SOUTHERN PACIFIC DISCRIMINATES IN FAVOR OF CALIFORNIA AND AGAINST OREGON

Man Hidden in Oak Grove on Capitol Street Shoots at Automobiles as They Pass

FREIGHT RATE ON FRUITS IS HELD UNEQUAL

Revision of Charges on Dried Product Demanded In Sharp Missive from Public Service Commission.

ACTION OF RAILROAD INJURES INDUSTRY

State Officials Astonished at Differential Established By Company

The public service commission yesterday sent a telegram to H. A. Hinshaw, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific company at Portland, followed by a sharp letter signed by Chairman Williams of the commission, denouncing as basely discriminatory against Oregon the differential that has been established in freight rates on dried fruit between California and Oregon. The commission demands equalization.

After calling attention to the Yakima hearing on fruit rates, called by the interstate commerce commission last month, Mr. Williams writes:

Fruit Production Hurt

"We are advised that the Southern Pacific placed in effect about the first of June a 95 cents per hundred weight rate on dried fruit in boxes from California points to New York and eastern points via Galveston and New Orleans. In fact, we are reliably informed that your road has announced a reduction on dried fruit in boxes at 95 cents and in sacks at $1.15 as against $166½ and $2.00 previously for export shipments from California via New Orleans and Galveston to New York. Of course, as you know, the best rate that the dried

RAY GILBERT'S HEAD GRAZED BY MYSTERIOUS GUN-MAN'S BULLET

Hidden in the oak grove on Mill creek near Capitol street, a person whom the police think may have been insane, fired from ambush at passing automobiles last night, grazing the head of Ray Gilbert who was one of the passersby.

About 11 o'clock Mr. Gilbert, while driving alone in his car on his way to his home at Nineteenth and Nebraska streets, was passing the spot when someone fired a shot from the grove, grazing his ear. Mr. Gilbert drove immediately to the police department only to find that a previous case of a like nature was being reported.

A few minutes preceding Mr. Gilbert, an automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. William Prunk, Miss Annis Fitts and Fred Welch was traveling along Capitol street and when approaching the grove a shot was fired at an automobile ahead of them. Who the occupants of the car were they were unable to tell, but at any rate it was evident that they were targets for the would-be assassin.

Chief of Police Moffitt and Officer White went to the place indicated and though they scoured the creek up and down its banks they could find no trace of the gunman.

Floral Offering Bound With Tri-Color of France Sent As Tribute by Citizens of Chateau Thierry.

COMRADES IN ARMS PRAISE COMMANDER

Theodore Roosevelt Speaks Briefly as Representative Of Government

CINCINNATI, June 11.—Thousands of persons today paid tribute to the memory of Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American legion, who was killed in an automobile accident.

The funeral services were held in Music hall, under the auspices of the American legion and were marked by great simplicity.

Orations Are Brief.

Brief orations were delivered by Rev. John Hergot, who was the chaplain of the 147th infantry, which was commanded by Colonel Galbraith in France; Rev. Frederick McMillan, also an overseas chaplain; Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, representing the government; former Congressman Victor Heintz of Ohio, who was a captain under Galbraith; Colonel Franklin D' Olier, former commander of the legion, and Marjot, Knecht, director of the French information service in the United States, representing France.

Roosevelt Pays Tribute.

In his address, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"We mourn his death, but we are proud of his life. We shall miss him in the troubled days that lie before us, but our faith in our country is strengthened in that it can breed such men.

Colonel D' Olier said:

"The legion has lost its great leader; the service man, and especially the disabled man, has lost his best friend. this city, this state and this nation has lost one of its most useful citizens."

France Sends Tributes.

Captain De Levergne, air attache of the French embassy, posthumously conferred on Colonel Galbraith the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, by direction of the president of France.

After services the body then was borne on a gun carriage, followed by a large military cortege to a vault in Spring Grove cemetery, preparatory to its interment in Arlington cemetery, in Washington. One of the floral offerings consisted of palms bound with the tri-color of France, the tribute of the citizens of Chateau Thierry.

BEE RAISERS IN SESSION TO ORGANIZE

Temporary Association Is Formed at Silverton, Later Meeting for Salem

Beekeepers of Marion county met in Silverton yesterday to effect a county organization that might benefit and protect the industry.

There were only a few men present, but they were representative of all parts of the county, and from their serious attitude it is evident that a large organization will result.

Joe Winters of Hullt was made temporary chairman to call the meeting to order, and temporary organization was effected by selecting G. A. Bock of Silverton as temporary president and W. H. Bowers as secretary.

G. A. Bock of Silverton and George Weeks of Salem were selected as a committee to arrange the time and place for the next meeting to perfect a permanent organization.

Mr. Bock stated after the meeting that the next meeting of the organization would be called for Salem, to meet in the near future, it being the belief that Salem is the most central location, and a larger number of bee men will be able to attend.

7-YEAR-OLD GIRL FOUND MURDERED

Mutilated Body of Matilda Russo Found Buried in Negro's Shack

MOORESTOWN, N. J., June 11.—The body of 7-year-old Matilda Russo, missing since Saturday, was found today buried in the cellar of a negro's shack, 60 yards from her home. The child had been stripped of clothing and the throat and abdomen deeply hacked. She was the daughter of Michael Rosco, a tailor.

Police are rocking Lewis Lively, a 35-year-old negro, in whose cellar the mutilated body was found.

While authorities at first announced the little girl had been mistreated, a physician after an autopsy today, expressed his opinion that she had not been attacked.

In Lively's house there is an adopted boy. This child and the Russo children, who are of Italian parentage, had frequently quarreled, the police say, in explaining their beliefs that the murder was the result of a race feud.

Lively's wife and the boy are being held as witnesses.

SOLDIER LOAN IS AVAILABLE IN 4 MONTHS

Estimate is That 5000 Men Will Be Immediate Applicants for Privilege Under New Amendment.

OTHERS DEFER REQUEST UNTIL LATER YEARS

Some Lads Not Yet of Age May Await Until Time to Establish Homes

Some of the American legion members who have had occasion to investigate, believe that 5,000 service men will apply for state loans as soon as the money is available — which they believe will be within four months from the date of the passage of the measure.

This is of course only an estimate, but they believe it to be close to the truth. They estimate that there are about 34,000 men in all who are entitled to the soldiers' relief. Out of this number, some have left for other states, and will never return to Oregon to take advantage of the privileges offered them. Some are well enough situated, financially, that they will ask nothing from the state. It is estimated, however, that probably another 7000 will ask for their privileges under the new law, within another year after the law becomes effective.

Loan Privilege Lasts

A point that has not been emphasized, and is not perhaps considered by many, even of the beneficiaries, is that the law has no time clause for the loan features. Unless repealed by the people—which is not conceivable it will be as effective in 10 or 40 years, as it is the day it goes into operation. The cash bonus provision is terminable, but the other is not; it lasts like mother-love.

The great good of this everlasting feature of the loan bill is that if a soldier is not now, or for two to five or 10 years, ready to settle down for a permanent home he does not lose his rights, but can at any time ask for and receive what is due him. Many of the boys are still under 21 years old, and are not through school, not ready to establish themselves in business and home. When a home becomes their one supreme desire, the state money is still ready for them, to be had for the asking.

May Build Home This Year

The new law is to be worked out and put into operation as soon as it can possibly be done; which will be this fall, in time for home building if any one wants a home this year.

The law will be equally beneficial for almost every community in the state, because the soldiers went from every place in almost exactly the same proportion; and the home opportunities are practically the same all over the state.

Oil Refinery Burns At Salt Lake; Loss $350,000

SALT LAKE CITY, June 11.—Fire did damage estimated at $350,000 tonight when a tank at the plant of the Utah Oil Refining company here, containing 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline distillate was struck by lightning. Within a moment after the flash, the tank was a mass of flames and smoke, making the most spectacular blaze in the history of the city.

Three firemen were overcome by the heat and smoke. John C. Howard, president of the company said tonight that the loss was covered by 50 per cent insurance.

J. F. Callahan, Wealthy Miner, is Seriously Ill

WALLACE, Idaho, June 11.—James F. Callahan, wealthy mining operator of the Couer d' Alene district of Idaho, was reported in a serious condition tonight following a stroke of paralysis at his home here last night. He is unable to speak or recognize friends it was said, and his right side is completely paralyzed.

Gardner Describes His Plan of Escape to Scenario Writer and Carries it Out in Exact Detail

SEATTLE, Wash., June 11.—Roy Gardner, master train robber, who, with Morris H. Pyron, escaped from their guards on a California train at Castle Rock, Wash., early today, outlined in detail his plan to escape and then proceeded to carry out the details, according to Miss Sada Cowan of Los Angeles, motion picture scenario writer, who talked with the convict on the train yesterday.

Miss Cowan, upon her arrival here today said she talked with the two men and that Gardner had given her his plan for escape, as the outline for a scenario.

"He declared he would get the guard at the unexpected time," Miss Cowan said, "and told me in the presence of his guards that he did not intend to go to McNeil's. He said he would watch his chance and I would get my next thriller 'straight from the main heavy.'"

When they parted for the night Gardner said "sorry I can't tell you just when I'm going—I'd like to say goodbye," Miss Cowan related and later in the night she was awakened by the two guards, handcuffed together and discussing their plight in whispers outside her berth.

MARION-POLK CLOVER ACREAGE HAS INCREASED 250 PER CENT

An astonishing fact is brought out by the estimate of a careful observer of crop conditions in Marion and Polk counties—that the acreage of clover has increased 250 per cent this season over that of last year.

During the war, much of the available farm land was put into wheat; partly from a patriotic motive, partly because it promised to pay. It really did pay, part of the time; but last year broke the back of the wheat boom and it didn't pay any longer.

The clover fields and almost every other kind of fields had been robbed for the wheat crop. Wheat grows at its best following a good setting of clover, so the clover suffered first and most.

Wheat Acreage Down.

Now, the wheat acreage has fallen fully one-third, and the clover is coming back into its own. Oats, too, is down to only

SHARP RAISE IN DAIRY FOOD IS MADE IN LAST TWO WEEKS

Prices for dairy products have gone up appreciably—about 16 per cent—within the past two weeks, so that now the Marion county dairyman can begin to breathe without strangulation.

Some creamery butter, sold perhaps as a leader by stores that did not make dairy products their major business, was sold as low as 28 cents. A number of them sold as low as 30 cents for a long time. But none of them can do it now. The price has gone up, in a series of small raises of one or two cents, until now the usual retail price is 40 cents a pound for the best fresh local product.

Good Yield Promised

Creamery men say that the promise of a good yield of milk and cream is very good. The bottom of low prices has been reached and passed, they believe. There will not likely be a return to the low level of two or three

POLK COUNTY ROAD PROGRAM TARGET OF ZEILESCH SUIT

DALLAS, Or., June 11.—Suit was filed in the circuit court here today by Ernest Zeilesch and others against members of the Polk county court, the state highway commissin and various contractors who recently received contracts for highway work in Polk county, to restrain them from proceeding with highway work in this county.

While the principal objections of the plaintiffs, all of whom are residents of Independence and the south end of the county, are to the construction of the west side highway south of Monmouth to the Benton county line. The suit seeks to tie up the entire Polk county highway program.

FRUIT SHIPPERS AROUSED BECAUSE OF STORAGE IN TRANSIT CHARGES

Newspaper dispatches of Friday, indicating that the interstate commerce commission will approve the determination of the transcontinental railroad to make a charge of storage on transit on fresh fruit shipments from the Pacific coast eastward, thereby absorbing the best part of the recently announced freight rate reduction, has aroused Oregon and other Pacific coast shippers. Protests are being received by the Oregon public service commission.

The roads a few days ago, as a result doubtless of the Yakima hearing of the interstate commerce commission and other similar hearings, announced that the rate would be reduced from $1.66⅔ a hundred to $1.50, but that this would not allow the privilege of storage in transit, and that a charge would be made for storage. This storage, it is said, is about 10 cents a hundred so the reduction amounts only to about 6⅔ cents, because it is frequently an absolute necessity for fresh fruit to be stored on the way east. Apples particularly are affected seriously.

If the storage in transit charge is allowed it constitutes a joker in the railroad ruling that makes the fresh fruit business on the Pacific coast still look gloomy this season.

BASS SEASON TO OPEN THIS WEEK, AND SPORTS PREPARE TO TACKLE KING OF SLOUGH

Success of Big Fellow in Driving Out Swinish Carp Gives Him Sense of Egotism That Is Feared Except by Gamest Fishermen—Preparations Are for Wednesday

There are two excellent ways of preparing carp for the table.

The first is this: Catch your carp, clean and stake out on a clean oak plank, baste it carefully, cook it thoroughly before the camp fire or in the oven—and then throw away the carp and eat the board as the tenderer of the two.

The other is: Let a black bass eat him and a lot of his relations, and then go and catch the carp-fed bass, fry him to a frazzle, and have a dish fit for the gods.

Bass Crop Heavy.

The Oregon bass season opens Wednesday, with what is said to be the best crop of bass in the history of the Willamette valley, a-ripening in the sloughs and bayous where the bass abound. The bass fighers are getting out their heaviest tackle and spitting on and pickling their hands preparatory to a red-hot fight with the big-mouthed warriors of the still waters.

There used to be a "slough" of carp in the bayous and sloughs along the Willamette. The carp is not really a game fish, for all its occasional great size. Fisher-
