SCHOOL CLOSURES WITH EXHIBIT

Significant Display Put On At Presbyterian Church Last Night CHILDREN SHOW TALENT Dramatization Numbers In Costume Prove Especially Attractive

A crowd that taxed the Presbyterian church to its utmost, gathered last night to see and hear the close of the Daily Vacation Bible school that has been carried on for the past three weeks. The formal instruction work closed on Friday, but the public exhibit and program was put over until Saturday night.

Notepooks Exhibited. A number of the notepooks were placed on exhibition for the closing program and attracted much favorable mention. Clay modeling of various Biblical subjects was given during the course and some pieces of real artistic merit were produced, which were shown Saturday. Hammock weaving and raffia basketry were other handicraft divisions that attracted the interest of the pupils during the course, and of the visitors last night.

Daily opening exercise of the schools, all the children. Star Spangled Banner. Salute to the Christian flag. Salute to the American flag. Onward Christian Soldiers. Scripture reading, followed by the Lord's Prayer, Chandler Brown. Dramatization, "The Sowers," East school. Song, "Jesus Bids Us Shine," Baptist primary children. Story, "The Prodigal Son," Gertrude Ohler. Duet, "Silent Night," Josephine Alberts, Florence Powers. Memory verses, all the children.

Short addresses— Alpheus J. Gillette, director of the schools; Dr. Frank E. Brown, president of the association; G. W. Hug, superintendent of the city schools; Dr. W. C. Kantner, representing the ministers of Salem. Song, "God Is Everywhere," all the children. Dramatization, "The Ten Virgins," Central school. Song, "Robin Song," North school. Story, "The Alabaster Box," Frank Spear. Reciting of memory work, all the children. Solo, Edith Jenks. Song, "Sunshine and Rain," East school. Dramatization, "The Good Samaritan," Central school. Song, "Praise Ye the Father," Central school. Sketch, "Boys' Idea of the D. V. B. S.," Bible school. America, all the children. Prayer, followed by "The Children's Benediction."

Costumes Worn. The dramatization numbers were in costume, of well known Biblical scenes, and were among the most attractive presentations of the evening. Dr. Frank E. Brown, president of the association, announced his great satisfaction with the work of the session, and his hope to see it broadened greatly for the year to come. It is planned to link it up with the winter plan of a Bible training school for teachers, to provide an adequately trained teaching force. Superintendent George W. Hug spoke of the great benefits of the school training, and hoped to see it continued and expanded. Alpheus Gillette, director of the school, was the recipient of many warm congratulations for the success of the school, which has been due so largely to his untiring efforts.

The visitors, whose home is in Tia Juana, have come here on their second trip to Oregon and the Willamette valley for the purpose of picking fruit. Space at Premium for Sunday School Parade Fred deVries, route 8, Salem, president of the Marion county Sunday school association, reports good progress relative to the big county picnic to be held at the fair grounds Saturday, July 23. He says that many of the outside schools plan to come in decorated floats, and that the outlook is for one of the biggest parades in the history of the valley. Mr. deVries urges that all Sunday school superintendents who have not already perfected their arrangements for a place in the parade, correspond at once with the proper officers and have a place reserved. The central committee recently sent out literature that explains all the conditions for entry. Rev. Mr. Putnam of Salem, who is in charge of the parade, has been out of town for some days, but will be back during the coming week to take up his committee duties.
