Chaufauqua is a veritable festival of music. Lieurance's

Little Symphony Orchestra is scheduled for two notable concerts. Then there is the Sam Lewis Company, headed by the prominent Weish tenor, Sam Lewis; The Orpheus Four,

America's foremost male quartet; The Jugo-Slav Tamburica

Orchestra; Walter Jenkins; The Roach-Freeman Company.

Twelve concerts in all—certainly the music alone is worth far more than the cost of the season ticket.

Many notables appear on the Chautauqua lecture staff his season. Stefansson, the famous Arctic explorer, is one of the head-liners. Peter Clark Macfarlane, noted American writer, is another. Add to the se two celebrities the name of Their heavy bodies admit their being confined by a low fence. The geese lay 30, to 40 eggs in each season. When the goose walks around holding straws or bits of wood in her beak, it is a sign that laying time is near-and it is best then to provide her with a pile of soft straw in which she may dig and hide her eggs. The eggs should be removed as soon as laid so as to avoid chilling, but one or two dummy eggs should always be left in the nest so that the goose may not see that the eggs are being taken away as she might go elsewhere. When ready to set, some 10 to 15 eggs should be put in the nest which should be admost.
