PRICE: FIVE CENTS

SIMS PUBLICLY REPRIMANDED

More Money Is Subscribed to Maintain Loganberry Industry

FINISH TODAY IS OBJECT OF LIVE CITIZENS

Hope Held That Remainder Of $25,000 Needed Will Be Raised Before Night By Personal Canvass.

EVERYONE TO RESCUE DECLARED IMPERATIVE

Attitude of Growers Lends Encouragement at Commercial Club Session

Additional names were announced at the Commercial club last night to the list of subscribers to the $25,000 loan fund for financing the loganberry juice business of the Northwest Fruit Products company that is salvaging the half-million-dollar national advertising asset of the Phez company.

The names newly announced are:

- U. G. Shipley.
- Adolph Brothers.
- Ray L. Farmer.
- O. H. Roberts.
- Claude S. Belle.
- The Roth Grocery company.
- Statesman Publishing company.
- Charles K. Spaulding company.

Each of these subscriptions is for the maximum amount of $500. On the previous night $7,100 was subscribed in the meeting.

Sincere Work Today

These new names, and the first list published yesterday, do not nearly represent the work done or the capital in sight. It is believed that the full quota of $25,000 will be raised today, if the hundreds of men who do business on the prosperity of the loganberry industry, will do their plain duty.

One speaker said last night that it would be money in any man's pocket to put in $1000 and kiss good-bye, if only the community could save its land values and the value of the national advertising the loganberry business had brought. To lose one crop of a berry that has had such a fight for its life, and let the farmers plow up their fields because they could not sell their crop, would mean in the estimation of more than one speaker, the actual loss of sums many times greater than the total value of one single crop.

Canvass to be Personal

No further meetings will be held, but some energetic personal canvassing will be done today. The loganberry season begins in full blast Monday, when there will be many tons of berries ready to pick and deliver.

One encouraging report was made, that the growers who are asked to accept notes for the delayed 2 cents a pound after the allowance of 1 1/2 cents for picking, are ready to accept the proposal most cheerfully.

"It makes us straight partners with the grower, in that his fruit note and our loan notes are of exactly the same plan, and our interests are identical. It's the road to a perfect understanding and a permanent prosperity for both city and country," was the

LICENSE MAY BE PUT UPON SOFT DRINKS

Ordinance Placing Regulation With City Council May be Introduced Soon

An amended city ordinance authorizing the issuing of licenses to all soft drink establishments in the city is held likely to be introduced for consideration at the next meeting of the council. In the opinion of many of the council members the ordinance is necessary before effective regulation may be made upon pool halls selling soft drinks which have been the object of considerable criticism lately.

The ordinance will not doubt place a tax of not more than a few dollars upon the dealers, being formulated for the chief purpose of bringing all of the establishments under the regulation of the council. It doubtless would be necessary to include all establishments selling soft drinks.

INSURANCE MAN TO BE SPEAKER

President Cunningham Of Montana Life Will Talk Monday at Noon

Commercial club members are to have two pleasures at the Monday noon luncheon—the regular dainty lunch prepared by Steward John Lundberg, and the exceptional literary bill of fare set forth by Manager McCroskey.

This time it is to be a real treat for Mae captured Harry Cunningham, president of the Montana State Life Insurance company, of Helena, who was driving through Salem on his way for a visit to Klamath Falls. He is a fascinating speaker, a good fellow who can say the things that need to be said but without poisoning them—and whoever misses the luncheon is a loser who'll never catch up.

REFUNDING OF ALLIED DEBTS IS ATTACKED

Ashurst and McKellar, Democrats, Protest That Too Much Power is Extended To Secretary Mellon

ELIMINATIONS FROM MEASURE DEMANDED

Thorough Inquiry Will Precede Report on Bill By Finance Committee

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Criticism of the administration bill for refunding the $10,000,000,000 allied debt was voiced today in the senate.

Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, protested against giving the secretary authority to extend payments of interest. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, said provisions, which he said would permit the secretary to "swap" America's good credits for "worthless German, Austrian, or Turkish reparations bonds," and Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, said the bill would confer "too much power" on Secretary Mellon.

McKellar Leads Attack

The principal attack was made by Senator McKellar, who said the provision authorizing the acceptance from debtor nations of their bonds or those of any other nation in the refunding process should be stricken from the bill.

Senator Smoot declared that "nobody but an insane man" would trade American credits for reparations bonds of Germany and her allies. If such an attempt were made, he added, congress

Emma J. Cole Brought From Albany to Salem for Operation to Save Her Life

ALBANY, Ore., June 24.—With an open jackknife in her stomach, Miss Emma J. Cole, aged 49 years, a county charge was today taken to Salem to undergo an operation. Miss Cole has been an inmate of the state Home for Feeble Minded but had been passed to her relatives who live near Stanton, Ore. The knife and blade are 5 inches long. Miss Cole was reported to have swallowed the knife yesterday.

As far as could be ascertained last night Miss Cole was not operated on here at any of the city hospitals or at any state institution. Local information is that she was a patient at the state hospital for the insane as a drug addict, not the feeble minded school, and was discharged about two years ago. She was committed from Lane county.

The entire commission was present throughout the meetings. Governor Olcott, elected chairman of the commission, the other members are Secretary of State Koser, Adjutant General White, Arthur C. Spencer of Portland, and Lyman G. Rice of Pendleton.

After spending last night at Fort Stevens, the party started late today for Olympia where the operation of the Washington business law will be studied.

Color Line Stays After Argument Relative to Negro Union Labor

DENVER, Colo., June 24.—Both candidates John L. Lewis and Samuel Gompers were equally certain tonight that they would win the presidency of the American Federation of Labor tomorrow.

Throughout the day electioneering raged on the floor of the convention. Time and again the proceedings were interrupted by causing the gatherings of delegates. Protests were made to President Gompers that steps be taken to keep order.

Split May Hurt Lewis

The Lewis supporters claimed that they had more gains and sufficient votes to elect the mine workers' chief by a several thousands and majority, while Gompers' supporters asserted that the veteran leader "would win easily."

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION IS REPUDIATED BY LABOR SESSION; RUSSIAN SOVIET IS CONDEMNED

DENVER, June 24.—The action of the executive council in repudiating and severing relations with the International Federation of Trades Unions was sustained tonight by an overwhelming vote of the American Federation of Labor.

Proposals made by the International Association of Machinists and the Firemen and Oilers' union that the executive council and President Gompers be immediately instructed to reaffiliate the American labor movement with the European organizations were almost unanimously defeated.

A spirited verbal combat took place between Jerry Sullivan, of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Schoenberg, Sullivan attempted to question the machinery of delegates regarding reports of correspondence he had with the international.

D. S. Smart of Chicago, withdrew his accusation of "ring rule" which threatened with preterment of charge against him by the chairman.

An initiative and referendum proposal brought before the convention was rejected today. The measure was proposed by the Seattle Central Labor union.

A new committee to be known as the committee on legislation was provided, making its composition committee.

The Sheppard-Towner maternity bill in congress was endorsed.

Then he began to quote alleged remarks made by Schuler on regarding conditions in Russia, the former workers' president, as posted and after a statement made of remarks the chair noted that Gompers must confine his address to the international movement.

The questioner before a debate with the International Federation of Trades Unions, and the committee's report, was committed to the trade union to print and to policies which are gratefully described by our executive council as revolutionary, contrary to the wishes and philosophy of our movement and in conflict with the program of the American Federation of Labor.

CHAMP FIGHT PUTS DAMPER ON ANGLING

Fishermen So Busy Talking About July 2 Bout They Forget Trout Streams

One would hardly expect that the Jersey City ring-side, where they're buying more than a million dollars worth of tickets to see the Dempsey-Carpentier fight on July 2, would have any effect on the fishing in far-off Oregon, but it does.

Fishermen who ordinarily would be out about 5 o'clock in the morning, whipping the streams for trout or ducking the troughs for bass, now congregate to talk the great fight.

"I getch Dempsey breaks the parley-vo in two with one lick," says one believer in brown.

"Now, he can't do it—never in a thousand years. You can't lick them French, see what they done when they fought Germany, and this Gornicus (Carpentier) was one of the best of 'em all!" says the believer in the spiritual side of fighting, the kind that rolls on soul and nerve.

"I bet on Jack to win before five rounds," say the believers in thick necks and "I never raised my eye to be a soldier's training to keep a body from stopping troublesome bullets.

"You can't hit a man who ain't there," say the adherents of the elusive, wildcat type that is never cowardly even if not so toothily in trying to meet bull strength on the bull's own horns.

Actually, according to some of the Salem dealers, the big fight is affecting fishing here around Salem. They're lying awake nights, wondering how it's going to come out. They aren't letting much, but the bass and the trout are becoming fat and lazy from inaction and the flyvers and rubber boots are rusting in their stalls, while the fishermen talk about the big fight.

ADMIRAL CONCEDES THAT SCOLDING IS HIS JUST DESERT

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Secretary Denby today "publicly" reprimanded Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, as a result of the speech of the admiral, made in London June 7, in which he criticized Sim Fein sympathizers in America.

In the reprimand Mr. Denby pointed out that once before the navy department had found it necessary to take similar action against the officer for an address delivered in London in 1911, and referring to the text of that reprimand, added:

"Your remarks on the occasion now under discussion, therefore, constitute a flagrant and deliberate disregard of specific instructions."

While the naval secretary was making public the reprimand Admiral Sims was calling on President Harding at the White House. It was explained that the admiral called to leave his card, as is the custom when high naval officers return from a trip abroad, but that the president invited him to chat for a few minutes.

Upon leaving the White House, Admiral Sims, referring to the reprimand, said:

"I got what I deserved, the same old thing."

He added that he regretted having caused the administration any inconvenience, but said that he now considered the incident closed.

So far as could be learned, the reprimand was not mentioned during the Admiral's visit to the president. Upon leaving the White House the officer was asked if his conversation with the executive had been pleasant. He replied:

"Of course it was."

Admiral Sims left tonight for Newport, R.I., where he will resume his duties as president of the naval war college.

Press reports of June 22, in which you furnish the department with an abstract of the speech delivered by you on the occasion in question confirms in essential points the aforesaid press reports and shows that on a public occasion in a foreign country you gave utterance to the following statements:

"I do not want to touch on the Irish question for I know nothing about it, and have not run across anybody in England who does. But there are some people in our country who technically are Americans, some of them naturalized and some native-born, but some of them are not really Americans at all."

Some of these people are now trying to destroy the good relations between our two countries. They are Americans when they want money but Sinn Feiners when on the platform. They are
