LABOR FEDERATION SESSION THROWN INTO DISORDER BY IRISH QUESTION

BOYCOTT ISSUE PUTS MEMBERS ON THEIR FEET

Resolutions Committee Refuses to Recognize Irish Sympathizer; Move Turning Down British Imports.

GOMPERS BANGS GAVEL AND HALTS DISCUSSION

Adjournment at Exciting Juncture—Opposing Factions Work Hard

DENVER, Colo., June 21.—The forecasted bitter fight over the Irish question was precipitated upon the floor of the convention of the American Federation of Labor late today, and was at its height when President Samuel Gompers adjourned the convention until tomorrow.

The debate started when the resolutions committee reported a substitute for the four resolutions introduced by Irish sympathizers. The substitute ignored the effort to initiate a boycott against British manufacturers and imports.

Ireland Demands Boycott.
The committee's report disposed of the Irish question by asking the convention to reaffirm its sympathy for the Irish cause, by urging recognition of the Irish republic, and by urging trial and punishment for British army men guilty of atrocities in Ireland.

No sooner had the committee's report been read when Cornelius Foley, delegate from the Barber's union, took the floor, reading a telegram from Harry Boland, secretary to Eamonn De Valera, "provisional president of the Irish republic," which said:

"The organization (American Federation of Labor) is looked on to do something for Ireland. We want the boycott or nothing."

Mr. Foley declared that "there is only one place where we can hurt England, and that is in her pocketbook."

Disorder at Adjournment.
Christian M. Madsen, of the Chicago Federation of Labor, then moved to amend the committee's report by adding a clause calling for a boycott by American labor against British goods and British companies as long as the British government maintains "its barbarous and destructive policy in Ireland."

A point of order was raised, and this could not be introduced because it was part of resolutions already rejected by the committee. President Gompers sustained the point of order and adjourned the convention while several delegates were struggling for recognition of the chair.

Harding Reference Struck Out.
The resolution reported by the committee was virtually identical with one submitted by the Irish sympathizers, headed by Peter Barry of New York, except that some of the more drastic phrases were omitted. The committee also struck out a paragraph demanding that President Harding, his cabinet, and Congress take necessary steps to demand from Great Britain the defaulted interest and loan due the United States and now used in part to "promote the brutal campaign in Ireland."

The resolution reaffirmed the action of the Montreal convention in supporting the Irish people in their struggle for freedom and for recognition of the Irish republic; instructed federation executive officers and asked all national and international unions to urge the administration officials at Washington and all members of Congress to pass immediately legislation recognizing the Irish republic; provided for the sending of a special communication to the British premier, his cabinet, and members of parliament protesting against the campaign of violence in Ireland; instructed federation officials to take up with trade unions of Great Britain, her economic and domestic a proposal to inaugurate a campaign for the trial and punishment of members of the British regular and auxiliary forces guilty of atrocities in Ireland in a manner similar to that being tried and punished for violations of the rules of war in France and Belgium.

Boycott Resolution "Official"
The boycott resolution, which was eliminated by the committee's report, was introduced by Irish

SAYS SINGERS POOR COMPANY

GERALDINE FARRAR, herself a grand opera star, says: "If you want to have a pleasant luncheon party or social gathering of any similar nature, never invite a singer. If you must have a musical celebrity be sure never to invite more than one at a time, and then prime yourself for a couple of hours of solo talking on the subject, namely the singing of the celebrity in question."

SMITHS RETAIL LEAD IN NEW COUNTY DIRECTORY; JONESES LOSE OUT TO BROWN FAMILY

Boedigheimer Yields Belt for Long Names to Christoffersons, Burgermeisters and Hostenbroders—All Rural Routes Listed Alphabetically—Occupations Given

Abel Lincoln had no name especially in mind when he said, "God must have loved the common people, for he made so many of them." But it is still true that there are almost twice as many Smiths as there are of any other name in the new Marion county directory, recently issued by the R. L. Polk Directory Publishing company.

The Browns follow next, not closely, but well as the lead of any other name. Johnson is the next most numerous name. It leads the Davises, trail along with a fine showing, but the Millers run them almost up and back for the census honors.

NO CHANCES TAKEN BY TRIO OF GUARDS

Sentences From 25 to 40 Years—I.W.W. Will Be Given Hard Work

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 21.—Seven I. W. W. convicted of the murder of American legion men at Centralia on Armistice day two years ago arrived at the penitentiary this afternoon. They are Irvitt Smith, C. C. Bland, James McInerney, Bert Bland, John Lamb, Ray Becker and Eugene Barnett, all under sentence of 25 to 40 years.

The seven men were handcuffed and chained together and guarded by three officers, Traveling Guard Collins, Parole Officer Shaddock, of the Monroe reformatory, and Guard Edwards, of the penitentiary.

Guards usually bring the prisoners from the west side to Yakima and stop over night, completing the journey the next day, but the seven were brought through from Seattle without a stop. Prison officers announced that they desired to take no chances in this case as the men were widely known and had them brought directly here.

The train stopped at the foot of the penitentiary hill and the seven were marched the short distance to the prison where they went through the usual formalities of being registered and photographed. They will be assigned to work later.

No one knew the men were coming, the only ones to greet them were the prison officers.

BIG CANNON ON CAPITOL GROUNDS IS PRESENTED BY SEDGWICK POST

So far as its personal history goes, it's a mere hunk of metal that was made in time of peace, served its peaceful life up to the time of its retirement because it was no longer good enough to shoot even at a national enemy—and there it stands on the state house grounds, labeled "unsafe to shoot" by the government that made it, imposing only because of its bulk and its big wheels.

But it has the name of the United States government stamped on its smooth sides. It has the heritage of skill built into it by a century of national gunmakers who in learning how to build

FINE PAID FOR KILLING DEER

Polk County Man Pleads Guilty to Shooting Fawn Out of Season

DALLAS, Ore., June 21.—(Special to The Statesman.) Lynn Jones, Charlie Jones and Ralph George, all residents of the northwestern part of Polk county, in the Mt. Creek country, were arrested late last night by Game Warden Bremner and Mackard on a charge of killing deer out of season.

A small fawn was found in a park on one of the men when arrested.

In a trial before Justice of the Peace J. F. Coal this morning, Lynn Jones pleaded guilty of the charge and was fined $50 and costs. The other men it was found out at the hearing had nothing to do in the killing, and they were turned loose.

Game wardens have been active in this county during the past month and have caught many violators of the game laws. Red sportsmen have also been assisting the wardens in many cases.

Paved Roads in County Total About 54 Miles

Marion county has put down about 24 miles of paving on its county roads. In addition to this the state has paved 29 miles on highways in the county, making a total of 54 miles of paved roads.

DALLAS, Ore., June 21.—(Special to The Statesman.)—A special election for the purpose of voting on $25,000 worth of bonds for the better protection from fire of the industrial district of Dallas and also for the securing of additional lands near the present watershed from which the water supply of the city is derived will be held in Dallas on July 17.

The measure is considered one of the greatest needs of the city and no doubt will receive the support of most of the voters as a great many of the residents derive their incomes from the industries located in this district.

Another measure to be voted on at the same time is a bond issue of $15,000 for the purpose of buying a site and constructing a new septic tank for a proposed new sewer which will drain the entire west and south parts of the city.

This measure will have to be passed by the people. It is declared because the city is in such urgent need of a new sewer system that to defeat the measure would not only endanger the lives of the inhabitants but might bring a big suit against the city from people living in the sewer district who each winter are nearly flooded from their homes by the overflow of the present sewer system which is too small to care for a city the size of Dallas.

While there is some opposition to the proposed improvements the general opinion of the people of the community is that they are something that will greatly benefit the city and will add to the building of the community and the supporters of the measure feel assured that the bonds for both projects will be approved.

NEW COMPANY WILL COME IN IS ANNOUNCED

Northwest Fruit Products Concern Will Handle Loganberries After First Of July.

SEASON'S ACTIVITY OUTLINED BY MIALI

Deliveries Now Accepted at 3 1-2 Cents on Existing Contracts

Preparations are being made at The Phez company's Loju plant to take care of a considerable volume of loganberries this season. It is the company's intention to serve first those growers who in the past are considered to have shown fairness in their dealings. It is understood that the company is accepting deliveries under the price of 3 1/2 cents provided in existing contracts.

In explanation of this policy the company's management states that a large number of growers, after having used their contracts during the years in which the price seemed to them advantageous, failed to deliver under their contracts when the price went up, without paying any attention to the penalties that should have been met in order to obtain such releases as would enable them to sell at a higher price to other buyers.

The company feels that in some instances this action on the part of the growers was not in any sense a deliberate violation of a pledge, but arose through the grower's ignorance of the obligation he had undertaken, or through his listening to bad advice. The penalties provided in the contracts are small in comparison with the large profits that were reaped by selling during the war period to outside buyers at high figures.

In other cases it is said there are indications tending to show that such violations were committed with full knowledge on the part of the grower what he was doing.
