Fear of Strike Complications Enters Market With First Offerings

ELEVATORS IN DANGER

Rebound in Business May Emerge in Opinion of Speculators

CHICAGO, June 28.—Fear of strike complications bowled into the wheat market today at the same time as the first big offerings from the 1921 harvest. Wild tumbling of prices followed, with the July delivery of wheat here showing an extreme loss of 9 cents a bushel compared with yesterday's finish. Simultaneously cash values for immediate delivery of wheat in Kansas City were reported as having dropped in some cases fully 25 cents. Elevators threatened. Threats of a strike of grain elevator employees throughout the country indicated a rebound in the wheat market. At the same time, the first big offerings from the 1921 harvest were reported as having

CANNED GOODS MAY BE SHORT

Home Table May Not Be Well Supplied At About Christmas Time

AMERICAN PLANTS QUIET

Packers of United States Recent Losers to Extent of $100,000,000

When the good housekeeper provisions her table for the Christmas season, she will find that the home table will not be so abundantly supplied with fruits, as prospects right now are for a great shortage of canned goods this coming fall and winter. There are some few canneries in the United States that are in op-

REV. C. H. POWELL WILL ACCEPT VANCOUVER CALL

REV. C. H. POWELL

Some weeks ago Rev. C. H. Powell, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, received a call to the rectorship of the Episcopal church at Vancouver, Wash., and it was learned yesterday that Mr. Powell had decided to accept the call and sever his connection with the local church. He has made two trips to Vancouver to investigate the condition of the parish there, and after conferring with the members of the vestry there and here and with the bishops both of Oregon and Olympia, he has concluded that the Washington parish offers a much larger opportunity for usefulness. The vestry of St. Paul's church of which F. G. Deckebach is the senior warden, used every argument to induce Mr. Powell to remain in Salem, offering to meet the increased salary of the Vancouver parish. Mr. Powell said yesterday:

eration, and this especially applies to the east, where in many districts there will be scarcely any commercial crop of berries and fruits. The cold weather of last April killed more than half of the fruit and berry crop east of the Rocky mountains. Canners Heavy Losers. The public has already become familiar with the troubles of the wool, stock, wheat and cotton growers, and now it is becoming informed of the fact that canneries lost this last season in shrinkage of value more than $100,000,000, and as a result few are in operation anywhere. To the average housekeeper, it is of but little interest what the canneries of Maryland and New York are putting up this season. But it is a fact that many of the big canneries of the east will not put up 10 per cent of a normal pack. California Pack Short. Or what happened to the California strawberry crop would not ordinarily interest the good housekeeper. But it is a fact that hardly any strawberries have been canned in that state this season. The canneries could not take them and almost the entire enormous strawberry tonnage of California was sold into fresh fruit markets. That but few Oregon canneries are operating, and that those in operation are not working to full capacity is generally known. But with berries abundant and with the shelves of the local grocers well supplied with canned goods, the fact that the Oregon canneries will put up but a small pack does not at present interest the average housekeeper. Stocks Cleaned Up. During the past two months canning stocks throughout the entire country have been cleaned up rapidly. The price on some lines, notably pears, has already advanced materially for fall delivery. Canned cherries and gooseberries are also held at firm prices. Unusual Condition Faced. With hardly 50 per cent of a fruit and berry crop in the east, with canneries everywhere held down to a short pack and with the present crop stock being rapidly consumed, the good housekeeper is facing the most unusual condition in canned goods that has been experienced for many a year.

through on his way to Crater lake and other points of interest in northern Oregon. A tremendous ovation was given Mr. Eaton when he spoke in Portland last night. Hundreds of Scouts packed the library auditorium to hear the man who contributed so many books to the scout library. When it was learned several days ago that Mr. Eaton would pass through Salem, C. B. Clancy, member of the Rotary club and president of the Salem scout council, immediately extended to him an invitation to speak before local people. As tonight is ladies'

"I have delayed my decision a longer time than courtesy would ordinarily allow because I could not bring myself to think of parting from good friends in Salem, both in and out of my church. My official relation to St. Paul's church has been exceedingly pleasant and harmonious and I am loath to sever it, but St. Luke's parish, Vancouver, presents the prospect of an opportunity that is greater in every respect, and I feel that I should be reluctant to the call of duty if I did not accept it." Mr. Powell's connection with St. Paul's parish will cease September 1, but by vote of the vestry he will take the month of August, as a vacation for rest and recuperation before entering on his duties in Vancouver. Meanwhile his family will continue to live here until the end of August.

NOTED SPEAKER COMES TONIGHT

Walter P. Eaton, Writer of Scout Stories, to Entertain Boys

A treat is in store for Boy Scouts tonight when Walter P. Eaton, a writer of national repute who has won popularity among boys for that organization by his Boy Scout books, will speak to them at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club. At 7 o'clock Mr. Eaton will speak at the banquet of the Rotary club at the Marion hotel. Besides his books, Mr. Eaton has written a great deal in the field of literature and especially in dramatic criticism and is considered an authoritative critic of the drama. He is to be in the city but the one day, passing right of the Rotary club, many friends of the members will be present to hear him. C. C. Cochran of Portland will also be an outside visitor to the club meeting tonight. Labor is on a six weeks tour of the Cascades, the guest of Fred H. Kaiser, president of the Kaiser family. He will make a complete tour of the Cascades, a circuit from Crater lake to Mount Hood. From Crater lake the party will go to Diamond lake. After a month's tour they plan to return to Portland in time to join the Rotary club in annual track to the summit of Mount Hood.

Cherries Going to Waste Because of Heavy Crop

SILVERTON, Or., June 28.—Thousands of pounds of cherries are going to waste in the Silver-ton community this year, say the cherry growers. Especially is this true of the Kentish and the black cherries.

The Silver-ton canneries, known as the Silver-ton Food Products company, cannot handle nearly all of the cherries. The crop is exceptionally large this season. The canneries do not intend to handle any other variety of cherries than the Royal Anne. At present the canneries are paying 2 cents a pound for these. The over supply with the market is causing many cherry growers to hold their fruit and it is forecast that cherry growers will be a popular drink during the coming year.

Drove of 4000 Sheep Must Undergo Dipping

BEND, Or., June 28.—More than 4000 sheep, which passed their way from Wheeler and Crook counties are being held at Bend, and must be dipped before they will be allowed to enter the Deschutes national forest range. The Gov. I admire that you let's finish, don't you? The Man Yes, but I always dread his beginning.—Exchange
