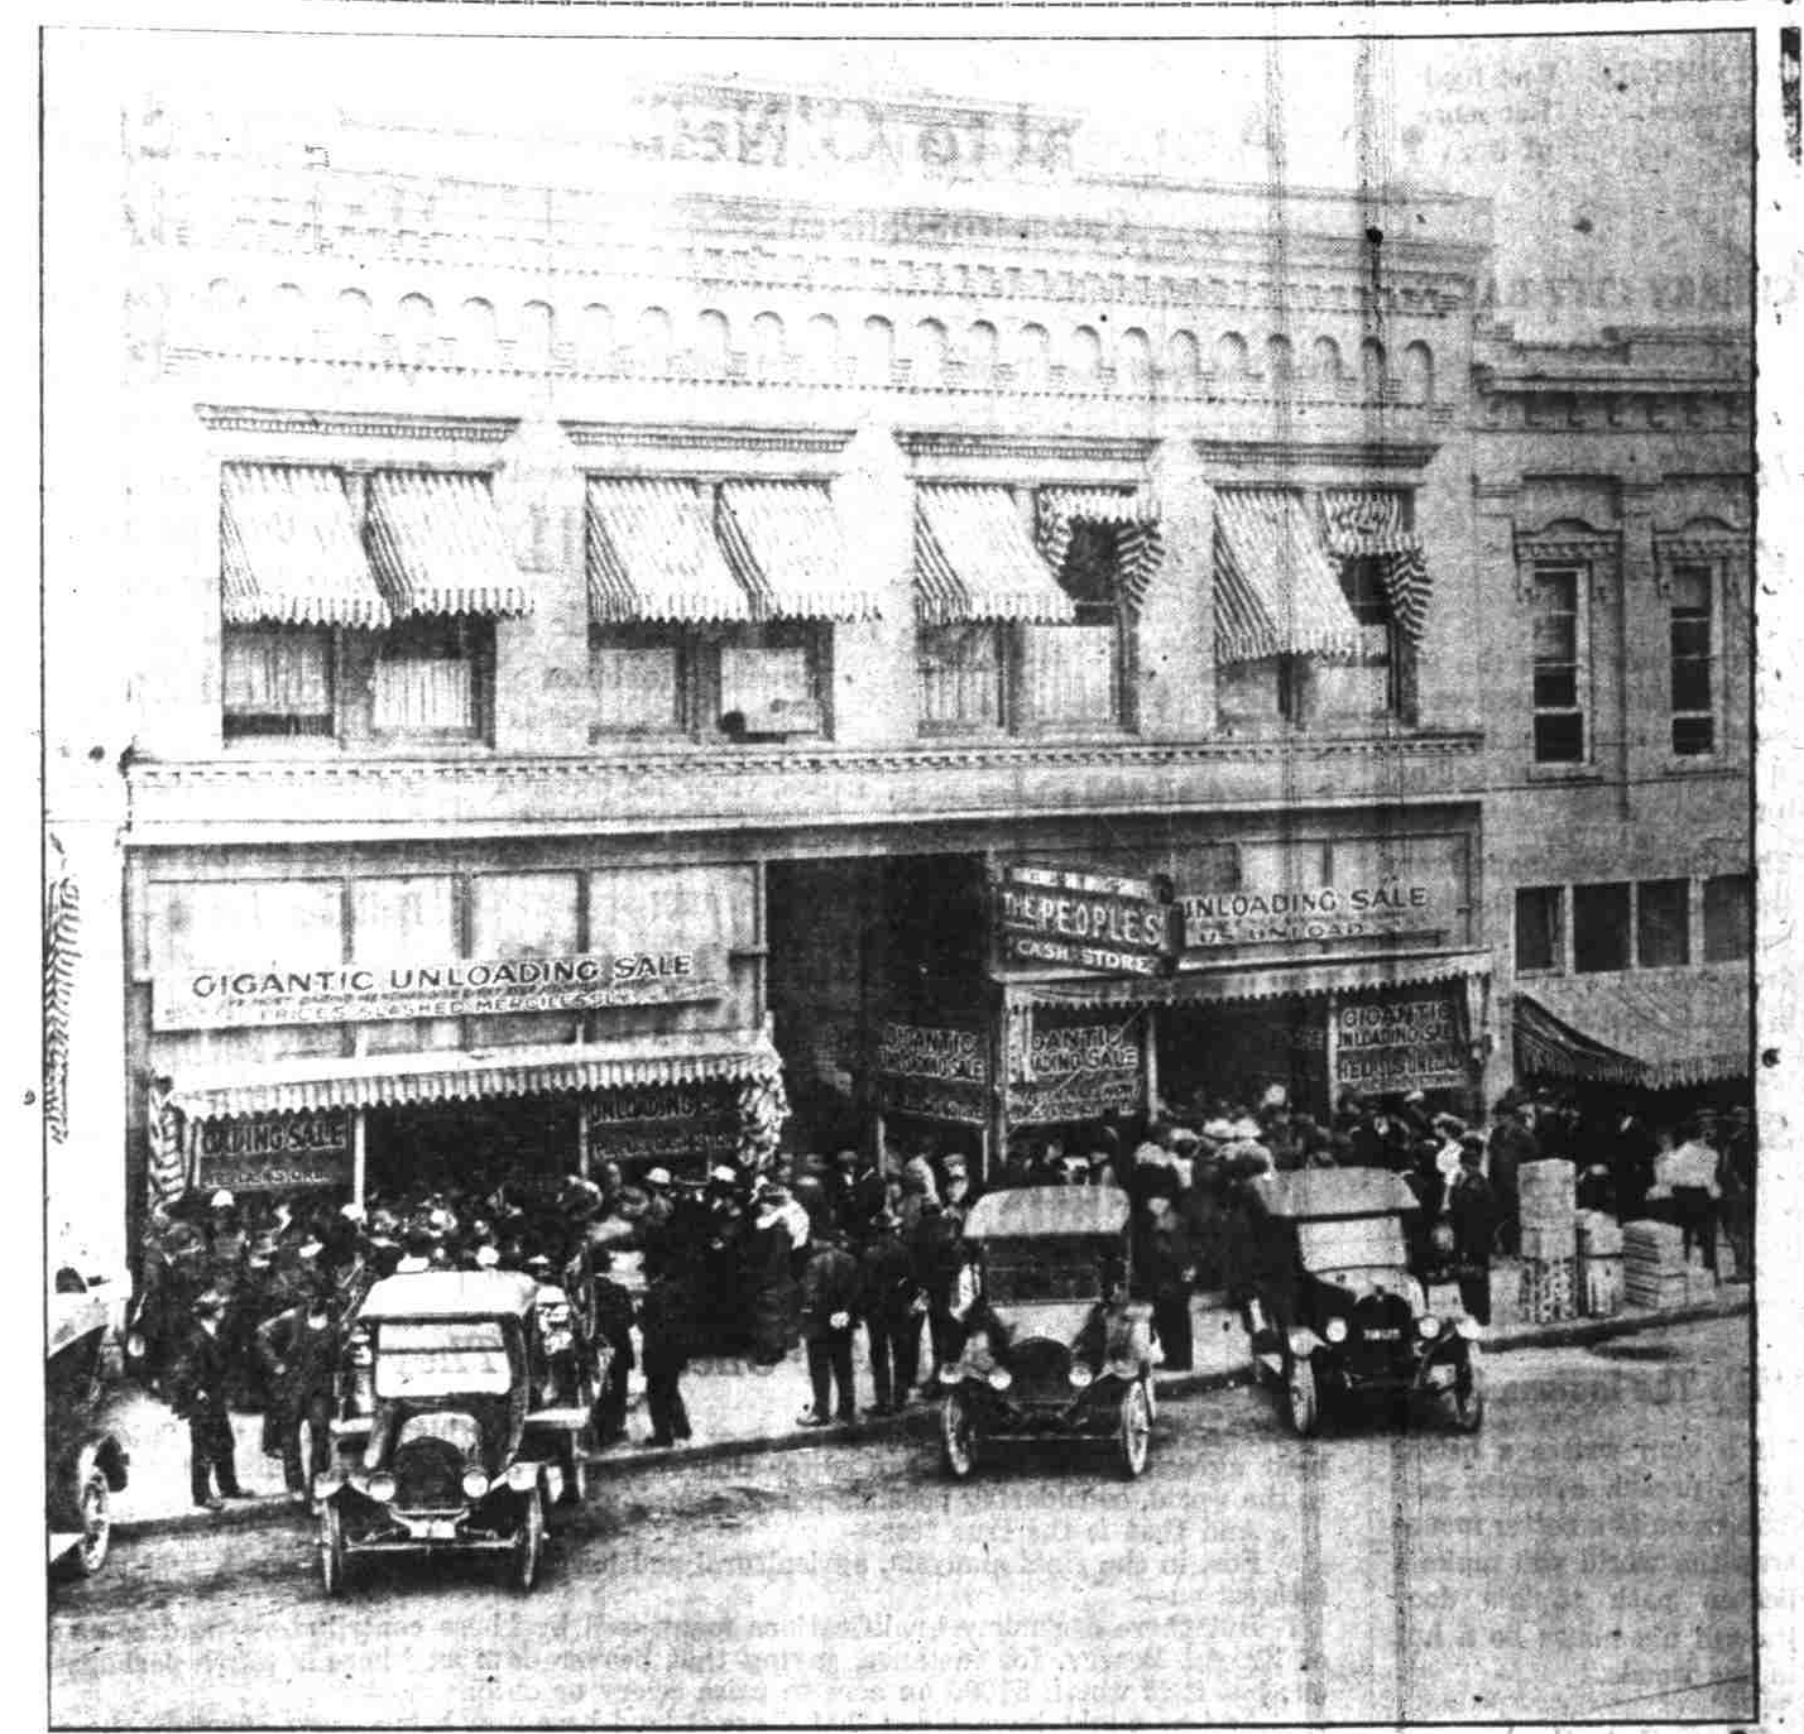

From the Democratic camp it is said that either Lester Humphreys, United States attorney and over-seas veteran, or Joseph N. Teal, who was a member of the United States shipping board, will be put forward for governor. Colonel Creed Hammond, soldier and banker, had been mentioned until he indignantly asserted that no longer would he be on the registration books of the Democratic party.

YOUNGEST OF TALMADGE SISTERS MARRIED.

Natalie Talmadge, the youngest of the three Talmadge Graces and up to a short time ago the only remaining unmarried star in the family, is a bride-to-day, making it unanimous. She has fallen in line with her more illustrious sisters, Norma and Constance, the latter of whom stole away to Greenwich, Conn., recently and with one of the Gishes deserted the banks of single blessedness. The lucky one is "Burtie" Keaton.

PEOPLE'S CASH STORE ATTRACTS THOUSANDS OF EAGER BUYERS

PEOPLE'S CASH STORE.

In commenting on the advertising activities one can well understand why the retail establishments as well as the people as a whole, look with prestige to the newspaper of the country. As an example and with the illustration one can look with pride at the activities of the People's Cash store, well known to all thrifty shoppers as a bargain center.

In speaking of the principles of relations of forceful and expressive advertising, these ideals cannot be granted unless well and truthfully displayed.

"Our honor-hill system is rapidly moulding one of the largest stores in the state outside of Portland; also developing a new idea in the mind of the public in general," said Max Solof of the People's Cash store.

Speaking to his managers at a luncheon in honor of the successful opening of their gigantic unloading sale, Mr. Solof said:

"First of all let me tell you advertising is related to loyalty, and advertising is not different in Salem than in any other city of a similar or larger size. Human nature is human nature wherever one finds it; and it leads me to emphasize its point of invitation. A newspaper carries an invitation couched in a language of words and illustrations and in a sense of complement which appeals to the public and right here let me say that our sale has never been surpassed by any legitimate event ever held in Salem, and for this we can give great credence to the newspapers of Salem, coupled with our mammoth buying power and our ability to undersell other institutions.

"We have passed the milestones of 'Who pays the advertising ills?' We know that the people will not hire a secret service agency to find our place of business; and again, we know those various precepts which preach the gospel of correct advertising and I will say that it is no secret for me to tell you that the success we are today-able to enjoy is but the fruits of hard efforts.

"The end of each month finds the People's Cash store a bigger, better and stronger concern, and to our success we attribute much to the mediums of truthful and forceful advertising."

Bolshevik Propaganda Run Down in England

LONDON, June 7.—Determined efforts are being made by the British home office to get at the bottom of bolshevik propaganda in this country, according to the Daily Sketch, which says that reports have been received of dangerous activities of the bolshevik in London and Scotland.

Raids have been carried out at Scotland Yard detectives on all leged bolshevik meeting places and offices and it is reported that sensational discoveries have been made.

While searching one building the detectives found a small cassette containing ashes which are declared to be those of Rosa Luxemburg ("Red Rosa"), the German socialist who was killed in 1919 about the same time as Carl Liebknecht, the communist agitator.
