Bartrum Likes Salem.—Smith C. Bartrum, ex-forest supervisor for the state of Oregon, now of Roseburg, was in Salem yesterday seeking to lease a residence with a view to moving to Salem with his family to reside. He is now district manager for a well known life insurance company, and Salem being the most central location for his large territory, he will establish his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Bartrum have long been prominent in Roseburg's social and business life and they will no doubt receive a cordial welcome to the capital city. Christian To Speak.—Mr. Elias Zimmerman, the Christian Jew who is to speak in this city at the First Methodist church today at 2:30 and 8 o'clock, was talking recently about the attitude of the modern Jew towards the Christian church. "Most of the Jews in this country," he said, "come, as I came from Russia. In that country it is considered an act of service to Christ to torture and kill Jews. Jewish mothers have been cruelly butchered, their children torn from them, their homes pillaged. All these things were done, and even now are still being done, to Jews by those who call themselves Christians. The result is that the poor Jews actually believe that all Christians want to kill Jews. But, whenever the Jew realizes that this is not true of real Christians in America, it becomes at once easier to bring the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ to these Jews. There are literally thousands of Jewish conversions these days just because many Christians are new turners to the Jew; with a message of love and sympathy." Mr. Zimmerman speaks at the First Methodist church this afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Salem Ministerial association. Admission is entirely free, and the public is cordially urged to come. This is a rare opportunity to hear a Christian Jew tell of his own people.

FRANCE HONORS RING GLADIATOR.—Gaston Vidal Proposes To Send Message Wishing Fighter Luck. FRENCH SPORTS AGOG. PARIS, June 30.—Georges Carpentier will receive a few hours before he enters the ring in Jersey City Saturday to meet Jack Dempsey, a cablegram signed by Gaston Vidal, under secretary of state for sports, wishing the Frenchman "a fair and even break of luck in the battle of your life."

Almost the sole topic of conversation today had to do with the approaching fight in Jersey City. Many prominent financiers, although worried over the financial situation growing out of the banking troubles, expressed the opinion that it was a good thing "that the attention of the public is centered on the fight rather than on finances."

Mme. Carpentier has decided to remain at home Saturday evening. She has requested L'Auto to telephone her the details of the match round by round.

Shortly after noon today for the first time since the fight was arranged there appeared on the boulevards money to bet on Carpentier, at odds of two to five. They were accommodated with about 20,000 francs in one cafe.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST.—This is bargain day. Everybody will be in Salem today. Then everybody will be here or in listening distance tomorrow, to hear the news from New Jersey. That is a very pretty tribute to Salem, by the Portland Telegram, reprinted as the leading editorial in The Statesman of this morning.

And Salem will live up to the specifications more perfectly as the years come and go. With the new Salem hospital building under way this year, and the $150,000 temple of the Elks next year, and the numerous government, state and private building enterprises going up on the tapis, or in the laps of the gods, Salem is getting into the stride of a permanent building boom.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars deserve credit for giving Salem people a chance to see "Powder River," the film of actual battle scenes in France in which our own troops from the Pacific Northwest took and active and leading part. The showing of this film, made by United States army photographers at the risk and the actual loss of life, is educational. It is a visual exhibition of the horrors of war, and of its glories when waged for the saving of the world. Many of the brave boys from the western plains and valleys, who made up the "Powder River" forces that fought so heroically and bravely, made the supreme sacrifice, but they went to keep the fatal rendezvous with stout hearts and singing lips.

Walter P. Eaton, the author of Boy Scout books, who is in Oregon to get the inspiration and setting and material for another Boy Scout book, told the Salem Rotarians and their wives and sweethearts at the annual ladies' banquet on Wednesday night in his post prandial remarks, that he is more of a Salemite than our oldest resident or dottiest Salemite fan—not quoting his words; only his sentiments. He said his great-grandfather was born in Salem—not Salem, Oregon; Salem, Massachusetts. And he declared that he sees more blue noses out here than he finds on Broadway, New York, or Boston. That we cannot deny it—we are true Yankees; that New England has moved out west. Albeit, we have sloughed off some of the mannerisms and all the unsociality of the effete east. And we are not afraid to greet our fellows sincerely and effusively when we meet them, nor loath to leave the latch-string of our hospitality on the outside. All right; Salem has adopted Mr. Eaton as her youngest "oldest citizen," and he will be welcome to come and mingle and stay. We have adopted him as a good Scout.

Artisans to Take Part In Drills at Astoria.—The drill team of the Capital assembly of Artisans will leave today for Astoria to participate in a contest to be put on at the state meeting of Artisans to be held in that city this week. Competition is expected to be keen, but the Salem team is hoping to be able to bring back the laurels. Members of the team are Miss Stanis Andreen, team captain; Mrs. Sibbie Christensen, Miss Orpha Cole, Miss Deane Jacobs, Miss Ruth Cole, Mrs. Viola Tyler, Mrs. A. A. Gueffroy, Mrs. Nettie Williamson, Miss Rose Collins, Miss Pearl Collins, Miss Mabel Brassfield, Miss Bertha Waldorf, Mrs. Ivan Martin, Miss Esther Mason and Mrs. Thelma Andreen.

Two mining engineers were discussing deep mine shafts, and one had told in glowing terms about mines in which he had worked. "Jump into my car and I'll show you a regular mine," said the other. Arriving at the mine they say the hoisting engine revolving at a terrific rate. The engineer was asleep. Rushing to the sleeping man, they cried: "Wake up, man! You'll pull the cage through the roof!" "What day is this?" the engine man asked sleepily. "It's Tuesday, but stop the engine, quick." "Ah, g'wan," he replied, disgustedly, settling himself back in his chair. "She won't be up till Friday." Science and invention.
