

SHAW SCHOOL TERM CLOSES

Addresses Are Given by Mrs. M. L. Fulkerson and August Huckestein

School district No. 80, at Shaw, closed its school year last night with a program that brought out a crowd much too big for even the spacious schoolhouse. County School Superintendent Mrs. M. L. Fulkerson presented the diplomas to the graduating class of four pupils, and made an especially fine address.

A patriotic address was given by August Huckestein, postmaster of Salem, on the subject of better education. Other Salem talent made it a delightful evening's entertainment. Misses Gertrude Aldrich and Grace Sherwood each sang solo. Miss Eloise Nye played a delightful piano number, and Miss Gayella Bicket gave a recitation that literally brought down the house.

The whole population of Shaw turned out for the occasion, and the four graduates certainly received an exceptional ovation.

FEDERATION PLEDGES HELP TO WORKERS

(Continued from page 1)

not to send a delegate because of the expense.

When newspaper reports had reached the organization's officials that Gompers might be opposed, he said "they instructed me to reach Denver as quickly as possible with the lone vote of Virginia for Gompers."

Washington for Incumbent.

The federation also received a telegram from Washington, D. C., labor council urging the re-election of President Gompers as a reply to the "outside influences that are attempting to disrupt the labor movement and endeavoring to undermine and destroy its leaders."

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED TO SENIOR CLASS

(Continued from page 1)

of scholarship and strength of character.

Robert Littler and Jennie Vandervort were awarded scholarships to Willamette on practically the same basis of competition.

George White was given the Joseph H. Albert prize of $20.

If You Miss "Skits" You'll Be Sorry. It starts today for 3 days only having been elected as the one who had exerted the greatest influence for good during his high school career.

GRAND THEATRE

The entire program follows:

Tell Me, Pray, from "The Answer" Herbert

High School Orchestra

Invocation, Rev. J. J. Evans

a War Song

b Serenade

From "Mound Builders" Bliss

High School Chorus

Class Representatives

"The Place of Commercial Training" (First Honor Scholarship) Kuhn

Reading, "The Man in the Shadow" (Elected by Faculty) Ava Miller

"The Responsibility" (Elected by Class) Robert Littler

Vocal Solos

a Where Blossoms Grow Mabel Marcus

b Ave Maria from "Cavalleria Rusticana" Mabel Marcus

Address to Class

"The Student and the Business World," Dr. E. C. Robbins, Dean Department Business Administration, University of Oregon.

Violin Solos

a "Cello" Gade

b "Liebesleid" Kreiser

Scire Buell

Presentation of Diplomas

Chairman H. O. White

Gypsy Love Song, from "Fortune Teller" Herbert Orchestra

Benediction Rev. F. R. Spaulding

Those who received diplomas were:

Burton Reno Adams

Georgia Ruth Albee

John Anthony Albright

Joseph Edward Albright

Norman Campbell Alexander

Frank Clarence Alfred

Elva May Ammer

Ruth Lucille Anderson

Carl Armstrong

Numa Joseph Arnold

William Boyd Ashby

Claire Farrish Ausman

Penelope Baggett

Ralph Russell Bailey

Luella Gertrude Barnett

Carmelita Esther Barquist

Albert Edward Bayne

Luella Marie Beckley

Florence Ernestine Berndt

Mary Josephine Bross

Scire Dexter Buell

Zeina Busch

Zenda Busch

Eulalie Anita Butler

Dorothy Ann Byers

Rether Marie Canfield

Helen Cammack

Eva Jane Carey

Fleta Marie Caspell

Rawson Henry Chapin

Frank James Chapman, Jr.

Reta Elizabeth Craggett

Beryl Cooper

Ethel May Cummings

Mildred Marie Davenport

Donald Davidson

Erma Jane Dearing

Frank George Deckebach, Jr.

Gladys A. Derrick

Delmer George DeSart

Mildred Donaldson

Everett Dunnette

Edna Marie Durfee

Carolyn Ariel East

Man Who Broke Bottles Is Assessed $20 Fine

F. H. Chapin was fined $20 yesterday in the city court by Judge Earl Rice on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on the streets Thursday night. When arrested Chapin was on the corner by the Ladd & Bush bank, and when he saw the police officers were going to get him, he broke on the pavement two perfectly good bottles of very hard cider. The fragrance of the amber liquid sent out a challenge to the officers who regretted they did not have a sponge.

Man Didn't Lose Bonds, He Just Put 'em Away

Another illustration of man's delinquency was made a matter of record yesterday when Conrad Dillman, who told the police on Thursday that he had lost a $50 liberty bond, again called up the police and said they need search no more for the missing bond. He said that he had put it away and had forgotten about it. He admitted that his wife had located it where he himself had hidden it.

SALEM POSTOFFICE PAYROLL IS HEAVY

(Continued from page 1)

maintained who delivers all this class of mail. The government takes the regular mailing stamp fee of 2 cents, and pays the other 8 cents to the carrier. There are some 1000 to 1200 special deliveries a month at this time, which makes a fairly busy job for a delivery clerk. As this is close to 40 for every day, including Sundays when they are sent out the same as any other day, and some of the trips may be up to a mile and a half each way, it may mean a good deal of travel. A mailman's job is up in Montana a few years ago held a grudge against the deputy postmaster who had to do all the delivering. It was the dead of a Montana winter, with the thermometer registering close to 50 below zero. The hater lived a full mile from the post office. He bought a bale of special delivery stamps, sent them to a correspondent out of town who would mail them so as to get in on the early morning train and he had that deputy postmaster carrying rings around the moon all that winter carrying special delivery stamps letters. There seems to be no such haters in the Salem office. If there were, they'd have their revenge only on some boy who does the carrying and gets paid for it.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Only the provisions of the Knox and Porter resolutions dealing with reservations of American rights were talked over today. It was predicted that an agreement would be reached easily on these.

Minnesota Man Elected As Head of Credit Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Willis B. Cross of Duluth, Minn., was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Credit Men at the closing session of the organization's 26th annual convention here today.

John E. Norvell, of Huntington, W. Va., was elected first vice-president; E. P. Tuttle of Boston, second vice-president; and J. H. Tregoe, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors named was J. H. Weer of Tacoma, Wash.

Notice to Subscribers

If you can arrange to renew your Subscription these "Booster Days" you will help a deserving candidate to win a Pony. Hand your Subscription to the candidate in your district or mail it to the Pony Contest Editor, Statesman Publishing Co., and we will place the Votes to the credit of your favorite candidate.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

LUMBER SURVEY SHOWS QUIETUDE

Operators, However, Believe Market Will Liven Up In Later Summer

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17.—Surveys made under direction of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen show a marked and general slowing down of activities in sawmills and logging camps of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, according to announcement today by legion headquarters here.

From the point of view of lumber production, the present period is unusually quiet for this time of the year, but information reaching Four-L headquarters indicates that about 65 per cent of the plants now closed will resume during July and August. Operators are optimistic toward next fall's demand for lumber.

High water in the Columbia river backing up in the Willamette, is keeping sawmills closed in Portland, including St. Johns, Ore. This factor and the slack market are keeping mills at St. Helens, Westport, and Astoria closed.

Man Who Broke Bottles Is Assessed $20 Fine

F. H. Chapin was fined $20 yesterday in the city court by Judge Earl Rice on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on the streets Thursday night. When arrested Chapin was on the corner by the Ladd & Bush bank, and when he saw the police officers were going to get him, he broke on the pavement two perfectly good bottles of very hard cider. The fragrance of the amber liquid sent out a challenge to the officers who regretted they did not have a sponge.

Man Didn't Lose Bonds, He Just Put 'em Away

Another illustration of man's delinquency was made a matter of record yesterday when Conrad Dillman, who told the police on Thursday that he had lost a $50 liberty bond, again called up the police and said they need search no more for the missing bond. He said that he had put it away and had forgotten about it. He admitted that his wife had located it where he himself had hidden it.

SALEM POSTOFFICE PAYROLL IS HEAVY

(Continued from page 1)

maintained who delivers all this class of mail. The government takes the regular mailing stamp fee of 2 cents, and pays the other 8 cents to the carrier. There are some 1000 to 1200 special deliveries a month at this time, which makes a fairly busy job for a delivery clerk. As this is close to 40 for every day, including Sundays when they are sent out the same as any other day, and some of the trips may be up to a mile and a half each way, it may mean a good deal of travel. A mailman's job is up in Montana a few years ago held a grudge against the deputy postmaster who had to do all the delivering. It was the dead of a Montana winter, with the thermometer registering close to 50 below zero. The hater lived a full mile from the post office. He bought a bale of special delivery stamps, sent them to a correspondent out of town who would mail them so as to get in on the early morning train and he had that deputy postmaster carrying rings around the moon all that winter carrying special delivery stamps letters. There seems to be no such haters in the Salem office. If there were, they'd have their revenge only on some boy who does the carrying and gets paid for it.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Only the provisions of the Knox and Porter resolutions dealing with reservations of American rights were talked over today. It was predicted that an agreement would be reached easily on these.

Minnesota Man Elected As Head of Credit Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Willis B. Cross of Duluth, Minn., was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Credit Men at the closing session of the organization's 26th annual convention here today.

John E. Norvell, of Huntington, W. Va., was elected first vice-president; E. P. Tuttle of Boston, second vice-president; and J. H. Tregoe, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors named was J. H. Weer of Tacoma, Wash.

Notice to Subscribers

If you can arrange to renew your Subscription these "Booster Days" you will help a deserving candidate to win a Pony. Hand your Subscription to the candidate in your district or mail it to the Pony Contest Editor, Statesman Publishing Co., and we will place the Votes to the credit of your favorite candidate.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

LUMBER SURVEY SHOWS QUIETUDE

Operators, However, Believe Market Will Liven Up In Later Summer

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17.—Surveys made under direction of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen show a marked and general slowing down of activities in sawmills and logging camps of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, according to announcement today by legion headquarters here.

From the point of view of lumber production, the present period is unusually quiet for this time of the year, but information reaching Four-L headquarters indicates that about 65 per cent of the plants now closed will resume during July and August. Operators are optimistic toward next fall's demand for lumber.

High water in the Columbia river backing up in the Willamette, is keeping sawmills closed in Portland, including St. Johns, Ore. This factor and the slack market are keeping mills at St. Helens, Westport, and Astoria closed.

Man Who Broke Bottles Is Assessed $20 Fine

F. H. Chapin was fined $20 yesterday in the city court by Judge Earl Rice on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on the streets Thursday night. When arrested Chapin was on the corner by the Ladd & Bush bank, and when he saw the police officers were going to get him, he broke on the pavement two perfectly good bottles of very hard cider. The fragrance of the amber liquid sent out a challenge to the officers who regretted they did not have a sponge.

Man Didn't Lose Bonds, He Just Put 'em Away

Another illustration of man's delinquency was made a matter of record yesterday when Conrad Dillman, who told the police on Thursday that he had lost a $50 liberty bond, again called up the police and said they need search no more for the missing bond. He said that he had put it away and had forgotten about it. He admitted that his wife had located it where he himself had hidden it.

SALEM POSTOFFICE PAYROLL IS HEAVY

(Continued from page 1)

maintained who delivers all this class of mail. The government takes the regular mailing stamp fee of 2 cents, and pays the other 8 cents to the carrier. There are some 1000 to 1200 special deliveries a month at this time, which makes a fairly busy job for a delivery clerk. As this is close to 40 for every day, including Sundays when they are sent out the same as any other day, and some of the trips may be up to a mile and a half each way, it may mean a good deal of travel. A mailman's job is up in Montana a few years ago held a grudge against the deputy postmaster who had to do all the delivering. It was the dead of a Montana winter, with the thermometer registering close to 50 below zero. The hater lived a full mile from the post office. He bought a bale of special delivery stamps, sent them to a correspondent out of town who would mail them so as to get in on the early morning train and he had that deputy postmaster carrying rings around the moon all that winter carrying special delivery stamps letters. There seems to be no such haters in the Salem office. If there were, they'd have their revenge only on some boy who does the carrying and gets paid for it.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Only the provisions of the Knox and Porter resolutions dealing with reservations of American rights were talked over today. It was predicted that an agreement would be reached easily on these.

Minnesota Man Elected As Head of Credit Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Willis B. Cross of Duluth, Minn., was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Credit Men at the closing session of the organization's 26th annual convention here today.

John E. Norvell, of Huntington, W. Va., was elected first vice-president; E. P. Tuttle of Boston, second vice-president; and J. H. Tregoe, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors named was J. H. Weer of Tacoma, Wash.

Notice to Subscribers

If you can arrange to renew your Subscription these "Booster Days" you will help a deserving candidate to win a Pony. Hand your Subscription to the candidate in your district or mail it to the Pony Contest Editor, Statesman Publishing Co., and we will place the Votes to the credit of your favorite candidate.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Salemite Who Ate Prunes and the Seattle Man Who Ordered Berries Both Gunning For That Middleman

A Salem traveler who ventured as far abroad as Seattle, not so very long ago, got up one morning feeling all gone inside. He was hungry and all nervous up, and the floor wangled and the mirrors gave back the reflection of two strange, tired-looking men each one fatter than the other. He wanted, ah, yes, he knew what he wanted to restore color to the world and bring back the sunshine and the hope of a happy hereafter.

League of Nations in Session at Geneva

GENEVA, June 17.—The executive council of the league of nations met here today for its scheduled session, with Viscount Ishii, the Japanese member, presiding.

Although numerous questions are due to come before the council before it concludes its meetings, the business taken under consideration today comprised only work on the preparation of the league's budget.

TESTIMONY DAMAGING TO MRS. STILLMAN

(Continued from page 1.)

ed Mrs. Stillman and his wife, their son Alexander and Fred Beauvais at Mondane. A line was erased from this entry. John E. Mack, guardian of the witness Guy Stillman, asked the witness if the name scratched out had not been that of H. Phelps Clawson of Buffalo. He could not recollect.

Man Who Broke Bottles Is Assessed $20 Fine

F. H. Chapin was fined $20 yesterday in the city court by Judge Earl Rice on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on the streets Thursday night. When arrested Chapin was on the corner by the Ladd & Bush bank, and when he saw the police officers were going to get him, he broke on the pavement two perfectly good bottles of very hard cider. The fragrance of the amber liquid sent out a challenge to the officers who regretted they did not have a sponge.

Man Didn't Lose Bonds, He Just Put 'em Away

Another illustration of man's delinquency was made a matter of record yesterday when Conrad Dillman, who told the police on Thursday that he had lost a $50 liberty bond, again called up the police and said they need search no more for the missing bond. He said that he had put it away and had forgotten about it. He admitted that his wife had located it where he himself had hidden it.

SALEM POSTOFFICE PAYROLL IS HEAVY

(Continued from page 1)

maintained who delivers all this class of mail. The government takes the regular mailing stamp fee of 2 cents, and pays the other 8 cents to the carrier. There are some 1000 to 1200 special deliveries a month at this time, which makes a fairly busy job for a delivery clerk. As this is close to 40 for every day, including Sundays when they are sent out the same as any other day, and some of the trips may be up to a mile and a half each way, it may mean a good deal of travel. A mailman's job is up in Montana a few years ago held a grudge against the deputy postmaster who had to do all the delivering. It was the dead of a Montana winter, with the thermometer registering close to 50 below zero. The hater lived a full mile from the post office. He bought a bale of special delivery stamps, sent them to a correspondent out of town who would mail them so as to get in on the early morning train and he had that deputy postmaster carrying rings around the moon all that winter carrying special delivery stamps letters. There seems to be no such haters in the Salem office. If there were, they'd have their revenge only on some boy who does the carrying and gets paid for it.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Only the provisions of the Knox and Porter resolutions dealing with reservations of American rights were talked over today. It was predicted that an agreement would be reached easily on these.

Minnesota Man Elected As Head of Credit Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Willis B. Cross of Duluth, Minn., was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Credit Men at the closing session of the organization's 26th annual convention here today.

John E. Norvell, of Huntington, W. Va., was elected first vice-president; E. P. Tuttle of Boston, second vice-president; and J. H. Tregoe, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors named was J. H. Weer of Tacoma, Wash.

Notice to Subscribers

If you can arrange to renew your Subscription these "Booster Days" you will help a deserving candidate to win a Pony. Hand your Subscription to the candidate in your district or mail it to the Pony Contest Editor, Statesman Publishing Co., and we will place the Votes to the credit of your favorite candidate.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Salemite Who Ate Prunes and the Seattle Man Who Ordered Berries Both Gunning For That Middleman

A Salem traveler who ventured as far abroad as Seattle, not so very long ago, got up one morning feeling all gone inside. He was hungry and all nervous up, and the floor wangled and the mirrors gave back the reflection of two strange, tired-looking men each one fatter than the other. He wanted, ah, yes, he knew what he wanted to restore color to the world and bring back the sunshine and the hope of a happy hereafter.

League of Nations in Session at Geneva

GENEVA, June 17.—The executive council of the league of nations met here today for its scheduled session, with Viscount Ishii, the Japanese member, presiding.

Although numerous questions are due to come before the council before it concludes its meetings, the business taken under consideration today comprised only work on the preparation of the league's budget.

TESTIMONY DAMAGING TO MRS. STILLMAN

(Continued from page 1.)

ed Mrs. Stillman and his wife, their son Alexander and Fred Beauvais at Mondane. A line was erased from this entry. John E. Mack, guardian of the witness Guy Stillman, asked the witness if the name scratched out had not been that of H. Phelps Clawson of Buffalo. He could not recollect.

Man Who Broke Bottles Is Assessed $20 Fine

F. H. Chapin was fined $20 yesterday in the city court by Judge Earl Rice on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on the streets Thursday night. When arrested Chapin was on the corner by the Ladd & Bush bank, and when he saw the police officers were going to get him, he broke on the pavement two perfectly good bottles of very hard cider. The fragrance of the amber liquid sent out a challenge to the officers who regretted they did not have a sponge.

Man Didn't Lose Bonds, He Just Put 'em Away

Another illustration of man's delinquency was made a matter of record yesterday when Conrad Dillman, who told the police on Thursday that he had lost a $50 liberty bond, again called up the police and said they need search no more for the missing bond. He said that he had put it away and had forgotten about it. He admitted that his wife had located it where he himself had hidden it.

SALEM POSTOFFICE PAYROLL IS HEAVY

(Continued from page 1)

maintained who delivers all this class of mail. The government takes the regular mailing stamp fee of 2 cents, and pays the other 8 cents to the carrier. There are some 1000 to 1200 special deliveries a month at this time, which makes a fairly busy job for a delivery clerk. As this is close to 40 for every day, including Sundays when they are sent out the same as any other day, and some of the trips may be up to a mile and a half each way, it may mean a good deal of travel. A mailman's job is up in Montana a few years ago held a grudge against the deputy postmaster who had to do all the delivering. It was the dead of a Montana winter, with the thermometer registering close to 50 below zero. The hater lived a full mile from the post office. He bought a bale of special delivery stamps, sent them to a correspondent out of town who would mail them so as to get in on the early morning train and he had that deputy postmaster carrying rings around the moon all that winter carrying special delivery stamps letters. There seems to be no such haters in the Salem office. If there were, they'd have their revenge only on some boy who does the carrying and gets paid for it.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Only the provisions of the Knox and Porter resolutions dealing with reservations of American rights were talked over today. It was predicted that an agreement would be reached easily on these.

Minnesota Man Elected As Head of Credit Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Willis B. Cross of Duluth, Minn., was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Credit Men at the closing session of the organization's 26th annual convention here today.

John E. Norvell, of Huntington, W. Va., was elected first vice-president; E. P. Tuttle of Boston, second vice-president; and J. H. Tregoe, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors named was J. H. Weer of Tacoma, Wash.

Notice to Subscribers

If you can arrange to renew your Subscription these "Booster Days" you will help a deserving candidate to win a Pony. Hand your Subscription to the candidate in your district or mail it to the Pony Contest Editor, Statesman Publishing Co., and we will place the Votes to the credit of your favorite candidate.

Secretary Denby Demands Large Personnel for Navy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Secretary Denby has influenced today behind the senate in its controversy with the house over the size of the navy enlisted personnel. Supporting the senate program, Secretary Denby said that a personnel of 120,000 men was "vital."

The naval secretary's views were given in a letter to Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, chairman of the senate conferees, who went into a deadlock yesterday with the house over the latter's insistence upon a personnel of 100,000 men.

Peace Resolution Mix May Be Untangled Soon

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Progress toward adjustment of differences between senate and house on the peace resolution was reported after another informal conference today of Republican conferees. The formal conferences probably will take place late next week.

Salemite